Dutchess Is Hit Worse Than Ulster

An electrical storm accompanied by high winds, rain, and in some locations hail, caused some damage to utilities and homes in the area Sunday night.

A total of 762 telephones in the Kingston district were put out of service, according to Leonard Herrick, manager, who noted that the number was unusually high for a storm. Lightning was the apparent cause of damage in two area homes.

Two splicing teams and 16 installers were called out for holiday work and had all service restored by 6 p. m. Monday, Herrick reported.

CENTRAL HUDSON Gas and Electric Corporation fared a little better in this area, although Dutchess county reported heavier damage. In the Kingston area, the West Park section was without power for a time when a primary line burned in a tree, and an additional 200 customers in scattered parts of the area were affected, according to Arthur W. Buddenhagen.

Several trees and limbs were obeserved to be down in various sections of the county, although state police and sheriff's office authorities received no reports of storm damage or blocked highways.

One barn in the Gardiner area was reported damaged by fire attributed to lightning.

THE HAIL, apparently concentrated in the Kingston-Hurley area and to the north, fortunately missed the apple growing area, and reports available this morning to William H. Palmer, county agricultural agent, indicated that the benefits to farmers from the rainfall more than offset the little hail damage that may have occurred, when the county as a whole is considered.

A total of .50 inches of rain fell Sunday night at Brown Station, Ashokan Reservoir, the New York Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity reported. At Prattsville, the total for the same period reached .81. Totals for the month were 1.95 inches at Ashokan and 2.35 at

6 Are Injured Here, 7 In Ulster Area Mishaps

Two Taken To Albany Hospital

Rosendale Crash Is Most Serious

Two Ulster county residents were taken to Albany Hospital for treatment of serious head injuries received in holiday weekend accidents here, at least two others were hospitalized locally and a anumber of persons were treated for minor injuries.

Up to a late hour this morning, however, no reports of fatal accidents within the county were received.

Taken to Albany Hospital were:

Edward Coffey, 42, of Springtown road, New Paltz, who state police said received a skull fracture in a motorcycle mishap at New Paltz on Monday afternoon.

John F. Scheib, 21, of Main street, Rosendale, one of three persons injured in a head-on collision at Rosendale about 3 a. m. Sunday, according to a sheriff's office report.

INJURED in the Rosendale accident with Scheib were Robert J. Beyersdorfer, 24, of Rosendale, reported in "apparently fair" condition at Kingston Hospital, and Edward Feeney, 26, also of Rosendale, reported in "good" condition at the Benedictine Hospital.

Deputy Sheriffs Thomas Mayone and John Kinstry reported the three Rosendale men injured when vehicles driven by Scheib and Beyersdorfer collided head-on on Main street in that village. Feeney was a passenger in Scheib's automobile, they reported.

Scheib was treated here for severe lacerations of the face, deep cut on his right knee and a broken jaw, and was transferred by ambulance to Albany, the sheriff's office report stated.

Patrolman Crespino Is Victim

Three Injured At Creek Bridge

Six persons, including Motorcycle Officer John Crespino, of the local police force, were injured in six city traffic mishaps over the holiday weekend, and drivers were arrested after two of the accidents.

Officer Crespino, trailing a car that had driven through a red light at Flatbush avenue and East Chester street, suffered an injury of the right foot, bruises and other body injuries, and the motorcycle was badly damaged when it was struck by another car early Sunday afternoon.

It was reported at police headquarters today that the officer suffered a chipped ankle bone.

A police report at 12:48 p. m., said Crespino was headed north on East Chester stret, and the sedan of Raymond Strong, RD No. 1, Box 120, Kingston, driven by Curtis Roy Brooks, 26, of 782 Madison avenue, Brooklyn, was going west on Flatbush avenue.

THE OFFICER was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by ambulance, and it was indicated today he would be unable to report for duty for several weeks.

Officers Harold DeGraff, Francis Buchanan and Motorcycle Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., investigated at the scene. The car he had been pursuing got away.

Two persons were injured in a three-car mishap on the Wurts street side of the Rondout creek bridge late Sunday afternoon.

Officers DeGraff and Buchanan reported at 5:39 p. m., that the sedan of Edward Ortega, 55, of 26 69th street, Maspeth, L. I., the car of Lawrence Poehmel, 23, of East Durham, and the sedan of Leo Mignano, 47, of 202 Market street, Saugerties, were involved.

ALL WERE headed north on Wurts street at the bridge. The Ortega car struck Poehmel's sedan, which in turn collided with the Mignano car, the report said.

Hotel Is Sold to Combine

The Hotel Stuyvesant, at Fair and John streets, has been sold by Mrs. Signe K. Eisler, widow of Frederick T. Eisler, to the Hudson Valley Hosteleries, Inc., it was announced today by Mrs. Eisler.

It is understood that the Hudson Valley Hosteleries is made up of a group of local investors. Harry Gold, attorney for the purchasers, could not be reached today for further details. However, it was learned that extensive renovations and improvements will be made to the building, which will be continued as a hotel under the management of Sidney Trienkman and that the present employes will be continued in their positions.

C. B. Morris of Morris and Citroen, loal realtors, were the brokers.

THE HOTEL Stuyvesant, a four story brick building, was completed in 1911 and at that time was one of the most modern hotels in the Hudson valley.

Erected by the Ulster County Hotel Corporation, it was operated and managed by the late James S. Winne who with Alonzo E. Winne had for years operated the Eagle Hotel on Main street. When the Eagle Hotel was sold to Charles E. Hungerford, the Winne's, who had been actively interested in the hotel business for many years, began construction of the Stuyvesant and it was designed to be one of the most modern of hotels. It was the first hotel in Kingston to be equipped with an elevator and was widely advertised as "the most modern hotel in the Hudson valley" with "100 rooms and 50 baths." Since that time the hotel has been altered and modernized further in keeping with times.

THE .WINNE family, well known throughout the area as hotelmen, drew a cliental from a wide area and in the early days of the hotel it was conducted strictly on the American Plan. In 1917 the hotel advertised "American Plan from $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50 per day."

Operated by the corporation for a number of years the controling interest later went to the Phillips family and later Elbert T. and Dorothy Stannard managed the hotel. In 1944 the late Frederick T. Eisler, who had formerly been associated with New York hotels, including the Waldorf, took over the management and continued it until the time of his death. Since then it has been continued

U. S. Confident on Airmen

Release of Others By Reds Expected

Washington, May 31 (AP)—U. S. officials informally expressed confidence today that 11 more American fliers held by Communist China will be released in the near future.

Indian diplomat V. K. Krishna Menon has advised the State Department that freeing of four fighter pilots was but the first step planned by the Peiping regime to ease Far East tensions and seek an improvement in relations with the United States.

HE INDICATED release of the others could be expected to follow fairly soon. A letter from Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold also raised hopes of early freedom for the remaining 11. This is accepted as logical by State Department experts who believe the Communists have found that imprisonment of the fliers has become a liability to them.

Officials said the Chinese Communists apparently are seeking to serve several purposes:

THEY WANT to counter the criticism of free nations which have widely condemned the holding of the fliers. They want to make a show of peaceful intentions toward the United States and possibly promote negotiations over Formosa.

Ultimately it is believed the Chinese Reds are aiming at breaking down United Nations trade barriers against Red China, winning UN membership and gain recognition from the United States, Britain and France as a world power capable of sitting in on meetings like those of the Big Four.

IF THIS analysis of aims is correct, it suggests that Red Chinese policy, like that of Russia, has undergone a major change in the last year or so. It would seem to be no longer so much concerned with making trouble with the United States as it is with stabilizing and easing the conditions of existence for Red China.

Secretary of State Dulles appears convinced that both in Europe and Assia the Communist switch from aggressive to more peaceful tactics—to whatever extent it has occurred—is a recognition of the strength and determination shown by this country and its allies. With respect to Red China, Dulles believes U. S. restraint in seeking release of the fliers plus U. S. firmness in its policy on Formosa is beginning to pay off.

Refugee Relief Measure Heralds Another Battle

Washington, May 31 (AP)—Introduction today of a bill to carry out President Eisenhower's proposals for changing the 1953 Refugee Relief Act heralds a new congressional battle over immigration policies.

The President's program, outlined in a special message last Friday, will have to run the gauntlet both of those who contend it goes too far in lowering immigration barriers and those who maintain it doesn't go far enough.

Fourteen Republican senators, all Eisenhower supporters, announced over the weekend that the legislation would be introduced with Congress' return today from a Memorial Day holiday that "we welcome the opportunity to support it."

IN THE SENATE the measure probably will be referred to a subcommittee on refugee problems headed by Sen. Langer (R.-N. D.). He said that if it is, he will start hearings without delay.

The 1953 refugee act fell short of what Eisenhower originally asked and was enacted by the previous GOP-controlled Congress only after many of the restrictions he now has asked to have removed were written into it.

In the Senate, Langer's subcommittee already is considering a bill introduced about a month ago by Sen. Lehman (D.-N.Y.) to revise the refugee act. In several respects Lehman's bill and Eisenhower's recommendations are similar.

School Segregation Ended

Full Compliance Is Seen When Feasible

Washington, May 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court today directed that public school segregation of white and Negro pupils be ended as soon as feasible, taking local conditions into account.

Chief Justice Warren, announcing the court's decision, said lower courts could decide whether a prompt and reasonable start toward full compliance was being made by local school authorities.

Warren said the high tribunal expects full compliance to be carried out as early as practicable.

He added that lower courts, sitting as courts of equity, "may properly take into account local problems."

Warren said the "validity" of the Supreme Court's decisions in the segregation cases cannot be yielded because of disagreement with them.

The high tribunal on May 17, 1954 had declared unanimously that racial segregation in the schools were unconstitutional. In its opinion then the court said it realized that "problems of considerable complexity" were involved.

It heard arguments for four afternoons last April on how to go about ending segregation.

During the arguments, attorneys for southern states contended the high court should fix no deadline for integration, should not issue specific orders on how it should be done, and should leave details to the states and their school boards, under supervision of local U. S. District Court.

Counsel for Negro parents urged the tribunal to order segregation ended by next September, or by September, 1956 at the latest.

The Eisenhower administration, through Solicitor General Sobeloff, suggested the Supreme Court follow a policy of "moderation with a degree of firmness."

Sobeloff suggested the lower courts be told to grant 90 days for submission of plans for integration as soon as feasible. He said school boards could be given more than 90 days if they made a proper showing that that time was unreasonable.

To Make Vaccine in Month

Should Finish 1-2 Grades in 60 Days

Washington, May 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today antipolio vaccination of first and second grade students should be completed in 60 days.

Eisenhower told his news conference that enough Salk vaccine to complete that campaign will be manufactured in the next 30 days.

His discussion of the vaccination difficulties came as a Senate committee considered proposals to give the government reserve authority to control the distribution and use of the material. The administration opposes the plan and Eisenhower today renewed his stated view that it is not needed.

EISENHOWER said some of the difficulties and inescapable snarls of manufacturing and distributing the vaccine now are being surmounted.

He said the program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for the inoculation of first and second grade students should find on the shelves within 30 days all the necessary vaccine.

He added that within 60 days vaccination of the first and second graders could be completed.

THE PROGRAM then will be directed toward completing the vaccination of all children from 5 to 9 years old, he said. In this program, the President continued, the federal government will assume the responsibility for the primary allocation of the vaccine to the states.

Eisenhower said he had a favorable thing to report in assurance from the American Medical Assn. (AMA) that doctors will observe priority in giving the vaccine. The President said the AMA had pledged that the doctors also would keep complete records of inoculations and have them available for later checks. The AMA made public its recommendations to doctors last night.

OBSERVING that he thinks the voluntary program is working, he said he doesn't believe we need anything extra in the way of controls. However, he said if Congress wants to vote for standby controls he will carry out any program it lays down.

First, he said, no vaccine is completely effective. He noted that tests conducted last year showed that the Salk vaccine ranges from 60 to 90 per cent effective. But he said, any child who is vaccinated showed an

Detectives Say Boy, 11, Confesses Cabin Cruiser Fire

A fire which damaged the 46-foot, double cabin cruiser of Alfred J. P. Seitz, 143 St. James street, Thursday, was set by an 11-year-old boy, police said today.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons, said that after questioning about 20 youngsters in their investigation they obtained a confession from the boy Friday afternoon.

THE FIRE was set in some rags found in the craft and placed on a bunk, the officers said. The boy, using a screwdriver, broke into the boat while it was moored near a barge in the Rondout creek at the dock of the former Lenahan boat yard, Abeel and Ravine streets, according to his statement to the police.

The boy also admitted carving the initials of another youngster on the outside of the boat. He told the officers he did not know why he had set the fire. He faces children's court action.

AFTER SETTING the fire, the detectives said, the boy told them he went to Block Park and ran back to the scene after the fire was discovered and the firemen called.

Damage to the craft was estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000. Its value, when new, was reported at $45,000.

Max Brugman, proprietor of the Kirkland Hotel, and Charles M. Abernethy of Janet street, in a nearby boat, were the first to see the fire. They called to others on the shore to notify the fire department.

Killed in Crash

Hurleyville, May 31 (AP)—An auto driver was killed and his five passengers were critically injured when the car crashed into a concrete wall here at 3 a. m. today. Killed was Stanley Klein, 22, of South Fallsburgh, near here in Sullivan county.

Traffic Deaths In Nation 359

(By The Associated Press)

Traffic deaths in the United States for the three-day Memorial Day weekend appeared headed for a record high for the holiday.

The traffic toll, with reports not final, was 359. The record for a three-day Memorial Day holiday is 363 set in 1952.

The overall accidental death toll also appeared on the way to come close to the high mark of 571 for a four-day Memorial Day period in 1950. This year's total was 566, including 125 drownings and 82 deaths in various types of accidents.

THE NUMBER of fatalities on the highways mounted steadily yesterday as millions jammed roads on their way home from outings and vacation lands. The National Safety Council, which in a pre-holiday statement, estimated a traffic toll of 360, revised its prediction yesterday to "at least 375."

This year's total accidental deaths compared to 539 last year in which 362 persons were killed in motor mishaps; 93

Strength That Made U. S. Great Needed, Legion Told

A need to "recapture that ideological strength" that made America great was cited by John B. Ryan, commander of the American Legion, Department of New York, at the Ulster County American Legion dinner Saturday night at The Alpine.

The occasion marked the official visit of the state commander to the Ulster County Legion.

Ryan called attention to a section of the Declaration of Independence which proclaims, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, and that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

When these words were first spoken, he said, the "world was exalted and uplifted and the tyrannies of the tried and troubled in many instances fell under the impact of that ideology.

"I would remind you that when it was first proclaimed, it also was a well-worked-out ideology in the hands of well-disciplined and dedicated leaders, so dedicated that they openly proclaimed that in support they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor."

He said the world was still looking for that philosophy of life and government which, according to the Legion, could only be discovered effectively under the inspiration of the "God that created us."

Thomas Bohan, past state vice commander, and present membership chairman for Ulster County American Legion received a trophy signifying the signing of 2,525 Legionnaires in this area.

Success of His Program May Help Ike Decide

Ives Suggests Better Backing Of President in U.S. Congress

Washington, May 31 (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-N. Y.) said today that if Republicans in Congress want President Eisenhower to run again next year they had better give more support to his legislative program.

Ives said he thinks the progress that program makes in Congress may have much to do with Eisenhower's decision on whether to seek a second term.

"If he doesn't get Republican support in Congress, that fact alone might have quite an influence on his decision," Ives said in an interview.

"If the Republicans in Congress want him to run, they had better get back of his program."

Sen. George (D-Ga.), actively supporting the administration's foreign policies, said the Democrats can't be charged with delaying any of Eisenhower's proposals in this field.

He said he can't guess about Eisenhower's 1956 plans but doesn't believe the President will make any decision until next year. Eisenhower has turned aside all recent queries about his plans.

Ives said action on the President's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program, on which the Senate may begin debate late today, may serve as an illustration of what he is talking about.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) has indicated his intention of attacking the program. Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said he wants to take a "good look" at the amount of money unspent from previous years before voting for any new appropriations.

Ives said he believes the Republicans' best chance of getting Eisenhower to run again lies in demonstrating that the party intends to carry out his program of getting the government out of business.

"I can't conceive of anyone

Dutchess Is Hit Worse Than Ulster

An electrical storm accompanied by high winds, rain, and in some locations hail, caused some damage to utilities and homes in the area Sunday night.

A total of 762 telephones in the Kingston district were put out of service, according to Leonard Herrick, manager, who noted that the number was unusually high for a storm. Lightning was the apparent cause of damage in two area homes.

Two splicing teams and 16 installers were called out for holiday work and had all service restored by 6 p. m. Monday, Herrick reported.

CENTRAL HUDSON Gas and Electric Corporation fared a little better in this area, although Dutchess county reported heavier damage. In the Kingston area, the West Park section was without power for a time when a primary line burned in a tree, and an additional 200 customers in scattered parts of the area were affected, according to Arthur W. Buddenhagen.

Several trees and limbs were obeserved to be down in various sections of the county, although state police and sheriff's office authorities received no reports of storm damage or blocked highways.

One barn in the Gardiner area was reported damaged by fire attributed to lightning.

THE HAIL, apparently concentrated in the Kingston-Hurley area and to the north, fortunately missed the apple growing area, and reports available this morning to William H. Palmer, county agricultural agent, indicated that the benefits to farmers from the rainfall more than offset the little hail damage that may have occurred, when the county as a whole is considered.

A total of .50 inches of rain fell Sunday night at Brown Station, Ashokan Reservoir, the New York Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity reported. At Prattsville, the total for the same period reached .81. Totals for the month were 1.95 inches at Ashokan and 2.35 at

Rosendale Crash Is Most Serious

Two Ulster county residents were taken to Albany Hospital for treatment of serious head injuries received in holiday weekend accidents here, at least two others were hospitalized locally and a anumber of persons were treated for minor injuries.

Up to a late hour this morning, however, no reports of fatal accidents within the county were received.

Taken to Albany Hospital were:

Edward Coffey, 42, of Springtown road, New Paltz, who state police said received a skull fracture in a motorcycle mishap at New Paltz on Monday afternoon.

John F. Scheib, 21, of Main street, Rosendale, one of three persons injured in a head-on collision at Rosendale about 3 a. m. Sunday, according to a sheriff's office report.

INJURED in the Rosendale accident with Scheib were Robert J. Beyersdorfer, 24, of Rosendale, reported in "apparently fair" condition at Kingston Hospital, and Edward Feeney, 26, also of Rosendale, reported in "good" condition at the Benedictine Hospital.

Deputy Sheriffs Thomas Mayone and John Kinstry reported the three Rosendale men injured when vehicles driven by Scheib and Beyersdorfer collided head-on on Main street in that village. Feeney was a passenger in Scheib's automobile, they reported.

Scheib was treated here for severe lacerations of the face, deep cut on his right knee and a broken jaw, and was transferred by ambulance to Albany, the sheriff's office report stated.

Patrolman Crespino Is Victim

Three Injured At Creek Bridge

Six persons, including Motorcycle Officer John Crespino, of the local police force, were injured in six city traffic mishaps over the holiday weekend, and drivers were arrested after two of the accidents.

Officer Crespino, trailing a car that had driven through a red light at Flatbush avenue and East Chester street, suffered an injury of the right foot, bruises and other body injuries, and the motorcycle was badly damaged when it was struck by another car early Sunday afternoon.

It was reported at police headquarters today that the officer suffered a chipped ankle bone.

A police report at 12:48 p. m., said Crespino was headed north on East Chester stret, and the sedan of Raymond Strong, RD No. 1, Box 120, Kingston, driven by Curtis Roy Brooks, 26, of 782 Madison avenue, Brooklyn, was going west on Flatbush avenue.

THE OFFICER was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by ambulance, and it was indicated today he would be unable to report for duty for several weeks.

Officers Harold DeGraff, Francis Buchanan and Motorcycle Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., investigated at the scene. The car he had been pursuing got away.

Two persons were injured in a three-car mishap on the Wurts street side of the Rondout creek bridge late Sunday afternoon.

Officers DeGraff and Buchanan reported at 5:39 p. m., that the sedan of Edward Ortega, 55, of 26 69th street, Maspeth, L. I., the car of Lawrence Poehmel, 23, of East Durham, and the sedan of Leo Mignano, 47, of 202 Market street, Saugerties, were involved.

ALL WERE headed north on Wurts street at the bridge. The Ortega car struck Poehmel's sedan, which in turn collided with the Mignano car, the report said.

School Segregation Ended

Full Compliance Is Seen When Feasible

Washington, May 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court today directed that public school segregation of white and Negro pupils be ended as soon as feasible, taking local conditions into account.

Chief Justice Warren, announcing the court's decision, said lower courts could decide whether a prompt and reasonable start toward full compliance was being made by local school authorities.

Warren said the high tribunal expects full compliance to be carried out as early as practicable.

He added that lower courts, sitting as courts of equity, "may properly take into account local problems."

Warren said the "validity" of the Supreme Court's decisions in the segregation cases cannot be yielded because of disagreement with them.

The high tribunal on May 17, 1954 had declared unanimously that racial segregation in the schools were unconstitutional. In its opinion then the court said it realized that "problems of considerable complexity" were involved.

It heard arguments for four afternoons last April on how to go about ending segregation.

During the arguments, attorneys for southern states contended the high court should fix no deadline for integration, should not issue specific orders on how it should be done, and should leave details to the states and their school boards, under supervision of local U. S. District Court.

Counsel for Negro parents urged the tribunal to order segregation ended by next September, or by September, 1956 at the latest.

The Eisenhower administration, through Solicitor General Sobeloff, suggested the Supreme Court follow a policy of "moderation with a degree of firmness."

Sobeloff suggested the lower courts be told to grant 90 days for submission of plans for integration as soon as feasible. He said school boards could be given more than 90 days if they made a proper showing that that time was unreasonable.

To Make Vaccine in Month

Washington, May 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today antipolio vaccination of first and second grade students should be completed in 60 days.

Eisenhower told his news conference that enough Salk vaccine to complete that campaign will be manufactured in the next 30 days.

His discussion of the vaccination difficulties came as a Senate committee considered proposals to give the government reserve authority to control the distribution and use of the material. The administration opposes the plan and Eisenhower today renewed his stated view that it is not needed.

EISENHOWER said some of the difficulties and inescapable snarls of manufacturing and distributing the vaccine now are being surmounted.

He said the program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for the inoculation of first and second grade students should find on the shelves within 30 days all the necessary vaccine.

He added that within 60 days vaccination of the first and second graders could be completed.

THE PROGRAM then will be directed toward completing the vaccination of all children from 5 to 9 years old, he said. In this program, the President continued, the federal government will assume the responsibility for the primary allocation of the vaccine to the states.

Eisenhower said he had a favorable thing to report in assurance from the American Medical Assn. (AMA) that doctors will observe priority in giving the vaccine. The President said the AMA had pledged that the doctors also would keep complete records of inoculations and have them available for later checks. The AMA made public its recommendations to doctors last night.

OBSERVING that he thinks the voluntary program is working, he said he doesn't believe we need anything extra in the way of controls. However, he said if Congress wants to vote for standby controls he will carry out any program it lays down.

First, he said, no vaccine is completely effective. He noted that tests conducted last year showed that the Salk vaccine ranges from 60 to 90 per cent effective. But he said, any child who is vaccinated showed an

Detectives Say Boy, 11, Confesses Cabin Cruiser Fire

A fire which damaged the 46-foot, double cabin cruiser of Alfred J. P. Seitz, 143 St. James street, Thursday, was set by an 11-year-old boy, police said today.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons, said that after questioning about 20 youngsters in their investigation they obtained a confession from the boy Friday afternoon.

THE FIRE was set in some rags found in the craft and placed on a bunk, the officers said. The boy, using a screwdriver, broke into the boat while it was moored near a barge in the Rondout creek at the dock of the former Lenahan boat yard, Abeel and Ravine streets, according to his statement to the police.

The boy also admitted carving the initials of another youngster on the outside of the boat. He told the officers he did not know why he had set the fire. He faces children's court action.

AFTER SETTING the fire, the detectives said, the boy told them he went to Block Park and ran back to the scene after the fire was discovered and the firemen called.

Damage to the craft was estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000. Its value, when new, was reported at $45,000.

Max Brugman, proprietor of the Kirkland Hotel, and Charles M. Abernethy of Janet street, in a nearby boat, were the first to see the fire. They called to others on the shore to notify the fire department.

Traffic Deaths In Nation 359

(By The Associated Press)

Traffic deaths in the United States for the three-day Memorial Day weekend appeared headed for a record high for the holiday.

The traffic toll, with reports not final, was 359. The record for a three-day Memorial Day holiday is 363 set in 1952.

The overall accidental death toll also appeared on the way to come close to the high mark of 571 for a four-day Memorial Day period in 1950. This year's total was 566, including 125 drownings and 82 deaths in various types of accidents.

THE NUMBER of fatalities on the highways mounted steadily yesterday as millions jammed roads on their way home from outings and vacation lands. The National Safety Council, which in a pre-holiday statement, estimated a traffic toll of 360, revised its prediction yesterday to "at least 375."

This year's total accidental deaths compared to 539 last year in which 362 persons were killed in motor mishaps; 93

Success of His Program May Help Ike Decide

Ives Suggests Better Backing Of President in U.S. Congress

Washington, May 31 (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-N. Y.) said today that if Republicans in Congress want President Eisenhower to run again next year they had better give more support to his legislative program.

Ives said he thinks the progress that program makes in Congress may have much to do with Eisenhower's decision on whether to seek a second term.

"If he doesn't get Republican support in Congress, that fact alone might have quite an influence on his decision," Ives said in an interview.

"If the Republicans in Congress want him to run, they had better get back of his program."

Sen. George (D-Ga.), actively supporting the administration's foreign policies, said the Democrats can't be charged with delaying any of Eisenhower's proposals in this field.

He said he can't guess about Eisenhower's 1956 plans but doesn't believe the President will make any decision until next year. Eisenhower has turned aside all recent queries about his plans.

Ives said action on the President's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program, on which the Senate may begin debate late today, may serve as an illustration of what he is talking about.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) has indicated his intention of attacking the program. Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said he wants to take a "good look" at the amount of money unspent from previous years before voting for any new appropriations.

Ives said he believes the Republicans' best chance of getting Eisenhower to run again lies in demonstrating that the party intends to carry out his program of getting the government out of business.

"I can't conceive of anyone

89 Ulster Voters Favor $125,000 Bonds for Roads

Only 129 voters of the town of Ulster turned out Saturday and cast their vote on a proposition to issue $125,000 in bonds to finance road improvements to Boice's Lane and Morton Boulevard adjacent to the IBM plant.

There were 89 votes cast in favor of the bond issue and 29 in opposition. One ballot was void.

It is estimated there were approximately 2,500 eligible to vote on the proposition.

SUPERVISOR Percy Bush today said that plans were under way to begin the work immediately. Preliminary work will probably be started within a week.

The bond issue is authorized to widen and improve Boice's Lane which is a direct route to the IBM plant and also to improve Morton Boulevard, a connecting link between Boice's Lane and route 9W south of the West Shore Railroad overpass.

Shokan

Shokan, May 31—Leslie B. Watrous, Broadway businessman, was a caller here the latter part of the week. A native of the Binghamton area, Leslie has been coming to Shokan for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ruckert of New Jersey recently spent a couple of days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert in the village center.

The Rev. Harlan Kishpaugh and wife of the Olive Bridge Methodist Church parsonage, calling here Wednesday were accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Towne and son, Ethan A. Towne of Jamaica, Iowa. Mrs. Towne is a school teacher in the Tall Corn State and her son is a senior at the Jamaica high school.

M. Murchio, proprietor of a motor car museum at Greenwood Lake, Orange county, was in town Thursday. He was looking for brass lamps and other antique auto accessories.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dean Dykstra, Kingston, looked over the corner store museum exhibit of antiques during the weekend. Dominie Dykstra in earlier life was a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., for several years.

The "Chimney Hole" near the site of the old excelsior mill at Boiceville has become one of the most popular spots for fishermen aspiring to land one of the big fellows lying in the Ashokan Reservoir grounds. Best fishing is said to be on the west side of the hole where standing room is rather precarious on account of the steep bank at that point.

Harold Wilkins, local storekeeper, has gone to California to spend some time with his sister who lives out there.

Fred Weeks Sr., is home again following an operation and treatment at St. Luke's Hospital in New York.

Mrs. M. VanAken of Rockville Center was at her summer place recently. Mrs. VanAken, the former Margaret VanWagenen of Kingston, plans to spend a vacation here in July when her daughter and three grandchildren in California will come to Shokan for a month's sojourn.

The humble minnow appears to be the piscatorial lure which gets the big trout this season as witness the 31-inch brown which has been on exhibition at a Phoenicia shop during May (caught by Larry Decker of Goshen) and the 4½ lb. rainbow reportedly lifted from the east basin of the Ashokan by Max Aduchefsky of Kingston.

Mrs. M. Doss of Newburgh called in the village Wednesday. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hogan who resided near Olive Branch, Mrs. Doss is a niece of Mrs. George Barkley, now of New Jersey, and is also related to Mrs. Burr Elmendorf and Mrs. Millard Bell.

William Chambers and family have moved from Delaware County to Samsonville where Will was born and brought up.

He Was Homesick

Boston, May 31 (AP)—Samuel Evangelista, 13, of Cambridge, had a reason for being out in his pajamas at 3 a. m. When police picked him up yesterday he explained he had sneaked out of the Boston Floating Hospital because he was homesick. Hospital officials told police the boy had his appendix removed only two days earlier. The stroll caused no ill effects, doctors said after examining the boy.

Bohnkes Are Awarded $3,625.86 Verdicts

Verdicts totaling $3,625.86 were returned in the final action to be tried at the May term of Supreme Court when the jury awarded Mrs. Irene E. Bohnke $2,000 for injuries sustained on September 15, 1952, when her car was in collision with a car of Alfred W. Lasher on the Rondout Creek bridge. Property damage in the sum of $129.86 was awarded and Verne Bohnke, husband, was awarded $1,500 for medical expenses and loss of services. Plaintiffs sued for $25,000. Roy L. Featherstone appeared for plaintiffs and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., for defendant. A motion by defense to set aside the verdict as inadequate was denied.

Search Still On For Small Boy NearGrahamsville

Search was still being continued today in the vicinity of Grahamsville where 23-month-old Fred (Tookie) Holmes has been missing since last Wednesday. While hopes dwindled and searchers doubted the little boy could have survived, weary searchers still continued their efforts.

Speculation has arisen among some that the lad may have been kidnaped or may have met with other fate, but state police at the Ferndale station said there was no foundation for such rumors and that the search was being continued in the area.

Arrest of Baldasarro Giarizzo, 55, landlord of the Holmes farm who spends most of his time in Brooklyn where he is a shoe repairer and leather worker, on a charge of possession of stolen property. caused rumors to fly in the area as to other possibilities of the lad's disappearance. Giarizzo is accused of having a chain saw hidden in a workshop which belonged to Wilson Terwilliger of Ellenville. State police said there was no foundation for the rumors that the lad had been taken from his home.

problems to Secretary of State Dulles.

Corsi, a prominent Italian-born New York Republican, was fired April 10, after 90 days on the job, and in subsequent testimony before Langer's subcommittee he called the refugee program "a complete failure and a national scandal."

NONE OF the other witnesses backed him in this, although each generally agreed various restrictions in the law had made it difficult to get the program going. Dulles said Corsi had tried to take over direction of the program.

The act authorized the admission of up to 214,000 refugees and other nonquota immigrants by the end of next year, but so far only slightly more than 30,000 visas have been issued and some 22,000 persons actually have entered the country.

Sulphur Fumes

Firemen, called for what was first thought to be a gas leak at Post street, found that sulphur candles had been left burning in a vacant apartment. The fumes were noticed by other tenants in the house. Police were also notified of the incident. Firemen reported that the candles had been left unattended.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 31 (AP)—Weakness in aircrafts sent the stock market down today in the early afternoon.

Aircrafts were off 1 to around 3 points frequently. Losses in the rest of the market seldom passed a point. At the same time, many divisions had good minor gains, in a few instances better than a point.

Trading was moderate. The market started down at the opening and then began a recovery from its lows. The trading pace slackened a bit when prices began to improve. The rate for the day was under Friday's 2,220,000 shares.

16-Month-Old Child Crushed by Truck

Sixteen-month-old Joan Marie Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Neal of Route 296, town of Jewett, was killed by a truck in the yard of the Neal home about 10:30 a. m. Saturday, it was reported by state police of the Hunter outpost.

Trooper M. P. Mattera of the Hunter barracks said the child got behind a bakery panel truck operated by Richard Wodarzick, 44, of Cornwallville, and that the truck backed over the child.

The child was rushed to the offices of a local physician but was pronounced dead on arrival, troopers reported. Dr. Edwin Mulbury of Windham, coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death.

'Ammunition Cleric' Resumes His Writing

Pluckemin, N. J., May 31 (AP)—The Rev. Howell M. Forgy, whose phrase "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" became a famous World War 2 battle slogan, plans to resume a writing career now that he has resigned as an active preacher.

Memorial Day marked the formal end of the preaching career of the Presbyterian minister who coined the inspiring words during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

In resigning as pastor of the Pluckemin Presbyterian church, where he has served since March 1954, the Rev. Mr. Forgy gave ill health as his reason.

At the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, the Rev. Mr. Forgy was a navy chaplain aboard the cruiser New Orleans.

C of C Reports Record Number Of Memberships

A record number of 112 new memberships were turned in by the membership committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce during the month of May. Sixteen of the new memberships represent increased support by active members.

This announcement was made today by George Silkworth, chairman of the 38-man membership committee.

The fiscal year which ended on April 30, 1955, closed with 507 paid memberships. "Considering the usual number of losses due to going-out-of business, deaths, etc., we should have a total of over 600 memberships by the end of the fiscal year on April 30, 1956," he said.

"A special effort was made to get all memberships in early this year to have them for inclusion in the printed classified membership directory which will go to press within the next few days," Silkworth concluded.

I am financing my new car with The Rondout National Bank... and I'll tell you why
As one who is interested in the growth and prosperity of Kingston I believe we all should patronize local business and industry.
AND—Because I decided to finance my car with a Rondout National Bank Auto Loan. I was pleasantly surprised to find I saved nearly $50.00—because local bank loans cost less.
AND—Your auto loan can be arranged quickly and easily at the Rondout National Bank—it is much more convenient when making the monthly payments.
AND—It is important to remember by establishing your credit with the Rondout National Bank you have available the many other banking services and loans.

Plane Returns Safely

Hong Kong, May 31 (AP)—A four-engine U. S. Navy transport plane returned safely to Hong Kong today when one engine caught fire 15 minutes after it took off for Manila. The plane carried a crew of seven and four passengers, including two air force nurses. The pilot was Lt. Cmdr. G. D. Virgo of New York city. Crewmen said the engine fire, caused by a broken fuel line, was immediately extinguished automatically.

Secrecy Lid on Talks

89 Ulster Voters Favor $125,000 Bonds for Roads

Only 129 voters of the town of Ulster turned out Saturday and cast their vote on a proposition to issue $125,000 in bonds to finance road improvements to Boice's Lane and Morton Boulevard adjacent to the IBM plant.

There were 89 votes cast in favor of the bond issue and 29 in opposition. One ballot was void.

It is estimated there were approximately 2,500 eligible to vote on the proposition.

SUPERVISOR Percy Bush today said that plans were under way to begin the work immediately. Preliminary work will probably be started within a week.

The bond issue is authorized to widen and improve Boice's Lane which is a direct route to the IBM plant and also to improve Morton Boulevard, a connecting link between Boice's Lane and route 9W south of the West Shore Railroad overpass.

Shokan

Shokan, May 31—Leslie B. Watrous, Broadway businessman, was a caller here the latter part of the week. A native of the Binghamton area, Leslie has been coming to Shokan for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ruckert of New Jersey recently spent a couple of days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert in the village center.

The Rev. Harlan Kishpaugh and wife of the Olive Bridge Methodist Church parsonage, calling here Wednesday were accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Towne and son, Ethan A. Towne of Jamaica, Iowa. Mrs. Towne is a school teacher in the Tall Corn State and her son is a senior at the Jamaica high school.

M. Murchio, proprietor of a motor car museum at Greenwood Lake, Orange county, was in town Thursday. He was looking for brass lamps and other antique auto accessories.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dean Dykstra, Kingston, looked over the corner store museum exhibit of antiques during the weekend. Dominie Dykstra in earlier life was a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., for several years.

The "Chimney Hole" near the site of the old excelsior mill at Boiceville has become one of the most popular spots for fishermen aspiring to land one of the big fellows lying in the Ashokan Reservoir grounds. Best fishing is said to be on the west side of the hole where standing room is rather precarious on account of the steep bank at that point.

Harold Wilkins, local storekeeper, has gone to California to spend some time with his sister who lives out there.

Fred Weeks Sr., is home again following an operation and treatment at St. Luke's Hospital in New York.

Mrs. M. VanAken of Rockville Center was at her summer place recently. Mrs. VanAken, the former Margaret VanWagenen of Kingston, plans to spend a vacation here in July when her daughter and three grandchildren in California will come to Shokan for a month's sojourn.

The humble minnow appears to be the piscatorial lure which gets the big trout this season as witness the 31-inch brown which has been on exhibition at a Phoenicia shop during May (caught by Larry Decker of Goshen) and the 4½ lb. rainbow reportedly lifted from the east basin of the Ashokan by Max Aduchefsky of Kingston.

Mrs. M. Doss of Newburgh called in the village Wednesday. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hogan who resided near Olive Branch, Mrs. Doss is a niece of Mrs. George Barkley, now of New Jersey, and is also related to Mrs. Burr Elmendorf and Mrs. Millard Bell.

William Chambers and family have moved from Delaware County to Samsonville where Will was born and brought up.

He Was Homesick

Boston, May 31 (AP)—Samuel Evangelista, 13, of Cambridge, had a reason for being out in his pajamas at 3 a. m. When police picked him up yesterday he explained he had sneaked out of the Boston Floating Hospital because he was homesick. Hospital officials told police the boy had his appendix removed only two days earlier. The stroll caused no ill effects, doctors said after examining the boy.

Bohnkes Are Awarded $3,625.86 Verdicts

Verdicts totaling $3,625.86 were returned in the final action to be tried at the May term of Supreme Court when the jury awarded Mrs. Irene E. Bohnke $2,000 for injuries sustained on September 15, 1952, when her car was in collision with a car of Alfred W. Lasher on the Rondout Creek bridge. Property damage in the sum of $129.86 was awarded and Verne Bohnke, husband, was awarded $1,500 for medical expenses and loss of services. Plaintiffs sued for $25,000. Roy L. Featherstone appeared for plaintiffs and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., for defendant. A motion by defense to set aside the verdict as inadequate was denied.

Search Still On For Small Boy NearGrahamsville

Search was still being continued today in the vicinity of Grahamsville where 23-month-old Fred (Tookie) Holmes has been missing since last Wednesday. While hopes dwindled and searchers doubted the little boy could have survived, weary searchers still continued their efforts.

Speculation has arisen among some that the lad may have been kidnaped or may have met with other fate, but state police at the Ferndale station said there was no foundation for such rumors and that the search was being continued in the area.

Arrest of Baldasarro Giarizzo, 55, landlord of the Holmes farm who spends most of his time in Brooklyn where he is a shoe repairer and leather worker, on a charge of possession of stolen property caused rumors to fly in the area as to other possibilities of the lad's disappearance. Giarizzo is accused of having a chain saw hidden in a workshop which belonged to Wilson Terwilliger of Ellenville. State police said there was no foundation for the rumors that the lad had been taken from his home.

Refugee Relief

problems to Secretary of State Dulles.

Corsi, a prominent Italian-born New York Republican, was fired April 10, after 90 days on the job, and in subsequent testimony before Langer's subcommittee he called the refugee program "a complete failure and a national scandal."

NONE OF the other witnesses backed him in this, although each generally agreed various restrictions in the law had made it difficult to get the program going. Dulles said Corsi had tried to take over direction of the program.

The act authorized the admission of up to 214,000 refugees and other nonquota immigrants by the end of next year, but so far only slightly more than 30,000 visas have been issued and some 22,000 persons actually have entered the country.

Sulphur Fumes

Firemen, called for what was first thought to be a gas leak at Post street, found that sulphur candles had been left burning in a vacant apartment. The fumes were noticed by other tenants in the house. Police were also notified of the incident. Firemen reported that the candles had been left unattended.

State of Emergency

London, May 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden's government late today proclaimed a state of emergency to deal with Britain's rail and dock strikes. At the same time it announced Parliament will be reopened June 9 instead of June 14 as scheduled.

Back to School

Bird City, Kas. (AP)—Mrs. Earnest Bressler and her 15-year-old daughter are both sophomores in high school. Mrs. Bressler's mother's death left her with the job of keeping house for her father and brother, cutting short her girlhood school days. Now she's a student again—as well as a member of the board of the Kansas Parent-Teacher Assn. Her three children and her husband—who owns a couple of farms and two implement firms—are enthusiastic boosters in her return to school.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 31 (AP)—Weakness in aircrafts sent the stock market down today in the early afternoon.

Aircrafts were off 1 to around 3 points frequently. Losses in the rest of the market seldom passed a point. At the same time, many divisions had good minor gains, in a few instances better than a point.

Trading was moderate. The market started down at the opening and then began a recovery from its lows. The trading pace slackened a bit when prices began to improve. The rate for the day was under Friday's 2,220,000 shares.

16-Month-Old Child Crushed by Truck

Sixteen-month-old Joan Marie Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Neal of Route 296, town of Jewett, was killed by a truck in the yard of the Neal home about 10:30 a. m. Saturday, it was reported by state police of the Hunter outpost.

Trooper M. P. Mattera of the Hunter barracks said the child got behind a bakery panel truck operated by Richard Wodarzick, 44, of Cornwallville, and that the truck backed over the child.

The child was rushed to the offices of a local physician but was pronounced dead on arrival, troopers reported. Dr. Edwin Mulbury of Windham, coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death.

'Ammunition Cleric' Resumes His Writing

Pluckemin, N. J., May 31 (AP)—The Rev. Howell M. Forgy, whose phrase "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" became a famous World War 2 battle slogan, plans to resume a writing career now that he has resigned as an active preacher.

Memorial Day marked the formal end of the preaching career of the Presbyterian minister who coined the inspiring words during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941.

In resigning as pastor of the Pluckemin Presbyterian church, where he has served since March 1954, the Rev. Mr. Forgy gave ill health as his reason.

At the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, the Rev. Mr. Forgy was a navy chaplain aboard the cruiser New Orleans.

C of C Reports Record Number Of Memberships

A record number of 112 new memberships were turned in by the membership committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce during the month of May. Sixteen of the new memberships represent increased support by active members.

This announcement was made today by George Silkworth, chairman of the 38-man membership committee.

The fiscal year which ended on April 30, 1955, closed with 507 paid memberships. "Considering the usual number of losses due to going-out-of business, deaths, etc., we should have a total of over 600 memberships by the end of the fiscal year on April 30, 1956," he said.

"A special effort was made to get all memberships in early this year to have them for inclusion in the printed classified membership directory which will go to press within the next few days," Silkworth concluded.

As one who is interested in the growth and prosperity of Kingston I believe we all should patronize local business and industry.
AND—Because I decided to finance my car with a Rondout National Bank Auto Loan. I was pleasantly surprised to find I saved nearly $50.00—because local bank loans cost less.
AND—Your auto loan can be arranged quickly and easily at the Rondout National Bank—it is much more convenient when making the monthly payments.
AND—It is important to remember by establishing your credit with the Rondout National Bank you have available the many other banking services and loans.

More Jobs, Higher Pay Available to Graduates

New York, May 31 (AP)—The June graduate is cashing in on the business boom.

Average starting pay has gone up a little since the mid-year graduate came out in January, college placement offices report. And corporations who were being conservative the first of the year about the number of jobs they would offer now have revised their plans upward in line with the general optimism over the business outlook.

AVAILABLE JOBS are now running about 10 per cent ahead of a year ago, most colleges report.

Young engineers will get an average starting pay of $400 a month, and nontechnical grads will start at $300 to $390 a month, according to a survey of 120 schools by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis. This is a gain of from $10 to $35 over last year.

But a dark side of the picture is pointed out in another survey of 80 top corporations and 80 colleges in all parts of the country by executive job counselors, a New York firm. Corporations report that on an average 30 per cent of each year's crop of June graduates changes jobs within the first year,

THIS IS ESTIMATED to cost industry 336 million dollars in wasted recruiting and training expense. Recruiting a student for industry costs a corporation from $500 to $2,600, companies report. They spend the money on trips to many schools for interviews with likely students, and in some cases the job candidate is taken to inspect the corporation's plant.

College placement officers report that students themselves average $27.40 in job hunting. They spend it for transportation, telephone calls, resume writing, and employment agency fees.

Corporations estimate they spend an average of $1,000 a man in training the new employe in his first year. Many say they get little of productive worth out of a man in his first year, so that his first year's pay is a loss if he quits.

THE INSURANCE company reports that salary figures for starting engineers crept up in the late reports from the schools. Most colleges report a sharp rise this year in the number of companies doing campus recruiting.

Many placement officials report employers actively interested in "draft bait" this year. The larger companies are hiring youths who soon must leave for military service, or are signing them up for jobs on a "when you return" basis.

One midwest university reports increased interest in hiring under-classmen for summer work. Another finds more interest this year in nontechnical seniors.

A PACIFIC COAST school sights a "trend to accept women in positions formerly reserved for men, particularly in science." An engineering school says, "probably none of our seniors this year has less than six offers." And it adds that corporation interviewing teams are reserving dates now for next spring.

Experience, which at one time was demanded by some employers, isn't as necessary to land a job now, apparently. A western school reports that "many jobs for which experience was formerly demanded are now opening up to qualified graduates without experience."

Another side to the story—that of providing the training—is reported by the Engineering Manpower Commission. It says that the number of students completing teacher certificate requirements this year will be five per cent higher than last year.

BUT IT STILL sees a "desperate shortage" in qualified primary and secondary school teachers to prepare youths for scientific training in college.

Patient Plunges 10 Stories to Death

Rochester, May 31 (AP) — Charles K. Collins, 55, plunged 10 stories to his death from the roof of the Hotel Sheraton Sunday.

Police said Collins was visiting relatives on a pass from the Rochester State Hospital, where he had been a patient for the past year.

The authorities said Collins apparently made his way to the hotel roof after leaving the home of his relatives alone earlier in the day.

Coroner Richard A. Leonard issued a certificate of suicide.

GI Trainees Not Eligible to Get Double Payments

Veterans training under the Korean GI Bill may not draw GI unemployment and GI training pay at the same time, since simultaneous use of the two GI benefits is illegal, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration, Contact Office, 286 Fair street, said today in answer to numerous queries.

Even though a veteran is not working while taking Korean GI Bill training, he still would not be eligible for the unemployment insurance. Unemployment payments are limited to Korea veterans actively looking for work, who are not receiving GI training benefits.

A VETERAN WHO for any reason, does draw both payments at once would be required to return his unemployment allowance to the state from which he received it. Also, under the law, he may be liable for a fine of up to $1,000, or imprisonment of up to one year, or both.

Unemployment pay—administered by the U. S. Department of Labor through the states may range up to $26 a week for a maximum of 26 weeks.

GI training allowances, handled by VA, range from $110 to $160 a month, for veterans in school full-time. Lower monthly rates are paid to part-time trainees, and to veterans training on-the-job or on-the-farm.

For further information on GI Korean Bill for training or other matters pertaining to veterans affairs, you may contact F. William Sheehan, 286 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y.

Park Battle Is Averted by Police

New York, May 31 (AP)—Mounted police broke up two seething mobs of youths that yesterday threatened to turn a park in the Bronx, crowded with holiday picnickers, into a vicious battleground.

Park attendants called for police reinforcements when they noticed two taunting groups of about 250 youths each had drawn up and appeared poised for a free-for-all riot.

One group formed into a column of six abreast and began marching across a baseball diamond toward the second group waiting under shade trees.

'THEY LOOKED just like an army," remarked one police sergeant summoned to halt the brewing fight. Nine mounted policemen charged into the marching column and dispersed it.

For the remainder of the hot afternoon and evening the mounted police plus 150 patrolmen and 10 patrol cars stayed in Pelham Bay Park to ward off any further trouble. Later in the evening one policeman was injured when thrown from his horse which bolted when hit by an object tossed from the crowd.

DURING THE DAY the park teemed with a holiday crowd, mostly Negroes, enlivened by festive bongo and tom-tom drums. Park attendants said the threatened big clash may have stemmed from a bitter fist-fight between six youths whom they separated in mid-afternoon.

Asked what the trouble had been, Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy commented: "Well, it was a hot day. They all just got hot under the collar."

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center posts—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

In a land vehicle, there's never been anything like the magic a pilot gets with his variable pitch propellers.

He can angle the blades of his propellers for performance as he heads his plane down a runway—to get quick take-off and climb.

He can switch the angle of those propellers for economy aloft—to get more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

As we said—there's never been anything like that in a land vehicle. But there is now.

It's in a Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow—and you can take the word of thousands of excited owners of new Buicks that it's the closest thing to wheeled flight . . .

Because you have twenty propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside your Dynaflow unit . . .

Because you can switch the pitch of those propeller blades from high-economy angle that gives you top gas mileage in cruising—to high-performance angle that gives you action plus . . .

And because, when you call for that action by pressing the gas pedal way down—you get it split-second quick and silky smooth—an instantaneous power response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of acceleration when needed.

It's a solid, soaring, pulse-quickening thrill—unlike anything you ever felt before—and robustly bolstered by walloping new horsepowers raised to record might.

It's something you definitely ought to try—just to know what's really new in automobiles—and to see for yourself why Buick sales are zooming to an all-time best-seller high.

Drop in today or tomorrow and we'll gladly arrange matters—show you, too, the prices that are keeping Buick in the tight circle of America's top sellers.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Veterans training under the Korean GI Bill may not draw GI unemployment and GI training pay at the same time, since simultaneous use of the two GI benefits is illegal, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration, Contact Office, 286 Fair street, said today in answer to numerous queries.

Even though a veteran is not working while taking Korean GI Bill training, he still would not be eligible for the unemployment insurance. Unemployment payments are limited to Korea veterans actively looking for work, who are not receiving GI training benefits.

A VETERAN WHO for any reason, does draw both payments at once would be required to return his unemployment allowance to the state from which he received it. Also, under the law, he may be liable for a fine of up to $1,000, or imprisonment of up to one year, or both.

Unemployment pay—administered by the U. S. Department of Labor through the states may range up to $26 a week for a maximum of 26 weeks.

GI training allowances, handled by VA, range from $110 to $160 a month, for veterans in school full-time. Lower monthly rates are paid to part-time trainees, and to veterans training on-the-job or on-the-farm.

For further information on GI Korean Bill for training or other matters pertaining to veterans affairs, you may contact F. William Sheehan, 286 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y.

Park Battle Is Averted by Police

New York, May 31 (AP)—Mounted police broke up two seething mobs of youths that yesterday threatened to turn a park in the Bronx, crowded with holiday picnickers, into a vicious battleground.

Park attendants called for police reinforcements when they noticed two taunting groups of about 250 youths each had drawn up and appeared poised for a free-for-all riot.

One group formed into a column of six abreast and began marching across a baseball diamond toward the second group waiting under shade trees.

THEY LOOKED just like an army," remarked one police sergeant summoned to halt the brewing fight. Nine mounted policemen charged into the marching column and dispersed it.

For the remainder of the hot afternoon and evening the mounted police plus 150 patrolmen and 10 patrol cars stayed in Pelham Bay Park to ward off any further trouble. Later in the evening one policeman was injured when thrown from his horse which bolted when hit by an object tossed from the crowd.

DURING THE DAY the park teemed with a holiday crowd, mostly Negroes, enlivened by festive bongo and tom-tom drums. Park attendants said the threatened big clash may have stemmed from a bitter fist-fight between six youths whom they separated in mid-afternoon.

Asked what the trouble had been, Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy commented: "Well, it was a hot day. They all just got hot under the collar."

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center posts—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model—also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

IN A land vehicle, there's never been anything like the magic a pilot gets with his variable pitch propellers.

He can angle the blades of his propellers for performance as he heads his plane down a runway—to get quick take-off and climb.

He can switch the angle of those propellers for economy aloft—to get more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

As we said—there's never been anything like that in a land vehicle. But there is now.

It's in a Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow—and you can take the word of thousands of excited owners of new Buicks that it's the closest thing to wheeled flight . . .

Because you have twenty propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside your Dynaflow unit . . .

Because you can switch the pitch of those propeller blades from high-economy angle that gives you top gas mileage in cruising—to high-performance angle that gives you action plus . . .

And because, when you call for that action by pressing the gas pedal way down—you get it split-second quick and silky smooth—an instantaneous power response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of acceleration when needed.

It's a solid, soaring, pulse-quickening thrill—unlike anything you ever felt before—and robustly bolstered by walloping new horsepowers raised to record might.

It's something you definitely ought to try—just to know what's really new in automobiles—and to see for yourself why Buick sales are zooming to an all-time best-seller high.

Drop in today or tomorrow and we'll gladly arrange matters—show you, too, the prices that are keeping Buick in the tight circle of America's top sellers.

TRIUMPH FOR SANITY

The stunning election victory of British Prime Minister Eden and his Conservative party makes more secure the future of the free world coalition at a time when stability and strength in the west are of paramount importance.

Under Sir Anthony's leadership, Britain will approach sanely the delicate problem of maintaining a posture of strength while being alert to every reasonable prospect of easing world tensions.

Under Eden, too, the British will cooperate earnestly and sincerely with the United States and yet show no mark of subservience.

The Prime Minister must be credited with having pulled off a shrewd gamble. The Conservatives could have retained power another year without an election. Sir Anthony chose instead to try to capitalize on Labor party divisions and other factors to win now a new five-year hold on the government.

Nearly every factor of consequence seemed to be tipped in Eden's favor. Britain is enjoying unexampled prosperity. It is closer now than at any time to regaining its old, solid economic stature in the world.

In the sphere of foreign affairs, they have the hope that Eden's acknowledged skill and experience may help lead the west to some sort of settlement with the Soviet Union. Four-power talks appear definitely slated for this summer, and that assurance cannot have hurt the Conservatives at the polls.

In contrast, the Labor party is at its lowest ebb in many years. The six years it held power from 1945 to 1951 appeared to sap it of all imagination and inspiration. One may fairly say that the party today is bankrupt of new ideas and programs.

On the domestic scene, Labor could offer no more than a resumption of gradual nationalization of industries. There was no sign the British people had any faith such a course would maintain or extend their economic gains.

In foreign affairs, the most moderate elements of the Labor party undoubtedly would have followed a line close to the Conservative one. But in an effort to suggest important differences with their opponents, the Laborites recklessly drummed on fears of the H-bomb. In so doing they merely emphasized the emptiness of their own approach.

They were especially handicapped by the usual rantings of Aneurin Bevan, the party's left-wing leader. By mouthing anti-American sentiments at top lung power, he suggested strongly that a Labor party in power would not find it easy to cooperate with Britain's greatest ally, the United States.

The disrupted, mentally barren Labor party was found wanting by British voters. Instead they have put their fresh stamp of approval on a Conservative party that has proved itself in office and promises much for the future—a party that is enlivened by young blood, by vibrant imagination, and by a capacity for achieving stability while still moving ahead in an anxious world.

HOW TO WIN BUS RIDERS

The unending battle between public transportation and the automobile makes street cars and buses think up new devices to win customers. In Cincinnati the bus company has worked out a scheme in cooperation with the stores. They are featuring Downtown Discovery Days. Pink buses in the downtown areas, with guides, take their riders to special displays.

Work of local artists set up in a park is one objective. If it rains, a nearby office building is used. A large square in a central location will offer a flower show. The stores come in by presenting shoppers' contests with prizes. The program constantly varies.

All these serve to keep public transportation in the minds of the might-be riders.

THE TEDDY BOYS

LONDON, MAY 24—The zoot suit has made its appearance in London, and those who wear them are called Teddy boys. Such a queer name comes to them because actually the zoot suit was worn in early Edward the VII days: tight trouser, long coats, shirts with ruffles, brilliantly fancy waist-coats and a feminine devotion to the hair.

Unfortunately many of the Teddy boys are gangsters and killers and their dress is a uniform. Others are only imitators. Those I saw did not look so terrible, but a switch knife can do as much mischief in an Edwardian masquerade as in a Bronx gang fight.

The British police are not as tough as ours, carry no guns or nightsticks and are accustomed to an orderly people who take them seriously. The Teddy boys do not take the police seriously because the sentences meted out to them are light by any standards. This is one vice which cannot be laid to the American movies. If any American dressed like one of these Teddy boys, he would be razzed off the sidewalks and the likelihood is that someone would take a poke at him. British freedom, however, does not intervene in matters of personal taste.

I watched a few of these Teddy boys cavorting and one can only hope that they are not what they seem to be, because they do occasionally kill if interfered with. I like a gangster to look like one, ferocious and tough. A zoot suit never made anyone look tough. It only makes him look untidy.

These boys are not a product of war. They are just bad boys. They are not a result of underprivilege; for too many years in England everybody was underprivileged. They are a product of some wild idea of the upper crust that was aped by these kids. In England juvenile delinquency exists and it has its own form and is clothed in an Edwardian zoot suit. Frankly, it looks awful.

Maybe the appearance of these gangs is a reaction to British orderliness. It is a voluntary orderliness. There are not enough nor modernly efficient agencies to maintain law and order. It is a laissez-faire sort of thing, depending upon the individual more than upon the police. Maybe these zoot-suited kids just want to be disorderly because they are tired of every Englishman doing his duty. That too can be a bore.

I use an electric razor and so I looked for a plug in the bathroom where most Americans shave to the tune of a running shower. There was no plug.

I rang for the valet who, I assumed, looked after such things. He hurriedly got a transformer to fix the voltage but he plugged it into the bedroom wall next to a lad's dressing-table which no American man would use except for cigar butts.

I asked why it could not be done in the bathroom. The valet replied so proudly, it was almost a salute: "Not in England, sir. We do not mix water and electricity."

Being a good American, I would have offered the fellow a buck to fix me up the way I am accustomed to shave, standing on my feet and looking into a mirror. But his righteousness was so complete that I dared not offer him a buck or sixpence or whatever those enormous metal coins are:

I stepped back and nearly saluted him. But class distinction overcame me and I bowed to my superiors. Millions of us mix water and electricity and do not get electrocuted, but in England, where law and order is a habit, it just isn't done.

I could not help wondering if the Teddy boys will not take to shaving with an electric razor in the bathroom just to prove that law and order is really un-British. I could not help thinking of this orderly valet when I saw these imitation tough guys all dressed up like actors in a play or somebody like that. There is another point about it. The British voice is very gentle and soft, even when it is loud. Can you imagine a Bronx zoot-suiter speaking in the soft tones of a Teddy boy from Camden Town? Still, if one uses a switch blade, it doesn't matter much what the voice is like.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

OUR ACCIDENT RATE

In the three seconds it will take you to read this sentence, somewhere in the United States (and Canada) somebody has been seriously hurt in an accident. During the next five minutes, someone will be killed in an accident. More Americans have been killed in traffic accidents than in all the nation's wars.

To put it another way, every year in the United States between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 people are accidentally injured — about 300,000 of them permanently disabled — and between 90,000 and 100,000 are accidentally killed. For many years the accident death rate remained almost constant at about 72 deaths per 100,000 population. When the death rate from one kind of accident declines, it appears to rise at other points. For example, during World War 2, when auto driving was restricted, the motor vehicle accident death rate declined. At the same time, the industrial and military training accident death rate increased so that the over-all rates were just about the same during the war years as before.

We often think of accidents in terms of catastrophies — accidents in which five or more lives are lost. However, a careful record reveals that only about 10 per cent of the headline deaths are due to the uncontrollable forces of nature, such as floods, hurricanes, tornadoes and the like. The other 90 per cent are the result of some kind of human failure or neglect. That is why it has been often stated, without serious challenge, that 90 per cent of all accidents are preventable.

Leaving traffic deaths aside for the moment, let us consider the fact that over half the fatal accidents that take place at home involve people over 65-years-of-age and one-fifth happen to children under five. Falls are the principal type of fatal home accidents and every home should be checked for accident hazards — poor lighting, unsafe electrical fixtures, stairways without railings, slippery floors, scatter rugs that slip underfoot, and bundles and objects lying on floors and staircases.

The kitchen is the most dangerous room in the house, according to accident injury records. Other danger spots, in order of accident frequency, are outside stairs, inside stairs, living room, porch, bedroom, basement, dining room, bathroom and hallways. Comparatively few fatal accidents, except for carbon monoxide poisoning, occur in the garage, but the outside yard is just as dangerous as the kitchen.

Much thought has been given to the prevention of accidents in industry so that now more people are killed working on farms than working in factories. Each of us can do something about safety engineering in our home by becoming conscious of those things about us which may lead to an accident and eliminating them promptly. If we just remember that falls are the most frequent type of fatal home accident, we can keep mind and eyes alert for such hazards.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The U. S. budget could be balanced easily if all the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Organization of Government were followed. Not only that—there would also be a surplus for the first time since 1951. And taxes might be cut.

These potential savings are indicated as the nonpartisan group headed by ex-President Herbert Hoover passes the halfway point on the 20 reports it is issuing this year.

They will show where government expenses could be cut and how government efficiency could be increased.

On the first 11 reports issued so far, net savings on an annual basis of over a billion and a half dollars have been indicated. Since the nine reports still to come cover bigger items of expense, the total possible savings annually could be well over the three-billion dollar mark.

The anticipated budget deficit for the government's fiscal year beginning July 1 is two and a half billion. For the year ending June 30 it will be between four and five billion.

THE POSSIBLE ANNUAL SAVINGS which the Hoover reports have so far revealed are: Reduction of paperwork, 225 million dollars. Medical services, 293 million. Lending agencies, 200 million. Transportation, 151 million. Food and clothing purchases, 340 million. Warehousing, 282 million.

Two major provisional savings have also been listed.

If the government's employe turnover rate could be reduced from 26 to 20 per cent a year, annual savings of 60 million dollars could be made.

The second conditional saving is a little more complicated. The government—principally Department of Defense—now declares surplus about two billion dollars' worth of supplies a year. In selling these surpluses, the government gets from five to seven cents on the dollar of original cost.

If the government could increase this by one cent on each dollar's worth of surplus sold, the increased return would be 20 million dollars a year. If the return could be increased by five cents on the dollar, the return to the treasury would be 100 million dollars.

There is a third major field of possible savings known as "one-shot" economies. This is to distinguish them from the recurring annual savings. One-shot savings would merely reduce the national debt.

FOR INSTANCE, if the government liquidated some of its lending agencies and government corporations and returned their capital funds to the treasury, some five billion dollars might be recovered.

This figure is the total of one-shot savings indicated in the first ten Hoover report recommendations. For the entire 20 reports being issued this year, President Hoover has indicated the total recommended capital fund saving might be seven billion.

From this curtailment of government programs there might be further annual reduction of expense. Naturally, if the government stopped doing any of its numerous activities, it would reduce expenditures. But this would not show on the books as a saving.

This recommended curtailment of government activities has put the Hoover Commission in more hot water than it has been before. It involves such popular programs as government housing loans, farm loans, rural electrification and telephone loans and Tennessee Valley Authority activities. Also many business-type enterprises which bureaucrats consider essential.

Some of the Hoover recommendations in this field go so far as to be in conflict with expressed Eisenhower administration and Republican platform policies. This has caused the White House and some of the executive departments considerable embarrassment.

THE HOOVER COMMISSION answer to this point is that it was not created to defend anyone's policies. It was set up by law to show where savings might be made and more efficiency achieved. It is bipartisan in make-up and nonpartisan in objectives.

So far, the first ten Hoover reports have made 221 recommendations. Twenty of them could be carried out by presidential executive order. Eighty-four could be carried out by administrative action in the government agencies.

But 117 of the recommendations will require action by Congress to change existing law. Mr. Hoover thinks nine or ten omnibus bills might cover the field.

So far only one bill—to reorganize government legal services—has been introduced in Congress. Others are in preparation and may be filed soon. Few will be acted on this year. But Reorganization Act authority has been extended to June 1, 1957.

Turn on the Heat

West Point, Va. (AP)—The traffic tie-up at the bridge over the Pamunkey river was a heated affair. The temperature was 90 degrees. A boat tooted its horn. The bridge tender tried to raise the drawbridge. The heat-expanded beams jammed. Highway traffic piled up at either end. Men with blow torches shaved off bits of the expanded beams in an hour and fifteen minutes. Highway and river traffic resumed. Driver temperatures subsided.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

London, May 31—Allied solidarity, which is so essential to the United States and Great Britain in dealing with the delicate problems of the world, was never as strong as it is today in the all-important period of preparation for the Four Power Conference between the heads of state.

This correspondent had an opportunity to lunch and then to talk alone for an hour with Prime Minister Eden at his country place over the weekend holiday, and the net impression is that the governments of the United States and Great Britain understand each other thoroughly "at the summit."

The Prime Minister doesn't give interviews, and what he says in a private chat cannot be quoted. But it isn't necessary now to reveal details or to describe plans for the future, as these will unfold in due time. What is vital is to know that the American viewpoint is understood and that there is no lack of information on the state of American opinion or on the views of the leaders in the United States concerning the possible direction that the Four Power Conference might conceivably take.

The pitfalls of international conferences are known only too well, and especially the danger of any formula that resembles the Yalta experience, when agreements at the top level came to such a tragic result later on. Nor is there today any thought that public opinion in any country can be ignored as heads of state reach conclusions of their own. A healthier attitude toward the idea of a four power meeting is developing at the moment primarily because those participating will necessarily be looking over their own shoulders at the reactions back home, and this does not exclude the spokesman for Soviet Russia.

Misgivings may remain and skepticism may not be erased until deeds of good faith are consummated, but there is a significant fact which stands out above all others. This is that the heads of the governments of Britain, the United States and France will enter the conference with a wholehearted desire to make it succeed and to bring about as much agreement on existing issues as is possible.

There is indeed something even more hopeful. It is the decision to explore and search for solutions without a deadline that limits the duration of the inquiry itself. There will be no feeling that only three days or three weeks have been allotted for the effort of the foreign ministers to bring about a meeting of minds. For, if agreement doesn't come at once, there is a determination to try again at another conference and another. What it means is that the world will be witnessing perhaps the most intensive effort ever made between major governments to find a common ground for adjustment of existing differences.

Once it becomes known in Moscow that there is one hundred per cent sincerity behind the Allied approach and that many fundamental questions—such as the future independence of the states often referred to as "satellites"—cannot be laid aside, the way is opened to a progressive handling of the most delicate of issues. Unification of Germany, for example, presents a problem closely related to reduction of armaments generally. This cannot be postponed, however, till the millenium comes. There have to be free elections in Germany so that a truly independent government can emerge. Certainly it is better to bring into being a unified Germany now than to let a divided Germany remain as a source of dissension in Europe.

Once an independent and reunited Germany, resulting from free elections, is a reality, the way will be opened for the ultimate restoration of independence to the other states of Europe. It is, of course, very important for the western allies not to leave the eastern European countries with a feeling that they are being neglected. On the contrary, their status will inevitably be re-examined, which in itself is a source of hope.

Sir Anthony is well aware of the enormous responsibilities just entrusted him in the domestic as well as the international sense. The election was a wholehearted vote of confidence in the Conservative government which, while not presided over any longer by Sir Winston Churchill, nevertheless benefits by the constant personal contacts between the former Prime Minister and the present incumbent.

To an American observer, however, it is good news to discover that there is such an intimate understanding in the mind of Sir Anthony Eden of the cross-currents of American opinion. For here is a man with a long and practical experience in the dilemmas that personal diplomacy faces. Nowadays all the world is frightened by the destructive power of the hydrogen bomb. Let nobody assume that the heads of state today—and this includes Russia—are unaware of the universal demand that a way must be found to keep "war as a last resort" from ever happening.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — Everybody complains about juvenile delinquency in America. But who is doing anything to reward earnest teen-age kids who do face up to their responsibilities?

Industrialist W. W. Sebald of Middletown, O., fell to brooding over this a year ago.

"I GOT TIRED of hearing about nothing but delinquent kids," he said. "We are living in flush times, and I think children are too used to taking money from their parents—too few are developing their own initiative and earning their own way.

"But it isn't enough merely to complain. We need to put a focus of attention on the kids who go out and do things for themselves."

Sebald, president of the Armco Steel Company, found his own answer in a series of "self-reliance awards" for high school seniors in Middletown and Ashland, Ky. Helped by members of the Junior Chambers of Commerce in the two towns, he has handed out $3,000 from his own pocket in prize money to some 20 students "for doing the most they can with the best they have."

THE PRIZES RANGE from $50 to $400, and they have uncovered heartening evidence of hundreds of teen-age boys and girls working hard against all kinds of handicaps to win achievement.

"We were rather surprised at the amount of self-reliance we did find," admitted Sebald, who is now ready to dig deeper into his pocket to help the idea of the contests spread to other towns.

Examples: One youngster was working 97 hours a week, and still attending school...an honor student had borrowed money to buy a farm for his father...a girl was paying all her expenses in school by holding three outside jobs at the same time...a boy, also working his way through school, still managed to contribute ten per cent of his earnings to the church he attended.

The $400 prize winner in Middletown this year, Willie Napoleon Clements, a Negro youth, worked 52 hours a week at three jobs. He delivered newspapers, worked in a wholesale produce house and clerked in a grocery store. Yet he also played on the high school football and track teams, took part in school plays, was active in his church, and was elected to the National Honor Society.

SEBALD HIMSELF is a self-made man. Starting as a $30 a month office boy with the steel company 49 years ago, he worked up through the ranks to his present post, which last year paid him $245,000.

During his own high school career he drove a laundry wagon during the day, played in a dance band at night.

"IT WASN'T a matter of necessity," he recalled. "My family was well enough off. But they never had to buy clothes after I was 13 years old. I didn't want them too. I wanted to make my own way."

Sebald would like to see other individuals and organizations do more to encourage teen-agers today who show a willingness to accept responsibility.

"Self-reliance made this country," he said. "It is a basic thing in America, and we have to preserve it."

Red Signal

Ashland, Ky. (AP)—Patrolman Calvin Hutchinson tagged a car for overtime parking, then happened to look in the open dashboard compartment. There he saw a stack of old, unpaid traffic tickets. Each was smudged with red. They had been used to blot a lady's lipstick. Hutchinson waited for the woman to appear, then escorted her to police headquarters. She forked over $14 for the old tickets, plus 25 cents for the fresh one. The department charges a maximum $1 for old tickets.

Flying Machine?

Orange, Tex. (AP)—Constable Ezra Bilbo is still trying to figure how this happened: a car hit a road repair barrier, sailed over a six-foot fence, and ended radiator-first in a mud hole. The two occupants were unhurt.

TRIUMPH FOR SANITY

The stunning election victory of British Prime Minister Eden and his Conservative party makes more secure the future of the free world coalition at a time when stability and strength in the west are of paramount importance.

Under Sir Anthony's leadership, Britain will approach sanely the delicate problem of maintaining a posture of strength while being alert to every reasonable prospect of easing world tensions.

Under Eden, too, the British will cooperate earnestly and sincerely with the United States and yet show no mark of subservience.

The Prime Minister must be credited with having pulled off a shrewd gamble. The Conservatives could have retained power another year without an election. Sir Anthony chose instead to try to capitalize on Labor party divisions and other factors to win now a new five-year hold on the government.

Nearly every factor of consequence seemed to be tipped in Eden's favor. Britain is enjoying unexampled prosperity. It is closer now than at any time to regaining its old, solid economic stature in the world.

In the sphere of foreign affairs, they have the hope that Eden's acknowledged skill and experience may help lead the west to some sort of settlement with the Soviet Union. Four-power talks appear definitely slated for this summer, and that assurance cannot have hurt the Conservatives at the polls.

In contrast, the Labor party is at its lowest ebb in many years. The six years it held power from 1945 to 1951 appeared to sap it of all imagination and inspiration. One may fairly say that the party today is bankrupt of new ideas and programs.

On the domestic scene, Labor could offer no more than a resumption of gradual nationalization of industries. There was no sign the British people had any faith such a course would maintain or extend their economic gains.

In foreign affairs, the most moderate elements of the Labor party undoubtedly would have followed a line close to the Conservative one. But in an effort to suggest important differences with their opponents, the Laborites recklessly drummed on fears of the H-bomb. In so doing they merely emphasized the emptiness of their own approach.

They were especially handicapped by the usual rantings of Aneurin Bevan, the party's left-wing leader. By mouthing anti-American sentiments at top lung power, he suggested strongly that a Labor party in power would not find it easy to cooperate with Britain's greatest ally, the United States.

The disrupted, mentally barren Labor party was found wanting by British voters. Instead they have put their fresh stamp of approval on a Conservative party that has proved itself in office and promises much for the future—a party that is enlivened by young blood, by vibrant imagination, and by a capacity for achieving stability while still moving ahead in an anxious world.

HOW TO WIN BUS RIDERS

The unending battle between public transportation and the automobile makes street cars and buses think up new devices to win customers. In Cincinnati the bus company has worked out a scheme in cooperation with the stores. They are featuring Downtown Discovery Days. Pink buses in the downtown areas, with guides, take their riders to special displays.

Work of local artists set up in a park is one objective. If it rains, a nearby office building is used. A large square in a central location will offer a flower show. The stores come in by presenting shoppers' contests with prizes. The program constantly varies.

All these serve to keep public transportation in the minds of the might-be riders.

THE TEDDY BOYS

LONDON, MAY 24—The zoot suit has made its appearance in London, and those who wear them are called Teddy boys. Such a queer name comes to them because actually the zoot suit was worn in early Edward the VII days: tight trouser, long coats, shirts with ruffles, brilliantly fancy waist-coats and a feminine devotion to the hair.

Unfortunately many of the Teddy boys are gangsters and killers and their dress is a uniform. Others are only imitators. Those I saw did not look so terrible, but a switch knife can do as much mischief in an Edwardian masquerade as in a Bronx gang fight.

The British police are not as tough as ours, carry no guns or nightsticks and are accustomed to an orderly people who take them seriously. The Teddy boys do not take the police seriously because the sentences meted out to them are light by any standards. This is one vice which cannot be laid to the American movies. If any American dressed like one of these Teddy boys, he would be razzed off the sidewalks and the likelihood is that someone would take a poke at him. British freedom, however, does not intervene in matters of personal taste.

I watched a few of these Teddy boys cavorting and one can only hope that they are not what they seem to be, because they do occasionally kill if interfered with. I like a gangster to look like one, ferocious and tough. A zoot suit never made anyone look tough. It only makes him look untidy.

These boys are not a product of war. They are just bad boys. They are not a result of underprivilege; for too many years in England everybody was underprivileged. They are a product of some wild idea of the upper crust that was aped by these kids. In England juvenile delinquency exists and it has its own form and is clothed in an Edwardian zoot suit. Frankly, it looks awful.

Maybe the appearance of these gangs is a reaction to British orderliness. It is a voluntary orderliness. There are not enough nor modernly efficient agencies to maintain law and order. It is a laissez-faire sort of thing, depending upon the individual more than upon the police. Maybe these zoot-suited kids just want to be disorderly because they are tired of every Englishman doing his duty. That too can be a bore.

I use an electric razor and so I looked for a plug in the bathroom where most Americans shave to the tune of a running shower. There was no plug.

I rang for the valet who, I assumed, looked after such things. He hurriedly got a transformer to fix the voltage but he plugged it into the bedroom wall next to a lad's dressing-table which no American man would use except for cigar butts.

I asked why it could not be done in the bathroom. The valet replied so proudly, it was almost a salute: "Not in England, sir. We do not mix water and electricity."

Being a good American, I would have offered the fellow a buck to fix me up the way I am accustomed to shave, standing on my feet and looking into a mirror. But his righteousness was so complete that I dared not offer him a buck or sixpence or whatever those enormous metal coins are:

I stepped back and nearly saluted him. But class distinction overcame me and I bowed to my superiors. Millions of us mix water and electricity and do not get electrocuted, but in England, where law and order is a habit, it just isn't done.

I could not help wondering if the Teddy boys will not take to shaving with an electric razor in the bathroom just to prove that law and order is really un-British. I could not help thinking of this orderly valet when I saw these imitation tough guys all dressed up like actors in a play or somebody like that. There is another point about it. The British voice is very gentle and soft, even when it is loud. Can you imagine a Bronx zoot-suiter speaking in the soft tones of a Teddy boy from Camden Town? Still, if one uses a switch blade, it doesn't matter much what the voice is like.

That Body of Yours

OUR ACCIDENT RATE

In the three seconds it will take you to read this sentence, somewhere in the United States (and Canada) somebody has been seriously hurt in an accident. During the next five minutes, someone will be killed in an accident. More Americans have been killed in traffic accidents than in all the nation's wars.

To put it another way, every year in the United States between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 people are accidentally injured — about 300,000 of them permanently disabled — and between 90,000 and 100,000 are accidentally killed. For many years the accident death rate remained almost constant at about 72 deaths per 100,000 population. When the death rate from one kind of accident declines, it appears to rise at other points. For example, during World War 2, when auto driving was restricted, the motor vehicle accident death rate declined. At the same time, the industrial and military training accident death rate increased so that the over-all rates were just about the same during the war years as before.

We often think of accidents in terms of catastrophies — accidents in which five or more lives are lost. However, a careful record reveals that only about 10 per cent of the headline deaths are due to the uncontrollable forces of nature, such as floods, hurricanes, tornadoes and the like. The other 90 per cent are the result of some kind of human failure or neglect. That is why it has been often stated, without serious challenge, that 90 per cent of all accidents are preventable.

Leaving traffic deaths aside for the moment, let us consider the fact that over half the fatal accidents that take place at home involve people over 65-years-of-age and one-fifth happen to children under five. Falls are the principal type of fatal home accidents and every home should be checked for accident hazards — poor lighting, unsafe electrical fixtures, stairways without railings, slippery floors, scatter rugs that slip underfoot, and bundles and objects lying on floors and staircases.

The kitchen is the most dangerous room in the house, according to accident injury records. Other danger spots, in order of accident frequency, are outside stairs, inside stairs, living room, porch, bedroom, basement, dining room, bathroom and hallways. Comparatively few fatal accidents, except for carbon monoxide poisoning, occur in the garage, but the outside yard is just as dangerous as the kitchen.

Much thought has been given to the prevention of accidents in industry so that now more people are killed working on farms than working in factories. Each of us can do something about safety engineering in our home by becoming conscious of those things about us which may lead to an accident and eliminating them promptly. If we just remember that falls are the most frequent type of fatal home accident, we can keep mind and eyes alert for such hazards.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The U. S. budget could be balanced easily if all the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Organization of Government were followed. Not only that—there would also be a surplus for the first time since 1951. And taxes might be cut.

These potential savings are indicated as the nonpartisan group headed by ex-President Herbert Hoover passes the halfway point on the 20 reports it is issuing this year.

They will show where government expenses could be cut and how government efficiency could be increased.

On the first 11 reports issued so far, net savings on an annual basis of over a billion and a half dollars have been indicated. Since the nine reports still to come cover bigger items of expense, the total possible savings annually could be well over the three-billion dollar mark.

The anticipated budget deficit for the government's fiscal year beginning July 1 is two and a half billion. For the year ending June 30 it will be between four and five billion.

THE POSSIBLE ANNUAL SAVINGS which the Hoover reports have so far revealed are: Reduction of paperwork, 225 million dollars. Medical services, 293 million. Lending agencies, 200 million. Transportation, 151 million. Food and clothing purchases, 340 million. Warehousing, 282 million.

Two major provisional savings have also been listed.

If the government's employe turnover rate could be reduced from 26 to 20 per cent a year, annual savings of 60 million dollars could be made.

The second conditional saving is a little more complicated. The government—principally Department of Defense—now declares surplus about two billion dollars' worth of supplies a year. In selling these surpluses, the government gets from five to seven cents on the dollar of original cost.

If the government could increase this by one cent on each dollar's worth of surplus sold, the increased return would be 20 million dollars a year. If the return could be increased by five cents on the dollar, the return to the treasury would be 100 million dollars.

There is a third major field of possible savings known as "one-shot" economies. This is to distinguish them from the recurring annual savings. One-shot savings would merely reduce the national debt.

FOR INSTANCE, if the government liquidated some of its lending agencies and government corporations and returned their capital funds to the treasury, some five billion dollars might be recovered.

This figure is the total of one-shot savings indicated in the first ten Hoover report recommendations. For the entire 20 reports being issued this year, President Hoover has indicated the total recommended capital fund saving might be seven billion.

From this curtailment of government programs there might be further annual reduction of expense. Naturally, if the government stopped doing any of its numerous activities, it would reduce expenditures. But this would not show on the books as a saving.

This recommended curtailment of government activities has put the Hoover Commission in more hot water than it has been before. It involves such popular programs as government housing loans, farm loans, rural electrification and telephone loans and Tennessee Valley Authority activities. Also many business-type enterprises which bureaucrats consider essential.

Some of the Hoover recommendations in this field go so far as to be in conflict with expressed Eisenhower administration and Republican platform policies. This has caused the White House and some of the executive departments considerable embarrassment.

THE HOOVER COMMISSION answer to this point is that it was not created to defend anyone's policies. It was set up by law to show where savings might be made and more efficiency achieved. It is bipartisan in make-up and nonpartisan in objectives.

So far, the first ten Hoover reports have made 221 recommendations. Twenty of them could be carried out by presidential executive order. Eighty-four could be carried out by administrative action in the government agencies.

But 117 of the recommendations will require action by Congress to change existing law. Mr. Hoover thinks nine or ten omnibus bills might cover the field.

So far only one bill—to reorganize government legal services—has been introduced in Congress. Others are in preparation and may be filed soon. But Reorganization Act authority has been extended to June 1, 1957.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

London, May 31—Allied solidarity, which is so essential to the United States and Great Britain in dealing with the delicate problems of the world, was never as strong as it is today in the all-important period of preparation for the Four Power Conference between the heads of state.

This correspondent had an opportunity to lunch and then to talk alone for an hour with Prime Minister Eden at his country place over the weekend holiday, and the net impression is that the governments of the United States and Great Britain understand each other thoroughly "at the summit."

The Prime Minister doesn't give interviews, and what he says in a private chat cannot be quoted. But it isn't necessary now to reveal details or to describe plans for the future, as these will unfold in due time. What is vital is to know that the American viewpoint is understood and that there is no lack of information on the state of American opinion or on the views of the leaders in the United States concerning the possible direction that the Four Power Conference might conceivably take.

The pitfalls of international conferences are known only too well, and especially the danger of any formula that resembles the Yalta experience, when agreements at the top level came to such a tragic result later on. Nor is there today any thought that public opinion in any country can be ignored as heads of state reach conclusions of their own. A healthier attitude toward the idea of a four power meeting is developing at the moment primarily because those participating will necessarily be looking over their own shoulders at the reactions back home, and this does not exclude the spokesman for Soviet Russia.

Misgivings may remain and skepticism may not be erased until deeds of good faith are consummated, but there is a significant fact which stands out above all others. This is that the heads of the governments of Britain, the United States and France will enter the conference with a wholehearted desire to make it succeed and to bring about as much agreement on existing issues as is possible.

There is indeed something even more hopeful. It is the decision to explore and search for solutions without a deadline that limits the duration of the inquiry itself. There will be no feeling that only three days or three weeks have been allotted for the effort of the foreign ministers to bring about a meeting of minds. For, if agreement doesn't come at once, there is determination to try again a another conference and ar other. What it means is tha the world will be witnessin perhaps the most intensive ei fort ever made between majo governments to find a commo ground for adjustment of exist ing differences.

Once it becomes known i Moscow that there is one hun dred per cent sincerity behin the Allied approach and tha many fundamental questions—such as the future independenc of the states often referred t as "satellites"—cannot be lai aside, the way is opened to progressive handling of th most delicate of issues. Unifica tion of Germany, for example presents a problem closely re lated to reduction of armament generally. This cannot be post poned, however, till the mil lenium comes. There have to b free elections in Germany s that a truly independent gov ernment can emerge. Certainly it is better to bring into being a unified Germany now than t let a divided Germany remain as a source of dissension in Europe.

Once an independent and reunited Germany, resulting from free elections, is a reality, the way will be opened for the ultimate restoration of independence to the other states of Europe. It is, of course, very important for the western allies not to leave the eastern European countries with a feeling that they are being neglected. On the contrary, their status will inevitably be re-examined, which in itself is a source of hope.

Sir Anthony is well aware of the enormous responsibilities just entrusted him in the domestic as well as the international sense. The election was a wholehearted vote of confidence in the Conservative government which, while not presided over any longer by Sir Winston Churchill, nevertheless benefits by the constant personal contacts between the former Prime Minister and the present incumbent.

To an American observer, however, it is good news to discover that there is such an intimate understanding in the mind of Sir Anthony Eden of the cross-currents of American opinion. For here is a man with a long and practical experience in the dilemmas that personal diplomacy faces. Nowadays all the world is frightened by the destructive power of the hydrogen bomb. Let nobody assume that the heads of state today—and this includes Russia—are unaware of the universal demand that a way must be found to keep "war as a last resort" from ever happening.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP) — Everybody complains about juvenile delinquency in America. But who is doing anything to reward earnest teen-age kids who do face up to their responsibilities?

Industrialist W. W. Sebald of Middletown, O., fell to brooding over this a year ago.

"I GOT TIRED of hearing about nothing but delinquent kids," he said. "We are living in flush times, and I think children are too used to taking money from their parents—too few are developing their own initiative and earning their own way.

"But it isn't enough merely to complain. We need to put a focus of attention on the kids who go out and do things for themselves."

Sebald, president of the Armco Steel Company, found his own answer in a series of "self-reliance awards" for high school seniors in Middletown and Ashland, Ky. Helped by members of the Junior Chambers of Commerce in the two towns, he has handed out $3,000 from his own pocket in prize money to some 20 students "for doing the most they can with the best they have."

THE PRIZES RANGE from $50 to $400, and they have uncovered heartening evidence of hundreds of teen-age boys and girls working hard against all kinds of handicaps to win achievement.

"We were rather surprised at the amount of self-reliance we did find," admitted Sebald, who is now ready to dig deeper into his pocket to help the idea of the contests spread to other towns.

Examples: One youngster was working 97 hours a week, and still attending school...an honor student had borrowed money to buy a farm for his father...a girl was paying all her expenses in school by holding three outside jobs at the same time...a boy, also working his way through school, still managed to contribute ten per cent of his earnings to the church he attended.

The $400 prize winner in Middletown this year, Willie Napoleon Clements, a Negro youth, worked 52 hours a week at three jobs. He delivered newspapers, worked in a wholesale produce house and clerked in a grocery store. Yet he also played on the high school football and track teams, took part in school plays, was active in his church, and was elected to the National Honor Society.

SEBALD HIMSELF is a self-made man. Starting as a $30 a month office boy with the steel company 49 years ago, he worked up through the ranks to his present post, which last year paid him $245,000.

During his own high school career he drove a laundry wagon during the day, played in a dance band at night.

"IT WASN'T a matter of necessity," he recalled. "My family was well enough off. But they never had to buy clothes after I was 13 years old. I didn't want them too. I wanted to make my own way."

Sebald would like to see other individuals and organizations do more to encourage teen-agers today who show a willingness to accept responsibility.

"Self-reliance made this country," he said. "It is a basic thing in America, and we have to preserve it."

Red Signal

Ashland, Ky. (AP)—Patrolman Calvin Hutchinson tagged a car for overtime parking, then happened to look in the open dashboard compartment. There he saw a stack of old, unpaid traffic tickets. Each was smudged with red. They had been used to blot a lady's lipstick. Hutchinson waited for the woman to appear, then escorted her to police headquarters. She forked over $14 for the old tickets, plus 25 cents for the fresh one. The department charges a maximum $1 for old tickets.

Flying Machine?

Orange, Tex. (AP)—Constable Ezra Bilbo is still trying to figure how this happened: a car hit a road repair barrier, sailed over a six-foot fence, and ended radiator-first in a mud hole. The two occupants were unhurt.

Turn on the Heat

West Point, Va. (AP)—The traffic tie-up at the bridge over the Pamunkey river was a heated affair. The temperature was 90 degrees. A boat tooted its horn. The bridge tender tried to raise the drawbridge. The heat-expanded beams jammed. Highway traffic piled up at either end. Men with blow torches shaved off bits of the expanded beams in an hour and fifteen minutes. Highway and river traffic resumed. Driver temperatures subsided.

Prevent mildew of dampened clothes by storing them in the refrigerator until time to iron them. They will also iron easier.

Man Called Suicide After Shooting Attempt

Rushville, May 31 (AP)—Delbert Rohring, a 31-year-old mental patient, was found shot to death in his automobile yesterday about 13 hours after police said he attempted to ambush his estranged wife. The woman was uninjured.

Police said Rohring hid in some bushes and fired several shots from a .22 caliber rifle at his wife, Jane, 29, late Sunday night as she was returning to her home from her job as a waitress in a Canandaigua restaurant.

He was found by picnickers in his parked auto on a road about five miles south of here.

Yates county Coroner Dr. F. M. Chaffee said he would issue a certificate of suicide.

Police said Rohring was on a weekend pass from the Rochester State Hospital and had come here to visit his wife and some relatives.

They said Rohring entered the Willard State Hospital voluntarily about five months ago and was transferred to the Rochester institution in April.

Long Operation

Burlington, Vt., May 31 (AP)—Six-year-old Christian Gearwear of Long Lake, N. Y., today was reported in "serious but not critical" condition after a 14½ hour operation to set several fractures. The youngster was struck by an automobile near Long Lake Sunday and rushed to Mary Fletcher Hospital yesterday by boat and ambulance. The surgeon who operated on the youngster requested that his name be withheld. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearwear, suffered a fractured jaw and other facial injuries, a broken left leg, chest injuries, a severely cut scalp and a left eye injury.

Sketches Are Not Final in Air Academy Plans

Washington, May 28 (AP) — The air force said today a sketch of an ultramodern building, labeled as a design for the chapel at the air academy to be built in Colorado, is something an artist might whip up but not the actual blueprint for a church.

Sketches labeled as prospective designs for the multimillion dollar academy buidings have run into some criticism following an unveiling in Colorado Springs May 14.

Architect Frank Lloyd Wright said after seeing drawings that such buildings probably would be dubbed "a factory for birdmen." Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) said the chapel model as shown at Colorado Springs had the appearance of an "assembly of wigwams."

IN ANSWER to questions about this and other criticism, an air force spokesman said today that the chapel sketch "is nothing more than an artist's conception."

He said it definitely is not "the design of a chapel" because the air force will not decide upon an actual design "for at least a year."

He also said there "is no such thing as discussing a redesign" for the chapel because there have been no formal plans drawn for one.

In Denver yesterday Gov. Ed Johnson said Robertson told him the design of the chapel would be one of the main items considered at meetings soon in Washington.

ROBERTSON, member of a military subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee, said he understood that Air Secretary Harold Talbott is calling in the "best experts" in the nation to consider design.

The air force school will take rank alongside army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis academy. It is to be constructed in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains between Colorado Springs and Denver.

Foundation Urges Firms Back Education

New York, May 31 (AP)—The Ford Foundation reports a growing trend among business firms to support "educational activities not directly related to the corporations' business interests."

This is "particularly encouraging," the foundation said in its annual report yesterday. However, it added, private and corporate donors must raise their level of giving "for private institutions to fulfill adequately their appropriate role in our national life."

"At the same time," it continued, "the criteria for giving should be importance, not popularity, and need, not safety from criticism."

The report, signed by President H. Rowan Gaither, Jr., commented that "support for education amounts to an inadequate 2.4 per cent of the gross national product at the very time the nation's educational needs are approaching a new peak."

The foundation said its grants totaled $49,438,599 for the first nine months of 1954, the period covered by the annual statement because of a change in its bookkeeping.

Hearings Are Listed In Worker Safety Plan

New York, May 31 (AP)—The State Labor Department's Board of Standards and Appeals plans a series of statewide public hearings in its program to speed up a simplified program of worker safety regulations.

The plans were announced last night by the head of the board, Rear Adm. William S. Maxwell (Ret.). He said statewide hearings on three codes will be held in June, and at least three more during July and August.

Hearings on the code rule covering fire-resistive materials are scheduled for New York city June 6, Albany June 7 and Buffalo June 9.

Hearing on the rules relating to automatic sprinklers and to mercantile establishments will start in New York city June 20 and will continue on successive days in Albany, Rochester and Buffalo.

The July and August hearings, for which no dates and places have been set, will relate to factory building exits, removal of dusts, gases and fumes, and industrial spray coatings.

Plaque Dedicated To 4 Heroic Chaplains

Wakefield, Mass., May 31 (AP)—Members of Temple Emmanuel dedicated a plaque yesterday to the four heroic chaplains of three faiths who perished with their hands clasped together when the troopship Dorchester sank during World War 2.

The plaque memorializes the heroic sacrifice of Rabbi Alexander D. Goode of York, Pa., the Rev. John P. Washington, Catholic priest from Arlington, N. J., the Rev. Clark V. Poling, Baptist minister of Schenectady, N. Y., and the Rev. George C. Fox, Methodist minister of Cambridge, Vt.

Among the 300 present at the dedication were Clark V. Poling Jr., 14, and Susan Poling, 12, children of the late Rev. Poling; Mrs. Isadore Fox and Mrs. Mary Murray, widow and daughter of the late Rex. Fox, and Mrs. Hyman Goode of Rockaway Beach, N. Y., mother of Rabbi Goode.

Speedboat Goes Out of Control Leaps to Dock

Buffalo, May. 31 (AP)—A racing speedboat injured three young boys and sent several persons splashing into Delaware Park Lake yesterday when it ran out of control and skipped off the lake into a crowd of about 50 spectators on the bank.

Several adults and some children fell into the lake when the metal hydroplane jumped a two-foot embankment and sent the crowd scurrying for safety.

Fred P. Matthews of Watervliet, the driver of the hydroplane, was unhurt. He said he lost control of the boat when it was rounding a turn in the first heat of a race for Class C service runabouts.

Terrence Brown, 14, was admitted to a hospital with a fractured leg. Treated for minor injuries were Philip Scoma, 14, and Thomas Costello, 15.

"I don't really know what happened," Matthews said. "I was driving in third place, rounding the curve. I heard the boat hit something solid and she started skipping and went out of control as I hit swells in the water. The boat headed straight for the shore."

Heel Brings Arrest As Burglary Suspect

New York, May 31 (AP) — A tell-tale rubber heel brought about the arrest of a 38-year-old laborer last night on charges of burglary and assault, police said.

The suspect was identified as Neil De Luca. Police said he admitted being an ex-convict.

He was charged with burglarizing the office of J. Wilfrid Gagen, public relations consultant, at 15 E. 48th street.

Police gave this account:

Gagen, returning with his wife, Mary, from a weekend at Cape Cod, decided to drop in at his office about 9:30 p. m. before going to their home at 830 Palmer Road, Bronxville, N. Y.

In the office he found the lights burning and a man standing inside. As he asked the man what he was doing there, a second man appeared and knocked Gagen to the floor. The two fled.

Before he and his wife followed, Gagen picked up a rubber heel he found on the office floor. Gagen then pursued the two to Madison avenue and 49th street, where they separated, while his wife waited in front of the office building calling for police.

As one of the two escaped, Gagen pursued him for several blocks in the midtown area and finally hailed a taxicab. At 47th street and Sixth avenue, as the public relations man was about to stop De Luca from climbing into a second cab, Patrolman O'Neill arrived.

De Luca denied being in Gagen's office, but the heel of his right shoe was missing, and the heel found in the office fitted his shoe.

Gagen, who suffered a bruised mouth, said he would be treated by his own physician.

Miss Laura Christenson, who spent the holiday weekend with her nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Whittaker and family at their home on Salem street, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hinz and daughter Linda Ann of Jersey City, N. J., are the guests of Mrs. Hinz's mother Mrs. Eltinge A. Ellsworth at her home on Green street.

Mrs. Kathryn Albrecht and daughter Karen Ann Albrecht and Dianne Haslan of Kingston were the Decoration Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Deyo.

Boy Scouts of Troop 26 will meet at the Boy Scout room in the Reformed Church at 7:30 p. m., today with Robert Freer as Scoutmaster.

Donald K. Deyo, Sr., who has been a patient at the Albany General Hospital has returned to his home on Broadway.

Troop 30, Girl Scouts, will meet at the Presentation Parish Hall at 6:30 p. m. today with Miss Marge Costello as leader and Miss Delores Bashnagel and Miss Marie Dempsey as co-leaders.

Troop 61, Brownies, will meet at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday with Mrs. Joseph Fabysack as leader.

The monthly meeting of the Port Ewen Fire Department will be held at the firehouse at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Donald K. Deyo, Jr., who has been visiting his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Short in Newburgh has returned home.

Flushing Man New State Deputy Of KC Council

Saratoga Spring, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Frank D. J. Flanagan of Flushing will take office July 1 as head of the New York State Council, Knights of Columbus.

Flanagan was elected state deputy Saturday at the annual convention. He succeeds Dennis Mansfield of Saratoga Springs, who had held the post for the last two years.

J. William Leary of Massena was named state secretary.

Also elected were: Philip J. Burns of New York city, treasurer; Thomas M. Russell of New York city, advocate, and Louis G. Culhane of New York city, warden.

Eight men will represent the State Council at the national convention in Philadelphia this summer. Elected as delegates were: George W. Scheidemann and Joseph V. Colaio, both of New York city; John D. Higgins of Valley Stream; John J. Bohuslaw of Bay Shore; John B. McGowan of Poughkeepsie; W. Clancy Harrington of Dunkirk; William Conway of Mt. Vernon, and Frank Fitzpatrick of Waterford.

Debbie Denies Her Fisher Romance Ends

Honolulu, May 31 (AP)—Film actress Debbie Reynolds says there is no truth to reports her romance with Eddie Fisher is ended. She blamed Hollywood columnist Sheila Graham for what she termed "this rumor."

"She must have to make news," speculated the actress who arrived today after a tour of military bases in the Far East.

"It was awfully unkind. I am very hurt.

"Eddie and I are very much in love," she said in a telephone interview.

"It's tough enough to live a normal life. I'm so upset. It isn't true. I don't know why Sheila did it."

Man Called Suicide After Shooting Attempt

Rushville, May 31 (AP)—Delbert Rohring, a 31-year-old mental patient, was found shot to death in his automobile yesterday about 13 hours after police said he attempted to ambush his estranged wife. The woman was uninjured.

Police said Rohring hid in some bushes and fired several shots from a .22 caliber rifle at his wife, Jane, 29, late Sunday night as she was returning to her home from her job as a waitress in a Canandaigua restaurant.

He was found by picnickers in his parked auto on a road about five miles south of here.

Yates county Coroner Dr. F. M. Chaffee said he would issue a certificate of suicide.

Police said Rohring was on a weekend pass from the Rochester State Hospital and had come here to visit his wife and some relatives.

They said Rohring entered the Willard State Hospital voluntarily about five months ago and was transferred to the Rochester institution in April.

Long Operation

Burlington, Vt., May 31 (AP)—Six-year-old Christian Gearwear of Long Lake, N. Y., today was reported in "serious but not critical" condition after a 14½ hour operation to set several fractures. The youngster was struck by an automobile near Long Lake Sunday and rushed to Mary Fletcher Hospital yesterday by boat and ambulance. The surgeon who operated on the youngster requested that his name be withheld. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearwear, suffered a fractured jaw and other facial injuries, a broken left leg, chest injuries, a severely cut scalp and a left eye injury.

Sketches Are Not Final in Air Academy Plans

Washington, May 28 (AP) — The air force said today a sketch of an ultramodern building, labeled as a design for the chapel at the air academy to be built in Colorado, is something an artist might whip up but not the actual blueprint for a church.

Sketches labeled as prospective designs for the multimillion dollar academy buidings have run into some criticism following an unveiling in Colorado Springs May 14.

Architect Frank Lloyd Wright said after seeing drawings that such buildings probably would be dubbed "a factory for birdmen." Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) said the chapel model as shown at Colorado Springs had the appearance of an "assembly of wigwams."

IN ANSWER to questions about this and other criticism, an air force spokesman said today that the chapel sketch "is nothing more than an artist's conception."

He said it definitely is not "the design of a chapel" because the air force will not decide upon an actual design "for at least a year."

He also said there "is no such thing as discussing a redesign" for the chapel because there have been no formal plans drawn for one.

In Denver yesterday Gov. Ed Johnson said Robertson told him the design of the chapel would be one of the main items considered at meetings soon in Washington.

ROBERTSON, member of a military subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee, said he understood that Air Secretary Harold Talbott is calling in the "best experts" in the nation to consider design.

The air force school will take rank alongside army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis academy. It is to be constructed in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains between Colorado Springs and Denver.

Foundation Urges Firms Back Education

New York, May 31 (AP)—The Ford Foundation reports a growing trend among business firms to support "educational activities not directly related to the corporations' business interests."

This is "particularly encouraging," the foundation said in its annual report yesterday. However, it added, private and corporate donors must raise their level of giving "for private institutions to fulfill adequately their appropriate role in our national life."

"At the same time," it continued, "the criteria for giving should be importance, not popularity, and need, not safety from criticism."

The report, signed by President H. Rowan Gaither, Jr., commented that "support for education amounts to an inadequate 2.4 per cent of the gross national product at the very time the nation's educational needs are approaching a new peak."

The foundation said its grants totaled $49,438,599 for the first nine months of 1954, the period covered by the annual statement because of a change in its bookkeeping.

Hearings Are Listed In Worker Safety Plan

New York, May 31 (AP)—The State Labor Department's Board of Standards and Appeals plans a series of statewide public hearings in its program to speed up a simplified program of worker safety regulations.

The plans were announced last night by the head of the board, Rear Adm. William S. Maxwell (Ret.). He said statewide hearings on three codes will be held in June, and at least three more during July and August.

Hearings on the code rule covering fire-resistive materials are scheduled for New York city June 6, Albany June 7 and Buffalo June 9.

Hearing on the rules relating to automatic sprinklers and to mercantile establishments will start in New York city June 20 and will continue on successive days in Albany, Rochester and Buffalo.

The July and August hearings, for which no dates and places have been set, will relate to factory building exits, removal of dusts, gases and fumes, and industrial spray coatings.

Plaque Dedicated To 4 Heroic Chaplains

The plaque memorializes the heroic sacrifice of Rabbi Alexander D. Goode of York, Pa., the Rev. John P. Washington, Catholic priest from Arlington, N. J., the Rev. Clark V. Poling, Baptist minister of Schenectady, N. Y., and the Rev. George C. Fox, Methodist minister of Cambridge, Vt.

Among the 300 present at the dedication were Clark V. Poling Jr., 14, and Susan Poling, 12, children of the late Rev. Poling; Mrs. Isadore Fox and Mrs. Mary Murray, widow and daughter of the late Rex. Fox, and Mrs. Hyman Goode of Rockaway Beach, N. Y., mother of Rabbi Goode.

The woman, delighted at the prompt return of her property, offered the boy a shilling for his trouble. The lad refused to accept it, telling her he was a Boy Scout, and that no member of the Boy Scouts is allowed to accept any return for a service rendered.

Just as she was about to put the coin back in her purse, the boy, looking up into her face, suddenly blurted out: "But my wee brither's nae Scout."

When formed, the territory of Idaho contained 10 mining towns, 20,000 people and four counties.

VICTOR YOUNG, the composer of the new musical, "Seventh Heaven," thinks there's too much of a split between classical and popular music. He says there's no reason why musicians shouldn't be able to work in both fields.

"But they rarely can," he says. "Look at me—I started as a classical violinist. But there's no money in that, so I decided to try pop. Couldn't get a job—I was typed as a longhair."

Then, one night, Young stood under a lamppost and wrote a song that became "Sweet Sue." That got him into pop music in a big way.

"And now I'm known as a pop musician," he says. "Can't get anybody to play some of the classical things I write. Classical musicians think of me strictly as a pop man. It's terrible."

Ask almost anybody around Broadway who's the best actress nowadays, and five out of six will say , "Julie Harris." The sixth will say "Sarah Bernhardt," but he's a little slow.

Miss Harris is currently sitting in New York, awaiting two events — first, a baby, and second, the premiere of a movie she made in Europe called "I Am a Camera." The movie is based on her big stage hit of two years ago. She's awaiting the premiere with mixed emotions, because she goes through a strange experience when she sees herself on the screen.

"I squirm and I itch," she says, "I can't stand it. I say to myself, 'if that woman says another word I'll scream.' I just want to rush up and tear the screen off."

This is because she is a perfectionist. On the stage, she can always try to do better tomorrow, but once a film is finished it's finished. And, as she watches herself, she sees so many places where (she thinks) she could have done it better. It's happened with her previous films, like the remarkable "East of Eden," so she says there's no reason it shouldn't happen again.

Her career has been marked by incredible changes of pace. Just before she played the sadly sophisticated heroine in "I Am a Camera," she played a child in "Member of the Wedding." It was a complete about-face (and, also, about-body) that made most theatre-goers cheer.

"I like to try things I can't do," says Julie. "After 'Member,' I got the script for 'Camera.' The part was older, sophisticated, worldly. I said to myself, 'I can't do it.' But I wanted to try."

Next to her schedule of trying things she can't do is another entirely different part. Next fall, on Broadway, she'll star in "The Lark," by the French playwright, Jean Anouilh, adapted by Lillian Hellman. This is a new version of the Joan of Arc story, with Boris Karloff playing the inquisitor.

"Every actress wants to play Joan," Julie says, "just as every playwright wants to write about her. I've played a sinner; now I'll play a saint."

MODENA NEWS

Rural Life Sunday Scheduled June 5

Modena, May 28 — A Rural Life Sunday celebration is scheduled for Sunday, June 5, in the Modena Methodist Church. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, historian for the Centennial Celebration of the Modena Methodist Church, will speak on historic lore he has gathered on "Church and Community Life in Modena's History." It is interesting to note, in connection with the interest shown in the historic celebration of our church organization, of a scrap of political information regarding the town's history as follows: The Town of Plattekill was organized on April 7, 1800. Prior to that time, it was part of the Town of Marlborough. A part of Shawangunk was annexed April 3, 1846, but restored March 28, 1848.

The town covers an area of 20,890 acres. Assessed valuation in 1927 was $433,396.00. There are 72 miles of highways in the town, exclusive of state highways and the thruway. An amusing note, the highways of the town, if connected together would reach from Plattekill to New York city. Members of Congress in 1836, included John C. Brodhead, (apparently the one mentioned in the History of Methodist in Modena, appearing recently in the Freeman); State Senator Abraham A. Deyo, 1846; Members of Assembly, Jasper Cropsey, 1826, David L. Bernard, 1839, Charles Drake, 1845, Albert Carpenter, 1856; Sheriff-1825, John C. Brodhead. A list of supervisors of the town, since its organization, follows: David Ostrander, 1800-1803; Stephen Nottingham, 1804-1808; Robert Gilmore, 1809-1811; Andrew Garrison 1812-1816; John Hait, Jr., 1817-1822; John C. Brodhead, 1823-24; Joshua Garrison, 1825-26; John Everett 1827-1830; (Break from 1831-1834, inclusive); Abram A. Deyo, 1835-39; John Everett, 1840; Abram A. Deyo, 1841-42; Josiah LeFevre 1843-44; John B. Morrison, 1845-46; Abram G. Munson, 1847; Timothy Seymour, 1848-49; John Everett 1850; Oscar Hasbrouck, 1851-52; Thaddeus Hait, 1853-54; Thomas H. Skidmore, 1855-57; Ira H. Elting, 1858-59; Thaddeus Hait, 1860-72; John B. Gerow, 1873; John J. Hait, 1874; John B. Gerow, 1875; Richard Garrison, 1876; John J. Hait, 1877-78; John B. Gerow, 1879-1886; Hallock W. Sutton, 1887-1888; Solomon P. Thorne, 1889-1890; John B. Gerow, 1891-1895; Wiliam H. Fowler, 1896-1903; John J. Hait, 1904-05; George Nabor, 1906-7; William S. Hartshorn, 1908-17; William E. Harcourt, 1918-1919; James H. Heaton, 1920-27; Peter Wilkins, 1928-1931; Paul W. Weber, 1931-33; Peter Wilkins, 1933-36; Harry D. Sutton, 1936-1948; Eber H. Coy, 1948-55.

An addition has been made to the Crane home in town, with Fred and Harold Bernard in charge of the work.

Nancy Jean Black, sophomore at the Wallkill Central School, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Black of this village, received a cash award as the winner in a high-school-wide spelling contest, conducted recently at the school. One hundred written words from a 1500 word list were given to all pupils from grades 7-13, by the Principal Robert J. Robinson, with teachers serving as a panel of judges.

Susan Jean McPhillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McPhillips of Montgomery, N. Y. and Cheryl Lynn McQuiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron McQuiston, of North Plank road, Newburgh, were among entrants in the baby Contest conducted recently in Newburgh. Susan's mother is the former Barbara DuBois of Modena, and Cheryl Lynn's mother is the former Louise Williams, also of this place.

Approximately $75 was netted from the card and game party held Thursday evening of the past week, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, under the direction of the Republican Club of the town of Plattekill. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena and Harry Jenkins of Clintondale.

The May meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild, scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 17, and postponed owing to the death of Rulieof Ward, was held Tuesday evening May 24, at the home of Muriel Ward in Modena. Attending were Alison Swords, Marian Jensen, Ethel Hyatt, Flo Hyatt (Clintondale) and Celia Tice. During the business session, the annual election of officers was made as follows: president, Celia Tice; vice-president, Jean Crane; secretary, Murial Ward; promotion secretary, Marie Winters; coordinator, Alison Swords; treasurer, Flo Hyatt; Marian Jensen gave a report on the attendance at the recent Guild Conference in Middletown; it was decided to omit the second annual strawberry festival and lawn party, owing to a similar affair being planned by members of the Official Board, during June; plans for selling greeting cards made, as a fund raising project; the sponsoring of the showing of the film on the Life of John Wesley, on June 12, at the Modena Methodist Church, and plans to sell strawberry shortcake and coffee during intermission. The next meeting, on Tuesday evening, June 21, at 8 p. m. will be held at the home of Ethel Hyatt, wih Flo Hyatt in charge of the annual pledge service.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Paltridge and sons, Kenneth and Billy of Plattekill, Mr. and Mrs. Freston P. Paltridge of Modena were callers at the home of Miss Glennie M. Wager on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Deitz and Miss Annette Deitz of Woodstock, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mouzitgras, on Wednesday.

Ronald Enroth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Enroth of the New Paltz road, is among the ten Ulster county students selected by the American Legion as representatives at the 1955 American Legion Boys' State at Colgate University in Hamilton, from Sunday, June 26, to Sunday, July 2. The County Legion will sponsor a testimonial dinner previous to the boys' departure for Colgate.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Everingham have moved from the Ohioville section to their new home on Plattekill avenue in New Paltz. Mrs. Everingham is the former Ruth Conklin of Modena.

The engagement is announced of Miss Betty Ellen Ronk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ronk of this place, to A 3/c Roger R. Ripley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Anderson of St. Paul, Minn. The wedding will take place August 6.

Mrs. Nelson G. Hedges and Mrs. Burton R. Ward were visitors in Wallkill on Thursday afternoon.

Joseph E. Hasbrouck attended the annual dinner-meeting of the Ulster County Branch of the Holland Society of New York, held at the Stuyvesant Hotel in Kingston, recently.

Electric service was interrupted during the showers of Wednesday, but the rainfall was beneficial.

Mrs. Jennie Ashire, Mrs. Jack Neimcyk, Mrs. Frank Crawford of Chelsea, were recent visitors of Miss Glennie M. Wager.

Mr. and Mrs. Ransel J. Wager will spend this weekend at Flushing, Long Island and attend the wedding of the latter's neice, Miss Jean Cooke, formerly a frequent visitor here.

The Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill will meet Monday, June 6, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt Sr. On Tuesday evening, June 7, Mrs. William Gilmore R. N. a member of the committee will complete instructing a class in Medical aide, in a serics of four lessons held each week at the Plattekill school.

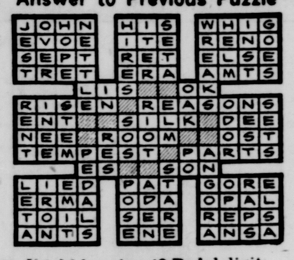
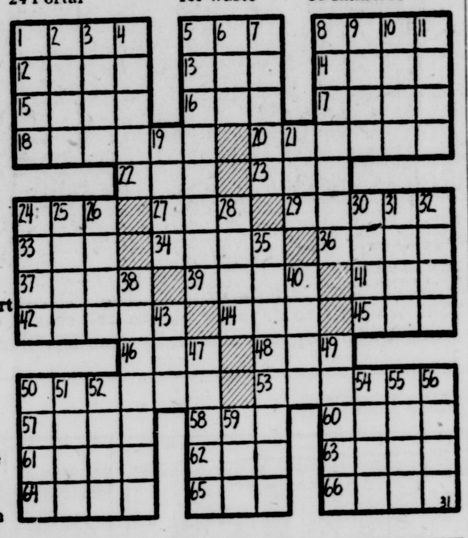
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Get You a Dog!

By FRANK TRIPP

Living up to a pet is going to add years to my life. Cokey, as you must know from my boasting, is just a dog—and what a dog, what a pal, what a tonic.

She is an infielder, the best in the Eastern League. If we lived in Brooklyn I'd be saying best in the National, and get drummed out of town.

We have a ballgame every day, often a double header. It started indoors but moved to the yard early as the teams went South.

Nothing but that smart playmate ever would have gotten me off my lazy fanny, throwing a ball around a frost-capped lawn.

BUT I OWED Cokey so much that I couldn't let her down. I couldn't disappoint her, for she has never disappointed me.

The most amazing thing about my little infielder is her unerring judgment of a pitch. She doesn't just chase the ball; she anticipates it, hurries into position and faces the play.

She can tell by my stance where I'm going to throw, and she's off with the pitch in the right direction.

She seldom guesses wrong. If I deliberately try to cross her she registers disgust and accuses me of a "balk" as plainly as any umpire ever called one on a pitcher.

COKEY CARRIES a ball around with her much of the time, as a kid carries marbles, so's to be set for a game. She'll play anywhere, yard, parlor or beach.

Ours is a lake beach of fine, sandlike pebbles, not true sand. Cokey was making her unbelievable catches and scoops, was trapping the bounces as usual, but seemed slow in fielding in the ball, slow getting it back to me.

I'd like to claim that she throws it back, but it's sadly true that Cokey hasn't much of a throwing arm. If she had, she'd be in the majors, for seldom can I get a grounder past her, and no bounce seems beyond her judgment of its direction.

I WATCHED to see what was slowing up the game this day. The scamp didn't like the tiny beach pebbles which clung to the ball. They hurt her mouth, it seemed. So she did a bit of engineering.

Every time that she got the ball, she carried it to the water's edge, rolled it in, washed it off, rinsed out her mouth, then brought the ball to me; not once or twice, but every time.

NOW YOU tell one—and I'll believe it—as you must believe this yarn about "just a dog," for every word of it is true.

It isn't only the exercise that will add to my years. I've got to stick around to see Cokey graduate from college—or push PeeWee Reese out of the Dodgers' infield.

If you've grown blase, synical or disinterested in life; if your relatives bore you and most of your old pals have passed on; if you are longing for unadulterated affection, and want one last look at genuine unboughten loyalty:

Then get you a dog.

And don't let anybody tell you that a poodle is a sissy. For Cokey is an 11 months old coal black miniature French poodle, unawed by her yard long pedigree; smart as a diplomat, democratic as a mongrel.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tourney Hand Was A Real Puzzler

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Here is a hand from the Vanderbilt Tournament," remarked my friend Lee Hazen, famous New York expert. "It puzzled me until yesterday at lunch.

"I won the first trick with the ace of diamonds, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed two more top diamonds, discarding clubs from the dummy, cashed the top clubs and the ace of spades, and then spread my hand, announcing that I would ruff my last club with dummy's remaining trump. I conceded a spade trick and scored the slam.

"The opponents agreed to the claim, as well they might, and we went on to another hand.

Later on, I discovered that the declarer at the other table had managed to go down one at the same contract of six hearts.

"I didn't have time to find out from my teammates how the hand had been played at their table, and I tried to imagine how the declarer had managed to go down. Even if he made the mistake of drawing trumps to begin with, the club finesse would work sooner or later. How could he lose the slam?"

I studied the hand for a while, and finally saw the light. The unsuccessful declarer had been a good player, but not a really careful player.

"I can see you've guessed it," said Hazen. "I had lunch yesterday with one of my teammates, and he told me how the hand was played at his table. Declarer played the hand exactly as I did, except that he failed to cash the ace of spades. When he led the third club, ruffing in dummy, West discarded his singleton spade!

"Now declarer was stuck in the dummy with nothing but five spades to lead. West was able to ruff the ace of spades, and South eventually lost another spade trick."

There's probably a moral in this somewhere. South would have made the contract if he had drawn no trumps or if he had drawn them all. The only thing he couldn't afford was to be half careful and half careless.

Coast Guard Unveils Monument to Heroes

New York, May 31 (AP)—A heroic bronze statue now stands in Battery Park on the southern tip of Manhattan Island, dedicated to the 172,000 men and women who served in the coast guard during World War 2.

The monument was unveiled by the coast guard yesterday. Its three figures, nine feet tall, show two exhausted coast guardsmen evacuating a wounded soldier during heavy fighting on Luzon in the Philippines.

The memorial is the work of Norman Millet Thomas, 39, who served as a coast guard combat artist during the war. Thomas, formerly of Dedham, Mass., and Portland, Maine, now operates an art gallery in Mexico City.

The monument was first rejected by the city Art Commission as "too unconventional." It was finally erected, however, through the efforts of City Park Commissioner Robert Moses.

Fire Called Suspicious

New York, May 31 (AP)—Fire officials have listed as suspicious a blaze that last night damaged the upper floors of a five-story synagogue building on the Lower East Side. Investigation of the fire was started after a congregation member and a student reported seeing a man in a yellow shirt run from the building at 11 p. m. After losing him in a chase, they said they returned and found the building in flames. There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

Rural Life Sunday Scheduled June 5

Modena, May 28 — A Rural Life Sunday celebration is scheduled for Sunday, June 5, in the Modena Methodist Church. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, historian for the Centennial Celebration of the Modena Methodist Church, will speak on historic lore he has gathered on "Church and Community Life in Modena's History." It is interesting to note, in connection with the interest shown in the historic celebration of our church organization, of a scrap of political information regarding the town's history as follows: The Town of Plattekill was organized on April 7, 1800. Prior to that time, it was part of the Town of Marlborough. A part of Shawangunk was annexed April 3, 1846, but restored March 28, 1848.

The town covers an area of 20,890 acres. Assessed valuation in 1927 was $433,396.00. There are 72 miles of highways in the town, exclusive of state highways and the thruway. An amusing note, the highways of the town, if connected together would reach from Plattekill to New York city. Members of Congress in 1836, included John C. Brodhead, (apparently the one mentioned in the History of Methodist in Modena, appearing recently in the Freeman); State Senator Abraham A. Deyo, 1846; Members of Assembly, Jasper Cropsey, 1826, David L. Bernard, 1839, Charles Drake, 1845, Albert Carpenter, 1856; Sheriff-1825, John C. Brodhead. A list of supervisors of the town, since its organization, follows: David Ostrander, 1800-1803; Stephen Nottingham, 1804-1808; Robert Gilmore, 1809-1811; Andrew Garrison 1812-1816; John Hait, Jr., 1817-1822; John C. Brodhead, 1823-24; Joshua Garrison, 1825-26; John Everett 1827-1830; (Break from 1831-1834, inclusive); Abram A. Deyo, 1835-39; John Everett, 1840; Abram A. Deyo, 1841-42; Josiah LeFevre 1843-44; John B. Morrison, 1845-46; Abram G. Munson, 1847; Timothy Seymour, 1848-49; John Everett 1850; Oscar Hasbrouck, 1851-52; Thaddeus Hait, 1853-54; Thomas H. Skidmore, 1855-57; Ira H. Elting, 1858-59; Thaddeus Hait, 1860-72; John B. Gerow, 1873; John J. Hait, 1874; John B. Gerow, 1875; Richard Garrison, 1876; John J. Hait, 1877-78; John B. Gerow, 1879-1886; Hallock W. Sutton, 1887-1888; Solomon P. Thorne, 1889-1890; John B. Gerow, 1891-1895; Wiliam H. Fowler, 1896-1903; John J. Hait, 1904-05; George Nabor, 1906-7; William S. Hartshorn, 1908-17; William E. Harcourt, 1918-1919; James H. Heaton, 1920-27; Peter Wilkins, 1928-1931; Paul W. Weber, 1931-33; Peter Wilkins, 1933-36; Harry D. Sutton, 1936-1948; Eber H. Coy, 1948-55.

An addition has been made to the Crane home in town, with Fred and Harold Bernard in charge of the work.

Nancy Jean Black, sophomore at the Wallkill Central School, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Black of this village, received a cash award as the winner in a high-school-wide spelling contest, conducted recently at the school. One hundred written words from a 1500 word list were given to all pupils from grades 7-13, by the Principal Robert J. Robinson, with teachers serving as a panel of judges.

Susan Jean McPhillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McPhillips of Montgomery, N. Y. and Cheryl Lynn McQuiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron McQuiston, of North Plank road, Newburgh, were among entrants in the baby Contest conducted recently in Newburgh. Susan's mother is the former Barbara DuBois of Modena, and Cheryl Lynn's mother is the former Louise Williams, also of this place.

Approximately $75 was netted from the card and game party held Thursday evening of the past week, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, under the direction of the Republican Club of the town of Plattekill. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena and Harry Jenkins of Clintondale.

The May meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild, scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 17, and postponed owing to the death of Rulieof Ward, was held Tuesday evening May 24, at the home of Muriel Ward in Modena. Attending were Alison Swords, Marian Jensen, Ethel Hyatt, Flo Hyatt (Clintondale) and Celia Tice. During the business session, the annual election of officers was made as follows: president, Celia Tice; vice-president, Jean Crane; secretary, Murial Ward; promotion secretary, Marie Winters; coordinator, Alison Swords; treasurer, Flo Hyatt; Marian Jensen gave a report on the attendance at the recent Guild Conference in Middletown; it was decided to omit the second annual strawberry festival and lawn party, owing to a similar affair being planned by members of the Official Board, during June; plans for selling greeting cards made, as a fund raising project; the sponsoring of the showing of the film on the Life of John Wesley, on June 12, at the Modena Methodist Church, and plans to sell strawberry shortcake and coffee during intermission. The next meeting, on Tuesday evening, June 21, at 8 p. m. will be held at the home of Ethel Hyatt, wih Flo Hyatt in charge of the annual pledge service.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Paltridge and sons, Kenneth and Billy of Plattekill, Mr. and Mrs. Freston P. Paltridge of Modena were callers at the home of Miss Glennie M. Wager on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Deitz and Miss Annette Deitz of Woodstock, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mouzitgras, on Wednesday.

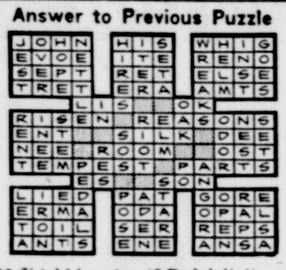
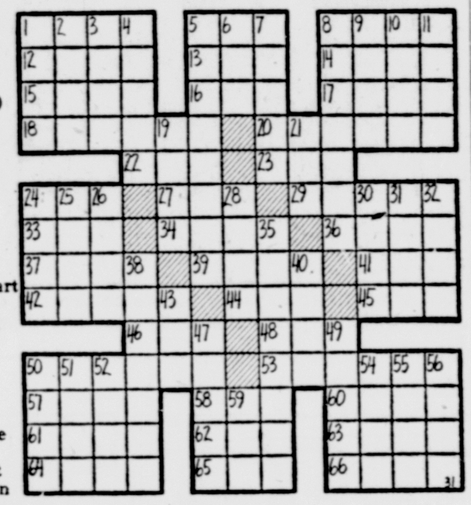
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Get You a Dog!

By FRANK TRIPP

Living up to a pet is going to add years to my life. Cokey, as you must know from my boasting, is just a dog—and what a dog, what a pal, what a tonic.

She is an infielder, the best in the Eastern League. If we lived in Brooklyn I'd be saying best in the National, and get drummed out of town.

We have a ballgame every day, often a double header. It started indoors but moved to the yard early as the teams went South.

Nothing but that smart playmate ever would have gotten me off my lazy fanny, throwing a ball around a frost-capped lawn.

BUT I OWED Cokey so much that I couldn't let her down. I couldn't disappoint her, for she has never disappointed me.

The most amazing thing about my little infielder is her unerring judgment of a pitch. She doesn't just chase the ball; she anticipates it, hurries into position and faces the play.

She can tell by my stance where I'm going to throw, and she's off with the pitch in the right direction.

She seldom guesses wrong. If I deliberately try to cross her she registers disgust and accuses me of a "balk" as plainly as any umpire ever called one on a pitcher.

COKEY CARRIES a ball around with her much of the time, as a kid carries marbles, so's to be set for a game. She'll play anywhere, yard, parlor or beach.

Ours is a lake beach of fine, sandlike pebbles, not true sand. Cokey was making her unbelievable catches and scoops, was trapping the bounces as usual, but seemed slow in fielding in the ball, slow getting it back to me.

I'd like to claim that she throws it back, but it's sadly true that Cokey hasn't much of a throwing arm. If she had, she'd be in the majors, for seldom can I get a grounder past her, and no bounce seems beyond her judgment of its direction.

I WATCHED to see what was slowing up the game this day. The scamp didn't like the tiny beach pebbles which clung to the ball. They hurt her mouth, it seemed. So she did a bit of engineering.

Every time that she got the ball, she carried it to the water's edge, rolled it in, washed it off, rinsed out her mouth, then brought the ball to me; not once or twice, but every time.

NOW YOU tell one—and I'll believe it—as you must believe this yarn about "just a dog," for every word of it is true.

It isn't only the exercise that will add to my years. I've got to stick around to see Cokey graduate from college—or push PeeWee Reese out of the Dodgers' infield.

If you've grown blase, synical or disinterested in life; if your relatives bore you and most of your old pals have passed on; if you are longing for unadulterated affection, and want one last look at genuine unboughten loyalty:

Then get you a dog.

And don't let anybody tell you that a poodle is a sissy. For Cokey is an 11 months old coal black miniature French poodle, unawed by her yard long pedigree; smart as a diplomat, democratic as a mongrel.

Tourney Hand Was A Real Puzzler

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Here is a hand from the Vanderbilt Tournament," remarked my friend Lee Hazen, famous New York expert. "It puzzled me until yesterday at lunch.

"I won the first trick with the ace of diamonds, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed two more top diamonds, discarding clubs from the dummy, cashed the top clubs and the ace of spades, and then spread my hand, announcing that I would ruff my last club with dummy's remaining trump. I conceded a spade trick and scored the slam.

"The opponents agreed to the claim, as well they might, and we went on to another hand.

Later on, I discovered that the declarer at the other table had managed to go down one at the same contract of six hearts.

"I didn't have time to find out from my teammates how the hand had been played at their table, and I tried to imagine how the declarer had managed to go down. Even if he made the mistake of drawing trumps to begin with, the club finesse would work sooner or later. How could he lose the slam?"

I studied the hand for a while, and finally saw the light. The unsuccessful declarer had been a good player, but not a really careful player.

"I can see you've guessed it," said Hazen. "I had lunch yesterday with one of my teammates, and he told me how the hand was played at his table. Declarer played the hand exactly as I did, except that he failed to cash the ace of spades. When he led the third club, ruffing in dummy, West discarded his singleton spade!

"Now declarer was stuck in the dummy with nothing but five spades to lead. West was able to ruff the ace of spades, and South eventually lost another spade trick."

There's probably a moral in this somewhere. South would have made the contract if he had drawn no trumps or if he had drawn them all. The only thing he couldn't afford was to be half careful and half careless.

Coast Guard Unveils Monument to Heroes

New York, May 31 (AP)—A heroic bronze statue now stands in Battery Park on the southern tip of Manhattan Island, dedicated to the 172,000 men and women who served in the coast guard during World War 2.

The monument was unveiled by the coast guard yesterday. Its three figures, nine feet tall, show two exhausted coast guardsmen evacuating a wounded soldier during heavy fighting on Luzon in the Philippines.

The memorial is the work of Norman Millet Thomas, 39, who served as a coast guard combat artist during the war. Thomas, formerly of Dedham, Mass., and Portland, Maine, now operates an art gallery in Mexico City.

The monument was first rejected by the city Art Commission as "too unconventional." It was finally erected, however, through the efforts of City Park Commissioner Robert Moses.

Fire Called Suspicious

New York, May 31 (AP)—Fire officials have listed as suspicious a blaze that last night damaged the upper floors of a five-story synagogue building on the Lower East Side. Investigation of the fire was started after a congregation member and a student reported seeing a man in a yellow shirt run from the building at 11 p. m. After losing him in a chase, they said they returned and found the building in flames. There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

Police Kept Busy Over Weekend an During Holiday

Holiday weekend arrests included the holding of two men charged with interfering with the duty of an officer, another for alleged second degree assault and one on charges of reckless driving, and operating without a license.

After a call to investigate reported trouble at a Murray street house, two officers charged that in an attempt to "settle a complaint," they were "assaulted by the complainant."

OFFICERS George Dohnken and William Snyder who were sent on the call at 10:34 p. m., Monday, arrested Adelaid Komasa, 49, of 47 Murray street, on a charge of second degree assault.

Attorney William Brinnier appeared for the defendant before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. He requested a preliminary examination and the case was put over to June 7. Bail was fixed at $500.

Richard Jones, 26, of Sunset Park and Harold Arnold, 24, of 65 Lincoln street, were arrested by Officer Floyd Krom on Henry street, on a charge that they resisted an officer in the discharge of his duty.

POLICE SAID Officer Krom was "making a routine check," on an automobile when the two attempted to interfere. Officers Everett Emmick and William Slover were sent to the scene at 2:55 a. m., today.

Both pleaded innocent before Judge Mino today and their cases were put over to June 6.

George L. Baldwin, 24, of 190 Pine street, who, police said, has been on parole, was arrested at 1:10 a. m., Monday on charges of reckless driving and for having no operator's license in his possession. He was picked up by Officers Slover and Emmick on Flatbush near Tietjen avenue.

ARRAIGNED before Judge Mino later today he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five days in jail also to pay a fine of $25 or 25 days in jail on the reckless driving charge and $10 or 10 days in jail on the other charge. The fines were not paid this morning.

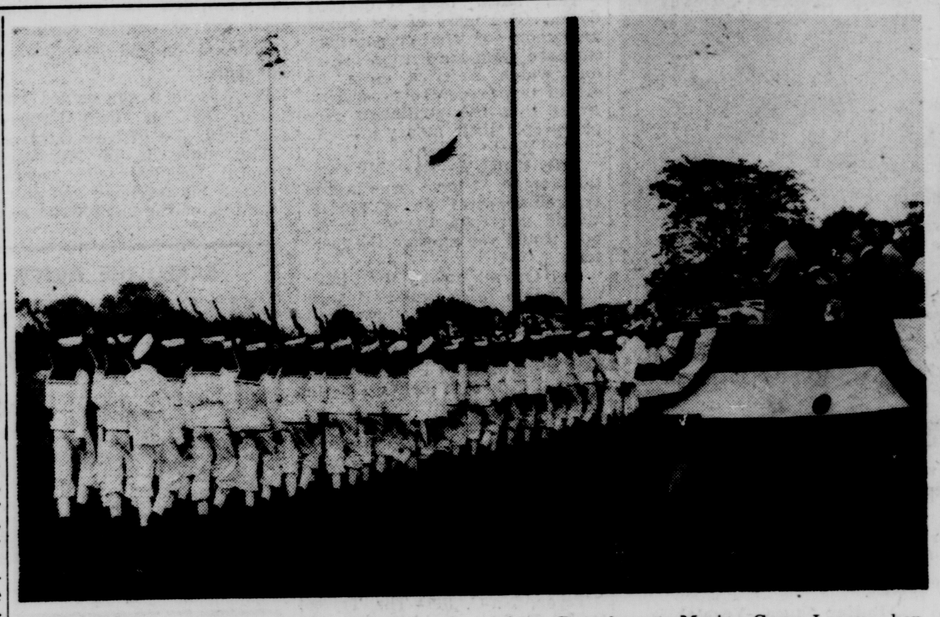
Extras All Around

Oklahoma City, May 31 (AP)—Oklahoma City police department fingerprint experts were baffled when they started to fingerprint a suspect in a theft case. Officer Marvin Higgs placed 54-year-old Oran Telford's hands on the fingerprint card, which contains five slots—and discovered there was a finger left over. Higgs did a double take, looked further and found the suspect had six fingers on each hand. Said Telford: "That's nothing. I've got six toes on both feet." He took off his shoes to prove it.

Narrow Escape

Troy, May 31 (AP)—Noble Jenkins, 26, left home yesterday morning to dig a sewer-line trench for the house he's building about a quarter-mile from his temporary dwelling here. About 11 a. m., his 24-year-old wife, Gertrude, took him his lunch. She found him encased to the chest in gravel. The sides of the trench had caved in. He was unable to move. Firemen and neighbors pulled Jenkins out, unhurt.



MEMORIAL DAY CEREMONIES—Members of crew from British frigate, Vereyan Bay, march past reviewing stand in parade Sunday held in observance of Memorial Day. Firing squad from Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, honors deceased war heroes as Cub Scouts place wreath on memorial stone at Dietz Stadium.

AMA Asks That Members Assist In Vaccine Plan

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—The American Medical Assn. has asked its members to cooperate in a voluntary government priority plan for polio inoculations of children 5 through 9.

In a statement released yesterday through Chicago headquarters, Dr. Walter B. Martin of Norfolk, Va., president of the AMA, said:

"The AMA has been assured that technical problems relating to the safe manufacture of polio vaccine have been worked out and the vaccination program will move ahead.

"In behalf of myself and the AMA board of trustees I have assured President Eisenhower that the nation's physicians will cooperate in limiting polio vaccination to children from five through nine until the vaccine is available in larger supply."

Hotel Is

under the management of Mrs. Eisler.

SEVERAL YEARS ago apartments were added to the hotel in addition to the transient business. The dining room was remodeled and the "County Room" became a popular place for parties and banquets.

The late Mr. Eisler was a personal friend of Thomas J. Watson, chairman of the board of IBM, and one of his treasured documents was a letter from Mr. Watson, which was published in The Freeman, crediting him with instituting the movement that culminated in the IBM making a decision to erect their plants in this community. The Watson-Eisler friendship went back to the days when both in their younger years attended many events in New York city, where Eisler was a hotel executive.

Two Taken

Beyersdorfer suffered a fracture of the right leg, laceration of the scalp and over the left eye and abrasions of both knees, and Feeney had a laceration of the scalp, head and leg injuries, the sheriff's men reported.

THE MOTORCYCLE accident at New Paltz occurred about 2:50 p. m. Monday, state police reported. The cycle, operated by Donald Floyd DePuy, was traveling south on Route 208 when he applied his brakes to avoid an automobile coming from a driveway. The cycle skidded and struck a hole, causing it to turn over, the troopers said. Coffey, who was riding on the "buddy seat," suffered a skull fracture, troopers said, and was ordered to Albany Hospital after treatment at the Kingston Hospital.

An accident on Route 9W at Marlborough about 3:50 a. m. Sunday resulted in injury to George James Drodnak, 22, of Millbrook, who was treated at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh for abrasions of the forehead, lacerations of the left knee and possible internal injuries, state police reported. Troopers said Drodnak's automobile went off the highway, struck a pole and stone embankment.

TWO PERSONS were injured, apparently not seriously, in a three-car collision on the Thruway near Newburgh on Monday afternoon, state police of the Thruway Patrol reported.

Southbound automobiles driven by Ernest Malonado of New York city, William Fisher of New York and Edward W. Coady of Westlands, N. J., were involved in the collision, which apparently occurred as two were nearly abreast and the third attempted to cut in between them, state police said.

Helen Malonado was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment of a gash on the forehead, and Ruth Fisher was treated by the ambulance intern for an injury to her hand, troopers said. Ernest Malonado was arrested by Trooper M. J. Valliant on a charge of driving while intoxicated, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Van Etten of the town of Woodbourne, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $50.

John Sawtell of Brockton, Mass., reported to the sheriff's office at 3:30 a. m. Sunday that an unknown vehicle sideswiped his car on Route 9W five miles south of the Tropical Inn at Port Ewen and continued without stopping. No personal injuries were reported.

In other property damage accidents reported by state police, automobiles driven by Robert Schultz, 52, of Saugerties and Stanley J. Craig, 22, of Lanesville, collided at the intersection of the West Saugerties and Blue Mountain roads about 6 p. m. Monday; and the automobiles of Vivian Mintz, 38, of Brooklyn, and Fred Warnitz, 50, of Halcott Center, were in collision at the intersection of Routes 9W and 299 about 1:45 p. m. Saturday.

LIGHTNING, which struck a pole outside a house occupied by Harry VanAken and owned by Pratt Boice, near Boice's farm, town of Ulster, caused some damage in the house.

Occupants had been home only about 15 minutes after a trip from Schenectady when the bolt struck, it was learned today. From the pole where it struck, it followed a line into the house and started a fire in the cellar.

THE OWNER used an extinguisher and kept the blaze under control until firemen from Ulster Hose Company arrived.

They were called at 6:41 p. m. The fire caused slight damage, but wiring was damaged.

Local firemen were called at 6:42 p. m., to the home of William H. Davis, 19 Snyder avenue, where damage to a bathroom fixture was believed due to lightning. The owner reported a surge of electricity in the fixture during the storm. Wiltwyck station responded.

Dangerous Escapee Hunted by Hounds

Beacon, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Baffled officials added bloodhounds today to the hunt for a "dangerous" prisoner who fled Sunday from the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

The fugitive, Burton Gallavan, 52, of Franklin county, ran into the woods while working in a hospital garden. Quick capture was expected because a guard saw him flee. No trace has been found of the man, however, despite road blocks and patrols.

Gallavan was committed to the hospital five years ago after being arrested for first degree assault. Police called him a "dangerous lunatic."

Divorcee, Twins Shot; Husband Is Sought by Police

Cloverdale, Calif., May 31 (AP)—A 38-year-old divorcee and her 8-year-old twins were shot from ambush yesterday while picking cherries at her summer cabin.

THE WOMAN, Mrs. Ernestine McLorin, 38, was reported in serious condition at Healdsburg Hospital with bullet wounds in her thigh and abdomen.

Her children, Wilhelmina and Daniel, were less seriously wounded. A bullet hit the girl in the neck and dug into her shoulder, and the boy had a 7 inch crease across his back.

Sheriff's deputies said a friend heard a volley of rifle shots and saw Hayes flee to a car. They said the shots were from a rifle with a telescope sight.

SHERIFF'S investigator Andy Johansen reported the car in which Hayes presumably fled, then abandoned, contained a dynamite bomb—two sticks of dynamite with wires which could be attached to a car's ignition system.

The friend of Mrs. McLorin who witnessed the shooting said Hayes had at one time threatened to blow up her car.

Meat Truck Is Stolen, Driver Released by Men

New York, May 31 (AP)—The driver of a loaded five-ton meat truck was kidnaped in Brooklyn early today and his truck stolen by three men.

The victim, Matthew Flesch, 57, of (30-60 48th St.) Astoria, Queens, was released unharmed in Queens several miles from the kidnaping scene.

HE LEFT Jersey City early this morning for the wholesale market in Brooklyn in a refrigerated truck carrying a large quantity of beef, veal, spareribs and 210 boxes of bacon.

When he stopped for a traffic light at Berry street and Metropolitan avenue, near his destination, two men with pistols walked up, one on each side of the cab. They ordered Flesch to "move over," and both got in. One drove and the other sat on the right side, with Flesch in the middle.

SIX BLOCKS away, at Wyethe avenue and North Third street, the truck was stopped beside a waiting black sedan with a driver. Flesch was ordered out and one of the robbers entered the sedan with him. They drove for an hour through south Brooklyn streets and finally to an isolated area at 134th street and 131st avenue, in Ozone Park, Queens, where Flesch was ordered out.

Flesch reached a telephone and called Appel Bros., who notified police. Flesch was picked up by police, taken to the 92nd precinct in Brooklyn, and a search for the truck was begun.

We say it more often than anybody

You don't have to be a linguist to know what these folks are saying on their telephones. But maybe you didn't know that New Yorkers say "hello" more often than anyone, anywhere.

One reason they do is because there are more phones in New York State than in any country in the world.

Another is because the price of telephone service is low—everybody can take full advantage of it. In fact, while the average price of the things you wear, eat or use has jumped 91% since 1940, the average price of phone service has gone up only 16%.

So it isn't really surprising that New Yorkers make good use of their phones. Just think of the time and steps your phone saves you every day. Think of the pleasure it brings. And the speed with which it can bring help in any emergency, big or little.

Truly, is there anything else that serves so well, yet costs so very little?

Police Kept Busy Over Weekend an During Holiday

Holiday weekend arrests included the holding of two men charged with interfering with the duty of an officer, another for alleged second degree assault and one on charges of reckless driving, and operating without a license.

After a call to investigate reported trouble at a Murray street house, two officers charged that in an attempt to "settle a complaint," they were "assaulted by the complainant."

OFFICERS George Dohnken and William Snyder who were sent on the call at 10:34 p. m., Monday, arrested Adelaid Komasa, 49, of 47 Murray street, on a charge of second degree assault.

Attorney William Brinnier appeared for the defendant before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today. He requested a preliminary examination and the case was put over to June 7. Bail was fixed at $500.

Richard Jones, 26, of Sunset Park and Harold Arnold, 24, of 65 Lincoln street, were arrested by Officer Floyd Krom on Henry street, on a charge that they resisted an officer in the discharge of his duty.

POLICE SAID Officer Krom was "making a routine check," on an automobile when the two attempted to interfere. Officers Everett Emmick and William Slover were sent to the scene at 2:55 a. m., today.

Both pleaded innocent before Judge Mino today and their cases were put over to June 6.

George L. Baldwin, 24, of 190 Pine street, who, police said, has been on parole, was arrested at 1:10 a. m., Monday on charges of reckless driving and for having no operator's license in his possession. He was picked up by Officers Slover and Emmick on Flatbush near Tietjen avenue.

ARRAIGNED before Judge Mino later today he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five days in jail also to pay a fine of $25 or 25 days in jail on the reckless driving charge and $10 or 10 days in jail on the other charge. The fines were not paid this morning.

Extras All Around

Oklahoma City, May 31 (AP)—Oklahoma City police department fingerprint experts were baffled when they started to fingerprint a suspect in a theft case. Officer Mark Higgs placed 54-year-old Oran Telford's hands on the fingerprint card, which contains five slots—and discovered there was a finger left over. Higgs did a double take, looked further and found the suspect had six fingers on each hand. Said Telford: "That's nothing. I've got six toes on both feet." He took off his shoes to prove it.

Narrow Escape

AMA Asks That Members Assist In Vaccine Plan

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—The American Medical Assn. has asked its members to cooperate in a voluntary government priority plan for polio inoculations of children 5 through 9.

In a statement released yesterday through Chicago headquarters, Dr. Walter B. Martin of Norfolk, Va., president of the AMA, said:

"The AMA has been assured that technical problems relating to the safe manufacture of polio vaccine have been worked out and the vaccination program will move ahead.

"In behalf of myself and the AMA board of trustees I have assured President Eisenhower that the nation's physicians will cooperate in limiting polio vaccination to children from five through nine until the vaccine is available in larger supply."

Two Taken

Beyersdorfer suffered a fracture of the right leg, laceration of the scalp and over the left eye and abrasions of both knees, and Feeney had a laceration of the scalp, head and leg injuries, the sheriff's men reported.

THE MOTORCYCLE accident at New Paltz occurred about 2:50 p. m. Monday, state police reported. The cycle, operated by Donald Floyd DePuy, was traveling south on Route 208 when he applied his brakes to avoid an automobile coming from a driveway. The cycle skidded and struck a hole, causing it to turn over, the troopers said. Coffey, who was riding on the "buddy seat," suffered a skull fracture, troopers said, and was ordered to Albany Hospital after treatment at the Kingston Hospital.

An accident on Route 9W at Marlborough about 3:50 a. m. Sunday resulted in injury to George James Drodnak, 22, of Millbrook, who was treated at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh for abrasions of the forehead, lacerations of the left knee and possible internal injuries, state police reported. Troopers said Drodnak's automobile went off the highway, struck a pole and stone embankment.

TWO PERSONS were injured, apparently not seriously, in a three-car collision on the Thruway near Newburgh on Monday afternoon, state police of the Thruway Patrol reported.

Southbound automobiles driven by Ernest Malonado of New York city, William Fisher of New York and Edward W. Coady of Westlands, N. J., were involved in the collision, which apparently occurred as two were nearly abreast and the third attempted to cut in between them, state police said.

Helen Malonado was taken to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment of a gash on the forehead, and Ruth Fisher was treated by the ambulance intern for an injury to her hand, troopers said. Ernest Malonado was arrested by Trooper M. J. Mrs. Hilton to Preside At DAR Conference

Saugerties, May 28 — Mrs. John G. M. Hilton, regent of the Saugerties chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will be chairman and presiding officer at the first district conference of the New York state DAR in Kingston on Wednesday, June 2.

The all-day sessions will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel and at the Old Dutch Church.

Mrs. Louis P. Francello of Glasco will act a registrar for the conference. Registration will take place at 9 a. m. in the hotel lobby after which the morning session will get under way at the Dutch Church.

The luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. in the hotel and the afternoon session will continue until Friday p. m.

District 3 and a portion of District 9 will be represented. District 3 embraces communities north of Cobleskill, north to Amsterdam and south to the New Jersey state line and Putnam county.

Guests at the conference will include state regent Mrs. Harold Erb, state vice-regent Mrs. Herman C. Warren, and state librarian, Mrs. W. Carl Crittenden.

Training for Campfire Leaders Scheduled

Saugerties, May 28—A field representative from the Camp Fire Girls headquarters has been invited to the Saugerties Council by Mrs. Charles Scala and Mrs. Douglas Swart to meet with Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls' leaders and all prospective unit leaders for the purpose of arranging leadership training.

Due to the large number of girls ready to join Camp Fire units additional trained leaders are required. Through leadership and extension programs methods of coping with the current problems will be explained.

The meetings will be divided, one for persons interested in Camp Fire who will meet on Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Saugerties Public Library and those interested in Blue Birds will meet Thursday, June 2, at 7 p. m. in the VFW Hall on Livingston street.

John Schick Speaks To School Assembly

Saugerties, May 28—Assistant District Attorney John Schick was the principal speaker at the Memorial Day exercises held in the assembly at the Saugerties High School on Wednesday morning.

Schick substituted for District Attorney Howard C. St. John because of another commitment which precluded his presence elsewhere.

The program was in charge of the Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion, and Schick was introduced by Legion commander, Robert Messinger.

Parental Interest Problem Discussed

Saugerties, May 28—The sorry story of the lack of parental interest in the activities of their youth was the main topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Youth Council held Thursday night in the trustees' rooms of the Municipal Building.

The seriousness of the problem of parental apathy was pointed out when the plight of the Little League was reviewed by the Council. During the discussion it was pointed out that although the Saugerties Lions Club gives financial support to the Little League they have no authority to govern the organization and allows the Little League to govern itself according to the national regulations of that organization.

Consequently only a very small group of directors and coaches bear the entire burden of supervision and arrangements necessary to conduct a Little League.

It was also pointed out that very few parents of the some odd 60 boys who play ball with the league help with the supervision of the organization and the lack of interest by parents is becoming a pressing problem.

This past week an announcement came from Little League officials that unless a greater amount of cooperation from parents is evident in the very near future the Little League will be forced to dissolve. It was brought out that the same situation of parental indifference exists in local units of the Boy Scouts.

Various methods of securing the cooperation of parents in the youth programs were outlined and discussed but none seemed to solve the problem.

The members assembled voted to enter a car in the Fourth of July parade in which members of the council and some local youngsters would parade representing the organization.

The secretary, Mrs. William Straub, was directed to send a card to Fred J. Davi, local sports promoter and council member who has returned to his home from the hospital.

Mrs. Albert L. Giannotti of the Youth Activities committee offered a suggestion that another youth dance be sponsored by the council this fall. The possibility of hiring a dance orchestra for the occasion was discussed.

Chairman Peter Williams who presided announced that the next meeting of the council would be held on Thursday, June 23.

Area Activities

Saugerties, May 28—The Auxiliary of the Centerville Fire Company announced that the annual picnic will be held on Sunday, June 19 at Taconic State Park. Members were requested to bring a covered dish and place setting. Those requiring transportation will meet at the fire hall in Centerville at 9:30 a. m. The Refreshment Committee for the event includes Mrs. Maurice Hinchey, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Vincent Manuel and Mrs. Raymond Whitaker.

The annual Communion breakfast of St. Mary's Rosary Guild will be held at St. Joseph's Villa, Barclay Heights on Sunday, June 5 at 9:30 a. m.

Sauces Add New Delight To Meats and Vegetables

Butter-up their appetites with zesty butter sauce for steak, herb butter for broiled tomatoes, and chili butter for corn.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We use a lot of butter in our cooking. Seems to improve the flavor of all foods.

Steak broiled with dabs of butter gains a natural sauce and rich, brown surface color. Tomatoes, topped with butter and herbs taste better.

(Shopping tip: Flavor is most important in butter, and is perishable. Therefore, we buy and keep butter in the paraffined carton. The carton protects flavor; prevents pick-up of off-flavors.

Butter Sauces for Steak

Zesty Butter: One-quarter cup (½ stick) butter, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco. Cream butter; mix in remaining ingredients. Spread over hot, broiled steak.

ECONOMY AND PROSPERITY

Burdensome taxes always hamstring prosperity. They operate psychologically and economically. High personal income taxes help to kill incentive and to destroy purchasing power. Big corporation taxes prevent business expansion and retard capital improvement programs.

Are taxes burdensome now? Yes. The tax bill of four leading American corporations in 1954 was the immense sum of $2,269,000,000. American Telephone and Telegraph paid $984,000,000... General Motors, $838,000,000 Du Pont, $257,000,000...United States Steel, $190,000,000.

..EVERY SEGMENT of our economic society had to pay higher prices because of these huge imposts. Add to these four giant enterprises the thousands of others and one can understand why taxes are a terrific charge to 163,000,000 people in America.

And while the tax collectors were taking their cool two and a quarter billions of dollars, the owners (the stockholders) were receiving $1,186,000,000 in dividends. And these dividends were heavily taxed. At least one third of them went to the tax authorities. Thus, it is doubtful if more than about $800,000,000 in dividends finally became investor purchasing power.

So, to the tax bill of $2,269,000,000 an additional $386,000,000 could well be added. That would boost taxes to over $2,600,000,000 compared with the owners' income, after taxes, of around $800,000,000. Those who take all the risks and furnish the capital get 25 per cent of the dividend income and the tax collectors get three times that amount.

IF THE PEOPLE in America want a lasting and a sound prosperity, they had better choose officials who, on a local, state and national level, understand the relation of taxes and prosperity. Economy in Washington, in every state capital and in every township in the United States is a sine qua non of prosperity.

Consider, for example our national government. The Secretary of Defense in Washington has about thirty billion dollars in his annual budget. What a job he handles! To make America strong at the lowest possible cost is his task. And the Secretary of State—what great responsibilities surround him! The diplomatic arrangements his department makes help to dictate the amount of money the Secretary of Defense spends.

Further, the price support policies of the Secretary of Agriculture vitally affect our national well-being. And the manner in which the Treasury Department manages our fiscal problems has a direct relation to tax and price matters.

A BILLION DOLLARS in tax savings to corporations and to individuals would give a great lift to a permanent prosperity. Corporations could spend the money around in many directions: (1) more employment; (2) better wages, (3) new plants and machinery, (4) lower prices, thus increasing production and sales, (5) higher dividends.

And if millions of personal income taxpayers were to have a hundred or a thousand dollars a year more to spend through governmental economies and lower taxes, what a pile of consumer purchasing power would be gained!

Yes, taxes drag everybody down. Give more of the people and more of the corporations surcease from burdensome taxes and watch America enter an era of unprecedented prosperity. Insist that the politicians give our people their money's worth.

Cloudburst Mishap Is Fatal to Driver

East Brunswick, N. J., May 31 (AP)—Elliott Schiff, 23, of 82-02 Grenfell St., Kew Gardens, New York city, died on the way to the hospital last night after a car in which he was riding went out of control during a cloudburst on the New Jersey Turnpike.

He was in a car owned and driven by his uncle Harry Schiff, 59, also of Kew Gardens.

The uncle is in Middlesex General Hospital with lacerations on his forehead and chin; fractures of the right wrist and right leg, and a possible skull fracture.

Police said the Schiff car was struck by a car driven by Guido Puglia of Philadelphia, which skidded from the southbound into the northbound lane. Puglia and David Specca, riding with him, were taken to the hospital.

Specca told police they were travelling not more than 40 miles an hour when Puglia lost control of the car.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Mrs. Hilton to Preside At DAR Conference

Saugerties, May 28 — Mrs. John G. M. Hilton, regent of the Saugerties chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will be chairman and presiding officer at the first district conference of the New York state DAR in Kingston on Wednesday, June 2.

The all-day sessions will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel and at the Old Dutch Church.

Mrs. Louis P. Francello of Glasco will act a registrar for the conference. Registration will take place at 9 a. m. in the hotel after which the morning session will get under way at the church.

The luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. in the hotel and the afternoon session will continue until 3 p. m.

District 3 and a portion of district 9 will be represented. District 3 embraces communities north of Cobleskill, north to Amsterdam and south to the New Jersey state line and Putnam county.

Guests at the conference will include state regent Mrs. Harold Erb, state vice-regent Mrs. Herman C. Warren, and state librarian, Mrs. W. Carl Crittenden.

Training for Campfire Leaders Scheduled

Saugerties, May 28—A field representative from the Camp Fire Girls headquarters has been invited to the Saugerties Council by Mrs. Charles Scala and Mrs. Douglas Swart to meet with Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girls' leaders and all prospective unit leaders for the purpose of arranging leadership training.

Due to the large number of girls ready to join Camp Fire units additional trained leaders are required. Through leadership and extension programs methods of coping with the current problems will be explained.

The meetings will be divided, one for persons interested in Camp Fire who will meet on Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Saugerties Public Library and those interested in Blue Birds will meet Thursday, June 2, at 7 p. m. in the VFW Hall on Livingston street.

John Schick Speaks To School Assembly

Saugerties, May 28—Assistant District Attorney John Schick was the principal speaker at the Memorial Day exercises held in the assembly at the Saugerties High School on Wednesday morning.

Schick substituted for District Attorney Howard C. St. John because of another commitment which precluded his presence elsewhere.

The program was in charge of the Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion, and Schick was introduced by Legion commander, Robert Messinger.

Parental Interest Problem Discussed

Saugerties, May 28—The sorry story of the lack of parental interest in the activities of their youth was the main topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Youth Council held Thursday night in the trustees' rooms of the Municipal Building.

The seriousness of the problem of parental apathy was pointed out when the plight of the Little League was reviewed by the Council. During the discussion it was pointed out that although the Saugerties Lions Club gives financial support to the Little League they have no authority to govern the organization and allows the Little League to govern itself according to the national regulations of that organization.

Consequently only a very small group of directors and coaches bear the entire burden of supervision and arrangements necessary to conduct a Little League.

It was also pointed out that very few parents of the some odd 60 boys who play ball with the league help with the supervision of the organization and the lack of interest by parents is becoming a pressing problem.

This past week an announcement came from Little League officials that unless a greater amount of cooperation from parents is evident in the very near future the Little League will be forced to dissolve. It was brought out that the same situation of parental indifference exists in local units of the Boy Scouts.

Various methods of securing the cooperation of parents in the youth programs were outlined and discussed but none seemed to solve the problem.

The members assembled voted to enter a car in the Fourth of July parade in which members of the council and some local youngsters would parade representing the organization.

The secretary, Mrs. William Straub, was directed to send a card to Fred J. Davi, local sports promoter and council member who has returned to his home from the hospital.

Mrs. Albert L. Giannotti of the Youth Activities committee offered a suggestion that another youth dance be sponsored by the council this fall. The possibility of hiring a dance orchestra for the occasion was discussed.

Chairman Peter Williams who presided announced that the next meeting of the council would be held on Thursday, June 23.

Area Activities

Saugerties, May 28—The Auxiliary of the Centerville Fire Company announced that the annual picnic will be held on Sunday, June 19 at Taconic State Park. Members were requested to bring a covered dish and place setting. Those requiring transportation will meet at the fire hall in Centerville at 9:30 a. m. The Refreshment Committee for the event includes Mrs. Maurice Hinchey, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Vincent Manuel and Mrs. Raymond Whitaker.

The annual Communion breakfast of St. Mary's Rosary Guild will be held at St. Joseph's Villa, Barclay Heights on Sunday, June 5 at 9:30 a. m.

Miss Lucille Nau, president may be contacted for reservations.

The Annual Spring Concert of the Saugerties High School will be held Friday, June 3 at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. The entire music department will participate. There will be a slight admission charge.

The Father Harty Drum Corps will conduct a movie benefit on Wednesday and Thursday, June 8-9 at the Orpheum Theater. The picture is entitled King Richard and the Crusaders a cinemascopic extravaganza.

The Cheerful Workers of the Blue Mountain Reformed Church will meet in the church hall on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The Bible word is Grace. Hostesses will be Mrs. Floyd Myer, Mrs. John Lasher and Mrs. Eugene Myer.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church of Ruby will meet on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Michael Staerker on Otis street, Kingston at 8 p. m.

The re-scheduled school meeting of the Ruby district will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Ruby fire house. The need for a new school will be the main topic of discussion.

The Auxiliary of the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW will conduct a food sale in the United Cleaners store on Main street. Mrs. John J. Prendergast will be in charge of the sale which will begin at 10 a. m.

The Women's Auxiliary No. 1 (Cementon) of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp meets on Thursday at 6:30 p. m. A covered dish supper will be served prior to the meeting at which Mrs. John J. Prendergast will serve as leader. Hostesses will be Mrs. Prendergast and Mrs. Harry R. Coon.

The West Camp dartball team annual banquet will be held on Saturday at 6:30 p. m. in the Flamingo Restaurant.

Sauces Add New Delight To Meats and Vegetables

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We use a lot of butter in our cooking. Seems to improve the flavor of all foods.

Steak broiled with dabs of butter gains a natural sauce and rich, brown surface color. Tomatoes, topped with butter and herbs taste better.

(Shopping tip: Flavor is most important in butter, and is perishable. Therefore, we buy and keep butter in the paraffined carton. The carton protects flavor; prevents pick-up of off-flavors.

Butter Sauces for Steak

Zesty Butter: One-quarter cup (½ stick) butter, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco. Cream butter; mix in remaining ingredients. Spread over hot, broiled steak.

Mustard Butter: One-quarter cup (½ stick) butter, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard. Cream butter; gradually stir in mustard. Spread over hot, broiled steak.

Butter Sauce—Vegetables

Herb—for Broiled Tomatoes: This spreads eight tomato halves. One-quarter cup (½ stick) butter, 1/16 teaspoon each thyme, marjoram, and rosemary. Lightly sprinkle each tomato half with sugar and salt. Cream butter; add remaning ingredients. Use to dot each tomato half before broiling.

Chili Butter: For 8 ears of corn. One-half cup (1 stick butter, ½ teaspoon chili powder, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco.

MRS. JAMES D. Di PERI, the former Agnes Mae Nassar of Salisbury, N. C., whose wedding took place Sunday morning in Sacred Heart Church, Salisbury.

Miss Agnes Nassar, James D. Di Peri Nuptials Are Held

Sacred Heart Church, Salisbury, N. C., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Agnes Mae Nassar and James D. Di Peri, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Cletus Helfrich officiated at the double ring ceremony. A dinner followed at the Yadkin Hotel Ballroom for 200 guests.

The floral decorations, ferns and white gladioli with candelabra holding tall lighted tapers were on the main altar and side altars. Pews were marked with fern and white satin ribbons. Mrs. Alex Clark of Salisbury, organist, accompanied Mrs. David Rouche of Salisbury and Miss Geraldine Di Peri, sister of the bridegroom, vocalists. Their selections included "Mother All Beautiful," "Ave Maria," and "Panis Angelicus," and "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling."

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Tom Nassar, 230 South Lee street, Salisbury; and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Di Peri of 314 Lucas avenue, this city.

Given in marriage by her brother, Rudolph Nassar of Salisbury, the bride wore a Maurer original gown of white Nylebrode over satin fashioned with a molded bodice, long sleeves, and a portrait neckline. The floor length bouffant skirt accented by side panels of narrow pleated tulle ruffles extended to form an aisle wide cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion bordered with lace was attached to a calot of lace brode encrusted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a prayer book decorated with stephanotis and white roses centered with an orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Bernard of Salisbury, cousin of the bride. The attendants were Mrs. Robert Linder, Mrs. Bonnie Ervin, Mrs. Albert Boulus, all of Salisbury, and Mrs. William Fakoury of Mooresville, N. C.

Mrs. Bernard wore a full length gown of summer white lace over blue taffeta and net styled with boat neckline banded with ribbon and lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of pastel shades of California Esther Reid daisies. The attendants wore pastel gowns styled identically like that of the honor attendant, in green, pink, lilac and copper rose. Their headpieces were satin bandeaux trimmed with lace and accented with spring flowers.

Miss Sandra Boulus of Salisbury, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of blue nylon organza trimmed with pink roses and lace. Her headdress was styled like that of the attendants. She carried a satin and tulle basket filled with spring flowers.

Joseph J. Di Peri of this city served as best man for his brother-in-law. The ushers were Odell Nassar, brother of the bride, Robert Linder, Robert Salooby, and Donald Bernard, all of Salisbury. Terry Rouche, ring bearer, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed with lace and ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Di Peri left on a wedding trip to Silver Springs, Fla. For traveling, the bride chose a beige sheath linen dress with rosettes studded with rhinestones and a pink sheath crystaline duster. Her accessories were beige and she added a white orchid. The couple will make their home at 30 Catskill avenue, this city, on their return from Florida.

The bride was graduated from Sacred Heart Catholic School and Boyden High School, Salisbury. Prior to her marriage, she was with Southern Bell Telephone Co., Salisbury.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Kingston High School, attended State Agriculture and Technical Institute at Canton. He was recently discharged from the army after serving two years with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg. He is in business in this city with his father.

ASKING NEIGHBORS TO USE BACK ENTRANCE

A reader asks: "Will you please tell me if my neighbors could take offense at being asked to use the back door when they drop in to see me during the day? Our front door opens directly into the living room as the streets out here are not as yet paved, a good deal of sand and mud is tracked through the house, and much of this could be avoided if they would use the back entrance. I would appreciate hearing what you think about this?"

Under the circumstances you give, I think explanation to them would make your request understandable and surely no one could take offense.

Silver That Has Not Been Used

Dear Mrs. Post: When the knife has not been used during the meal, should it be picked up at the end of the meat course and laid with the fork across the plate so it will be taken out when the plate is removed?

Answer: It should be left where it is. In correct formal service the table is cleared of the salt cellars and pepper pots and unused silver, and crumbed before dessert by the person waiting on table. If there is no one waiting on table, the unused silver would be left until the table is cleared after the meal.

When Church Service Is Unfamiliar

Dear Mrs. Post: While visiting my son and his wife I went to church with them on Sunday. They belong to a different church than the one that I do and the service was unfamiliar to me. Rather than do something to which I was not accustomed, I simply sat througout the service. My son thinks that I made myself conspicuous by doing this and that I should have knelt when the others did. Did I do the wrong thing?

Answer: You are certainly not expected to do anything that is against your own religious beliefs, but I do agree with your son that you should have followed the example of others insofar as you were able—such as standing when they stood and sitting when they sat.

For traveling, the bride chose a beige sheath linen dress with rosettes studded with rhinestones and a pink sheath crystaline duster. Her accessories were beige and she added a white orchid. The couple will make their home at 30 Catskill avenue, this city, on their return from Florida.

The bride was graduated from Sacred Heart Catholic School and Boyden High School, Salisbury. Prior to her marriage, she was with Southern Bell Telephone Co., Salisbury.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Kingston High School, attended State Agriculture and Technical Institute at Canton. He was recently discharged from the army after serving two years with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg. He is in business in this city with his father.

ASKING NEIGHBORS TO USE BACK ENTRANCE

A reader asks: "Will you please tell me if my neighbors could take offense at being asked to use the back door when they drop in to see me during the day? Our front door opens directly into the living room as the streets out here are not as yet paved, a good deal of sand and mud is tracked through the house, and much of this could be avoided if they would use the back entrance. I would appreciate hearing what you think about this?"

Under the circumstances you give, I think explanation to them would make your request understandable and surely no one could take offense.

Silver That Has Not Been Used

Dear Mrs. Post: When the knife has not been used during the meal, should it be picked up at the end of the meat course and laid with the fork across the plate so it will be taken out when the plate is removed?

Answer: It should be left where it is. In correct formal service the table is cleared of the salt cellars and pepper pots and unused silver, and crumbed before dessert by the person waiting on table. If there is no one waiting on table, the unused silver would be left until the table is cleared after the meal.

When Church Service Is Unfamiliar

Dear Mrs. Post: While visiting my son and his wife I went to church with them on Sunday. They belong to a different church than the one that I do and the service was unfamiliar to me. Rather than do something to which I was not accustomed, I simply sat througout the service. My son thinks that I made myself conspicuous by doing this and that I should have knelt when the others did. Did I do the wrong thing?

Answer: You are certainly not expected to do anything that is against your own religious beliefs, but I do agree with your son that you should have followed the example of others insofar as you were able—such as standing when they stood and sitting when they sat.

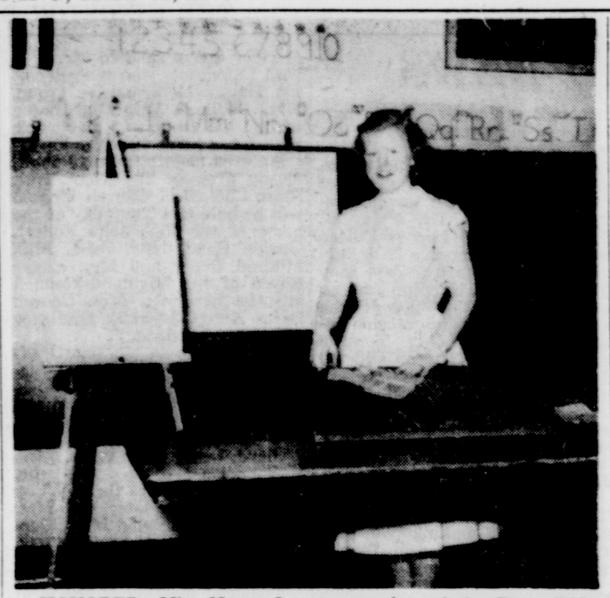
Nehru Gives View

New Delhi, May 31 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today he "definitely" thinks the international situation is generally better. "There is less tension in the world," he told his first news conference since last November. "There is a little more hope in the world. There is a little more understanding in the world."



HONORED—Miss Nancy Larsen, member of the Stone Ridge Busy Beavers 4-H Club, concluding the demonstration which won her an "excellent" award at 4-H Club Demonstration Day.

Miss Nancy Larsen Receives Award For Demonstration

Nancy Larsen, a member of the Stone Ridge Busy Beavers 4-H Club, received an "excellent" award for her demonstration entitled, Mark Your Fabric, It's a Must, at the District 4-H Demonstration Day held at the Old Dutch Church in Kingston on May 26.

Other Ulster county entrants were Barbara Brenner, Janis Kelder and Sarah Ann Civill. They received "good" awards.

Approximately 35 persons attended the demonstration day, which began in the morning and concluded with announcement of awards following luncheon at Leherb's.

Miss Patricia French, Ulster county assistant 4-H agent, was chairman. Judges were Miss Wanda Montgomery, clothing; Miss Gertrude Armbruster, foods, and Mrs. Ruth Rammінger, home improvement.

President Back

Washington, May 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House this morning after a relaxing holiday interlude at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa. The Chief Executive made the 80-mile automobile trip in an hour 55 minutes, with part of the trip through rain.

Miss Jeanne Rylance Has Science Degree From Wagner College

MISS JEANNE RYLANCE

Miss Jeanne L. Rylance, Hurley, received an associate in applied science degree from Wagner College Monday afternoon at the 70th annual commencement exercises.

Dr. Carter Davidson, president of Union College and chancellor of Union University, who received the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters, delivered the Commencement address. President David M. Delo conferred degrees upon 226 members of the graduating class.

Miss Rylance, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rylance, is a graduate of Kingston High School. A secretarial science major, she was treasurer of Delta Lambda Sorority; a member of the Choir; and on the Faith and Life Week Committee.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday in Trinity Lutheran Church, S. I., with the Rev. Ernest C. French, pastor of Resurrection Lutheran Church, Buffalo, as guest preacher. Rev. French received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

MISS MARY CONWAY

Commissioner and Mrs. J. Edward Conway of 329 Albany avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Catherine Conway to Louis A. Di Donna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Di Donna, also of this city. An August wedding is planned.

Miss Conway attended the Academy of the Holy Names and St. Rose College in Albany and Fordham University. She was a member of the radio staff of Mary Margaret McBride and later was associated with station WGNY of Newburgh. Her father is a former judge of the Ulster County Court and now a member of the State Commission Against Discrimination.

Mr. Di Donna is a graduate of Kingston High School, Fordham College and Fordham Law School. He served with the army for two years and was assigned for duty with the Judge Advocate in Frankfurt, Germany. He is now engaged in the practice of law as a member of the firm of Saccoman and Di Donna. (Galati photo)

The census bureau estimates that U. S. population will reach 217 million in the next 25 years.

Josephine Ambrose To Be on Faculty Of Pine Bush School

Miss Josephine C. Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Ambrose of 101 Foxhall avenue, received her AB degree from Ladycliff College, Highland Falls, Saturday.

At college, Miss Ambrose pursued a liberal arts course with a major in history and a minor in English. She was vice president of her class, and president of the Glee Club.

The graduate was also a member of Athletic Association, Sodality, Mission Club and Chapel Choir. She also participated in Cosmopolitan Club and Harvester Art Club. Miss Ambrose was soloist for the Glee Club and Choir.

Miss Ambrose has accepted a teaching position in Pine Bush Central School in September.

Bullets Were Good

Detroit, May 31 (AP)—Martin Taylor, 24, a premedical student at Wayne University, fatally wounded himself yesterday playing a supposedly "safe" game of Russian roulette. Taylor put two cartridges in his .32 calibre revolver. He spun the cylinder, pressed the gun to his head and pulled the trigger. The gun didn't fire. On the second try, the gun fired and Taylor slumped to the floor as seven friends watched. Police said Taylor thought the two cartridges were defective and wouldn't fire.

Miss Lucille Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Brooks, 18 Len Court, has completed the Executive Secretarial Course at the Mildred Elley Secretarial School in Albany.

Miss Brooks was a member of the Student Christian Association, the Bowling League, The Rapid Typists Club and the Rapid Shortand Club. She is a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1954.

Ives Suggests

who has as strong convictions as the President has about getting the government out of business and establishing a sound economy declining to run again, especially when a Democratic victory means the inevitable return of the New Deal," he said.

Ives said what he called a threat to "return to socialism" under the Democrats will offer a potent appeal to Eisenhower to run next year.

"It isn't loyalty to the Republican party that is involved," Ives said. "I think whether the President owes anything to the party is immaterial. But he has a strong sense of public responsibility that will assert itself when the time comes."

Would Keep Secrets

Bedford Village, May 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace says this country should "refuse to give up the hydrogen and atom bombs until a safe machine has been arranged to eliminate all armaments and to enforce that elimination by continuous inspection." The former vice president adds that delay in setting up this machinery is "flirting with violent death." Wallace made the statement yesterday in a Memorial Day speech to the members of the local American Legion Post and volunteer fire department. Wallace lives on a farm in South Salem near here.

Patrolman

Two others were reported injured shortly before 6 p. m., Sunday in a two-car collision on Delaware avenue near Abruyn street.

OFFICERS DeGraff and Buchanan reported a sedan owned by Tony Davide, of 65 Linderman avenue, operated by Viola Davide, of the same address, was going east on Delaware avenue, and the car of Robert Houghtaling, of 219 Downs street, was going west on Delaware avenue.

Three cars and a house were reported damaged in a three-car mishap on Elmendorf street Saturday night, but no injuries were reported.

Officers William Slover and William Snyder reported at 7:45 p. m., that the sedan of Hector Santiago, 20, of 237 East 111th stret, New York, was pulling from the curb, headed east on Elmendorf stret, when it struck two other cars, and the front porch at 47 Elmendorf street.

ALSO PARKED facing east on the street was the sedan of Benjamin Osterhoudt, Jr., of 48 Elmendorf street. The sedan of Raymond Yerry, of 77 Innis avenue, Poughkepsie, was parked facing west. The Santiago car was towed from the scene.

OFFICERS George Dohnken and William Snyder reported at 12:07 a. m., that Hoyt was headed north on East Strand, when the vehicle upset on the Socony Vacuum property, 14 North street. The driver reported no injuries, but the car was towed from the scene.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today imposed a sentence of a $10 fine or 10 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Ronald Hahn, 22, of the Holland Hotel, was arrested on a charge of failure to produce a license, after parked cars and a Perry taxi were reported involved in a mishap in the lot at Cy's Diner, Broadway and East Chester street early Sunday. He was fined $25 in city court today.

OFFICERS Slover and Snyder reported at 2:45 a. m., that the parked cars of D. G. Evanglou and Christ Panteli, of 322 Broadway, and William Early, of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, were involved.

A police report at 10:28 a. m. said the boy suffered lacerations of the forehead and elbow and was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Misses Parade at 88

Leominister, Mass., May 31 (AP)—For the first time in 79 years, Frederick C. Ames did not march in a Memorial Day parade. Ames, who began marching with his father and kept it up every year, said he didn't "feel up to marching" yesterday. He will be 88 next month.

WINNERS OF THE 1955 KIWANIS scholarships, left to right: Barnard E. Carpinelli, Betty Lou Whitmore, Peter Cain, Audry Justus, George Clark, Mary Kelsch, Joseph Carpino, Angela Weiss and David Garfman. The girls were awarded $100 scholarships to be applied toward nurses' training courses at local hospitals. Carpino received the $200 Morris Samter scholarship, and the other boys received the regular $250 Kiwanis grants. (Pennington photo).

Veteran Now 108 Has Pneumonia

Duluth, Minn., May 31 (AP)—Albert Woolson, 108, last surviving Union army soldier of the Civil War, was hospitalized early today with bronchial pneumonia.

An attendant at St. Lukes Hospital said Woolson was resting quietly and that his condition had improved slightly since his arrival at 2:15 a. m. He was placed in an oxygen tent immediately.

His general condition was regarded as fair. Woolson, who visited the grave of his wife yesterday appeared to be in about the same condition as when he was hospitalized for a week last February due to a similar condition. His ailment then was diagnosed as lung congestion.

Agree on Bureau To Handle Coffee

New York, May 31 (AP)—Latin American plans to stabilize coffee prices by withholding some of the crop from the market have moved a step nearer realization.

Delegates from 15 Central and South American and Caribbean nations agreed at a weekend conference here to restablish an international coffee bureau to handle the stabilization job.

Brazil, Colombia, Mexico and El Salvador were named to a committee to draft a constitution for the bureau. The committee will submit its proposals to the Latin American governments for participation.

When the bureau is set up, each member nation is expected to contribute a percentage of its yearly exportable green coffee production to a reserve pool. These supplies could be used if a shortage threatened.

Four Boys Held on Arson, Other Counts

Wappingers Falls, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Four boys aged 9 to 13 were taken into custody by police last night on charges of arson, larceny, vandalism and malicious mischief at St. Mary's Parochial School.

The school was broken into Saturday and a third floor classroom set afire after furniture was smashed. The blaze was quickly brought under control.

Police said the juveniles also admitted vandalism and stealing $20 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars building last Friday. They were held for children's court.

Seven Days Left

Hartford, Conn., May 31 (AP)—Connecticut's politically-divided General Assembly reconvenes today with only seven days to complete action on a pile of major measures. The House, controlled by Republicans, may get down to a vote on the controversial bill to permit games of chance to be conducted by charity, civic, fraternal and religious organizations. Also it may vote on a pay raise for state employes. The raise would amount to about $240-a-year each. The Legislature, which must end the 1955 session on June 8, also must act on rent controls, welfare bills, taxes, direct primaries, shore erosion, court reform and the state budget.

Civil Air Patrol Cadets to Parade Wednesday Night

Cadets of the Kingston Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, are hoping for clear skies Wednesday night when they parade from Academy Green to the Community Theatre on Broadway behind the Stewart Field Air Force Band to see "Strategic Air Command." In case of rain, Cadets will assemble at the theatre at 6:30 p. m.

Capt. Matthew Hasbrouck, Liaison Officer between Air Force and Civil Air Patrol, will be on hand Wednesday evening with other officers. Immediately following the arival of the cadets and Air Force Band at the theatre the band will play a brief concert in the theatre.

Lt. Sidney Lane, commander of the Kingston Squadron, urges the public to note the exhibit of the Air Force in the lobby and invites boys and girls, 15 years of age or older, to consider joining the Civil Air Patrol. There will be someone on hand during the showing of the picture to give pertinent information about the Air Force and Civil Air Patrol.

Traffic Deaths

The toll covered a period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday. The council had estimated 40 million cars would be on the highways during the 78-hour period.

In a survey made by The Associated Press for a similar period May 13-16, the count was 294 traffic fatalities; 58 drownings and 94 deaths in miscellaneous accidents. The total was 446.

Generally mild weather prevailed in most of the country. The number of drownings was believed a record for the holiday.

SEVEN MEN were killed yesterday when a twin-engine air force C-47 crashed in La Luz Canyon, in the southern New Mexico Mountain range, about 20 miles north of Alamogordo, N. M. The plane was en route from Burbank, Calif., to the Clovis Air Force Base, N. M.

Traffic Deaths Increase

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—April was the second consecutive month in which traffic deaths showed an increase, the National Safety Council said today. The death toll was 2,700, the council said, about 4 per cent higher than April, 1954. It was the first time deaths in traffic rose two months straight since a downward trend in September, 1953, the council noted.

Bankers Study Training Problem

Miami, Fla., May 31 (AP)—The problem of securing trained men for the jobs of bank presidents and bank officers came under study today at the 53rd annual convention of the American Institute of Banking.

"It has been said that banking needs 1,000 new bank presidents and 5,000 new bank officers every year."

The American Institute of Banking, the educational arm of the American Banking Assn., began its convention yesterday with some 1,500 persons attending. The meeting will continue through Friday.

Bullets Were Good

Detroit, May 31 (AP)—Martin Taylor, 24, a premedical student at Wayne University, fatally wounded himself yesterday playing a supposedly "safe" game of Russian roulette. Taylor put two cartridges in his .32 calibre revolver. He spun the cylinder, pressed the gun to his head and pulled the trigger. The gun didn't fire. On the second try, the gun fired and Taylor slumped to the floor as seven friends watched. Police said Taylor thought the two cartridges were defective and wouldn't fire.

Miss Brooks Finishes Secretarial Course At Mildred Elley

MISS LUCILLE BROOKS

Miss Lucille Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Brooks, 18 Len Court, has completed the Executive Secretarial Course at the Mildred Elley Secretarial School in Albany.

Miss Brooks was a member of the Student Christian Association, the Bowling League, The Rapid Typists Club and the Rapid Shortand Club. She is a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1954.

Ives Suggests

who has as strong convictions as the President has about getting the government out of business and establishing a sound economy declining to run again, especially when a Democratic victory means the inevitable return of the New Deal," he said.

Ives said what he called a threat to "return to socialism" under the Democrats will offer a potent appeal to Eisenhower to run next year.

"It isn't loyalty to the Republican party that is involved," Ives said. "I think whether the President owes anything to the party is immaterial. But he has a strong sense of public responsibility that will assert itself when the time comes."

Would Keep Secrets

Bedford Village, May 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace says this country should "refuse to give up the hydrogen and atom bombs until a safe machine has been arranged to eliminate all armaments and to enforce that elimination by continuous inspection." The former vice president adds that delay in setting up this machinery is "flirting with violent death." Wallace made the statement yesterday in a Memorial Day speech to the members of the local American Legion Post and volunteer fire department. Wallace lives on a farm in South Salem near here.

Patrolman

Two others were reported injured shortly before 6 p. m., Sunday in a two-car collision on Delaware avenue near Abruyn street.

OFFICERS DeGraff and Buchanan reported a sedan owned by Tony Davide, of 65 Linderman avenue, operated by Viola Davide, of the same address, was going east on Delaware avenue, and the car of Robert Houghtaling, of 219 Downs street, was going west on Delaware avenue.

Viola Davide suffered injuries of the left arm, leg and the face, and John Davide, suffered a bump on the head and a bruised left arm, the report said. Both cars were towed from the scene.

Three cars and a house were reported damaged in a three-car mishap on Elmendorf street Saturday night, but no injuries were reported.

Officers William Slover and William Snyder reported at 7:45 p. m., that the sedan of Hector Santiago, 20, of 237 East 111th stret, New York, was pulling from the curb, headed east on Elmendorf stret, when it struck two other cars, and the front porch at 47 Elmendorf street.

ALSO PARKED facing east on the street was the sedan of Benjamin Osterhoudt, Jr., of 48 Elmendorf street. The sedan of Raymond Yerry, of 77 Innis avenue, Poughkepsie, was parked facing west. The Santiago car was towed from the scene.

Larry Lee Hoyt, 17, of 115 Wall street, was arrested on a charge of operating a car on a junior operator's licence beyond hours permitted, after his car upset at East Strand and North street, early Monday.

OFFICERS George Dohnken and William Snyder reported at 12:07 a. m., that Hoyt was headed north on East Strand, when the vehicle upset on the Socony Vacuum property, 14 North street. The driver reported no injuries, but the car was towed from the scene.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today imposed a sentence of a $10 fine or 10 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Ronald Hahn, 22, of the Holland Hotel, was arrested on a charge of failure to produce a license, after parked cars and a Perry taxi were reported involved in a mishap in the lot at Cy's Diner, Broadway and East Chester street early Sunday. He was fined $25 in city court today.

OFFICERS Slover and Snyder reported at 2:45 a. m., that the parked cars of D. G. Evanglou and Christ Panteli, of 322 Broadway, and William Early, of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, were involved.

Stephan Sherlock, 6, of 16 Andrew street, was injured when he fell from a bicycle near Ryan's barber shop on Broadway Monday morning.

A police report at 10:28 a. m. said the boy suffered lacerations of the forehead and elbow and was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Misses Parade at 88

Leominister, Mass., May 31 (AP)—For the first time in 79 years, Frederick C. Ames did not march in a Memorial Day parade. Ames, who began marching with his father and kept it up every year, said he didn't "feel up to marching" yesterday. He will be 88 next month.

Carpino received the $200 Morris Samter scholarship, and the other boys received the regular $250 Kiwanis grants. (Pennington photo).

Veteran Now 108 Has Pneumonia

Duluth, Minn., May 31 (AP)—Albert Woolson, 108, last surviving Union army soldier of the Civil War, was hospitalized early today with bronchial pneumonia.

An attendant at St. Lukes Hospital said Woolson was resting quietly and that his condition had improved slightly since his arrival at 2:15 a. m. He was placed in an oxygen tent immediately.

His general condition was regarded as fair. Woolson, who visited the grave of his wife yesterday appeared to be in about the same condition as when he was hospitalized for a week last February due to a similar condition. His ailment then was diagnosed as lung congestion.

Agree on Bureau To Handle Coffee

New York, May 31 (AP)—Latin American plans to stabilize coffee prices by withholding some of the crop from the market have moved a step nearer realization.

Delegates from 15 Central and South American and Caribbean nations agreed at a weekend conference here to restablish an international coffee bureau to handle the stabilization job.

Brazil, Colombia, Mexico and El Salvador were named to a committee to draft a constitution for the bureau. The committee will submit its proposals to the Latin American governments for participation.

When the bureau is set up, each member nation is expected to contribute a percentage of its yearly exportable green coffee production to a reserve pool. These supplies could be used if a shortage threatened.

Four Boys Held on Arson, Other Counts

Wappingers Falls, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—Four boys aged 9 to 13 were taken into custody by police last night on charges of arson, larceny, vandalism and malicious mischief at St. Mary's Parochial School.

The school was broken into Saturday and a third floor classroom set afire after furniture was smashed. The blaze was quickly brought under control.

Police said the juveniles also admitted vandalism and stealing $20 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars building last Friday.

They were held for children's court.

Hartford, Conn., May 31 (AP)—Connecticut's politically-divided General Assembly reconvenes today with only seven days to complete action on a pile of major measures. The House, controlled by Republicans, may get down to a vote on the controversial bill to permit games of chance to be conducted by charity, civic, fraternal and religious organizations. Also it may vote on a pay raise for state employes. The raise would amount to about $240-a-year each. The Legislature, which must end the 1955 session on June 8, also must act on rent controls, welfare bills, taxes, direct primaries, shore erosion, court reform and the state budget.

Civil Air Patrol Cadets to Parade Wednesday Night

Cadets of the Kingston Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, are hoping for clear skies Wednesday night when they parade from Academy Green to the Community Theatre on Broadway behind the Stewart Field Air Force Band to see "Strategic Air Command." In case of rain, Cadets will assemble at the theatre at 6:30 p. m.

Capt. Matthew Hasbrouck, Liaison Officer between Air Force and Civil Air Patrol, will be on hand Wednesday evening with other officers. Immediately following the arival of the cadets and Air Force Band at the theatre the band will play a brief concert in the theatre.

Lt. Sidney Lane, commander of the Kingston Squadron, urges the public to note the exhibit of the Air Force in the lobby and invites boys and girls, 15 years of age or older, to consider joining the Civil Air Patrol. There will be someone on hand during the showing of the picture to give pertinent information about the Air Force and Civil Air Patrol.

Traffic Deaths

The toll covered a period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday. The council had estimated 40 million cars would be on the highways during the 78-hour period.

In a survey made by The Associated Press for a similar period May 13-16, the count was 294 traffic fatalities; 58 drownings and 94 deaths in miscellaneous accidents. The total was 446.

Generally mild weather prevailed in most of the country. The number of drownings was believed a record for the holiday.

SEVEN MEN were killed yesterday when a twin-engine air force C-47 crashed in La Luz Canyon, in the southern New Mexico Mountain range, about 20 miles north of Alamogordo, N. M. The plane was en route from Burbank, Calif., to the Clovis Air Force Base, N. M.

Traffic Deaths Increase

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—April was the second consecutive month in which traffic deaths showed an increase, the National Safety Council said today. The death toll was 2,700, the council said, about 4 per cent higher than April, 1954. It was the first time deaths in traffic rose two months straight since a downward trend in September, 1953, the council noted.

Bankers Study Training Problem

Miami, Fla., May 31 (AP)—The problem of securing trained men for the jobs of bank presidents and bank officers came under study today at the 53rd annual convention of the American Institute of Banking.

Dr. Leory Lewis of New York, director of education for the national organization, said, "finding capable trained people to fill vacancies at the executive level is one of the most serious problems facing banks today."

"It has been said that banking needs 1,000 new bank presidents and 5,000 new bank officers every year."

The American Institute of Banking, the educational arm of the American Banking Assn., began its convention yesterday with some 1,500 persons attending. The meeting will continue through Friday.

Raichle and Leininger Lead Member - Guest

Card 136 to Beat Record Field

Twaalfskill's golf chairman, Clarence "Dubby" Raichle, and his partner, Henry J. "Bud" Leininger, teamed to win the annual Twaalfskill Member-Guest tournament with a low net of 136 Memorial Day.

Second place in the record breaking entry of 72 players went to Leo Yonnetti and Ed Fautz with 138. Charles J. Turck and Seymour Werbalowsky shot 140 for third place.

Tied at 145 net for fourth place were Louis G. Bruhn-Frank Stone and Dr. John Olivet-Louis 'Chic" Provenzano.

Raichle and Leininger fired a 143 gross and had 7 handicap. Yonnetti and Fautz grossed 165 and had 27 handicap.

John Jordan was chairman of the event and handled the action in great style. The field was probably the largest ever in Kingston for a tournament of this type and ran from 8:45 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Guests and members enjoyed a hearty meal after the matches.

The summaries beyond fourth place:

De Lisios, Bill Van Aken, Russell Woodstock Winners

A father-son combination tied for low net honors in the Sunday golf tournament at Woodstock Country Club.

The father had a gross 83 and 17 handicap, with DeLisio junior shooting 75 gross, with 9 handicap. Bill Van Aken, club champion, and Allen Waterous tied with 71s for low gross honors.

VAN AKEN CAME back Memorial Day to tie Luther Russell with a net 52 in the throw-out tournament, with scores based on the best 15 holes and adjusted handicaps.

Van Aken fired 68 with nines of 32 and 36. Russell had a 65 gross and 13 handicap. Frank X. McCahill and Walter Van Wagenen tied at 53 and Allen Waterous and Thomas Dendy hit 54s.

Third place in the Sunday event went to Allen Waterous with net 68. Other net scores included Phil Coletti 84-15-69; Bill Van Aken 71-1-70; Leon Forst 101-30-71; Frank X. McCahill 78-7-71; George Svirsky 81-9-72; Ord Morrel 84-11-73; Deanie Elwyn 85-12-73.

Maroon Varsity Teams in Action

Three Kingston High school varsity teams were scheduled to see action today.

The undefeated, DUSO-title bound tennis squad will seek its tenth straight success against Middletown High at 4:30 p. m., at Middletown.

Wallkill Beats New Paltz, 4-2; Repke Whiffs 12

John Repke limited New Paltz High to three hits as Wallkill Central scored a 4-2 UCAL baseball victory at Wallkill.

DUSO Track Laurels To Newburgh Academy

Goldbacks Cop Nine First Places

Newburgh Academy's gifted thinclads won nine of 13 events and rolled up 128 points to dominate the annual DUSO League track meet Saturday at Newburgh.

Middletown High was second with 81¾ points. Port Jervis took third with 70½ and Kingston High was fourth with 22 5/6 points.

Monticello scored 14 points; Liberty High 10 5/12 and Poughkeepsie 6½. The league used a new six-place scoring system for the first time on a 10-6-4-3-2-1 basis.

MICKEY BURKOSKI, NFA's brilliant all-round athlete, and his teammate, Sylvester, scored doubles. Burkoski leaped 5 feet 8 inches in the high jump and won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 5 inches.

Sylvester was the sprint star of the meet, winning the century in 10.9 and the 220 in 24.2 seconds.

Newburgh set two new meet records in the field events where Ralph Widmer heaved the shot 49 feet 11 inches and Dick Lease hurled the javelin 176 feet, 3½ inches. Jack Higgins won the mile in 4:43.8 for Newburgh.

DICK FREYTAG of Port Jervis won the 180-yard hurdles in 22.5 seconds. Gene McClelland, Middletown's mile ace, ran the 440 instead and took the race in 52.5 seconds.

Decker of Middletown leaped 10 feet even to capture the pole vault and Pagano of Port Jervis tossed the discus 137 feet, 8 inches for a first in that specialty.

Matthew Marabella was locked in a four-way tie for second place in the pole vault. The Kingston 440 relay was second behind Newburgh. Robert Haynes, Larry Johnson, Robert Smith and Paul Modjeska ran for Kingston.

You have to regard Eddie Kithcart's imminent foray into the professional boxing ranks with trepidation and yet you can't help wishing the likeable Glasco youngster all the luck in the world. And add a silent prayer . . . he'll need it.

Kithcart doesn't need luck to make the grade in the fight-for-pay ranks of the world's most inhuman "sport." He has the physical equipment and a burning ambition.

He'll need the luck and divine providence to steer him clear of the cliques and gangster syndicates that make of a youngster trying to crash their exclusive circle nothing more than a human chattel, to be bled white, physically and financially and then tossed on the human bone pile.

If Eddie doesn't make the proper managerial "connections," all the talent in the world won't move him out of Stillman's gym.

If he neds any case histories to convince him of the vicious syndicates and "influence'' in boxing, he has only to consult a prominent welterweight contender he knows rather well. A guy out of Paterson, N. J., named Vince Martinez, who has made frequent trips to the Glasco-Saugerties area.

What Martinez could tell Kithcart about the fight mob would fill a large book. He might also explain why he hasn't been able to get a bout since he broke off relations with his former manager, Bill Daly.

He should also know that professional boxing isn't all the glamor that the beer suds and razor blade sponsors bring to your TV set a couple time weekly. Behind every main event there are thousands of pitiful human wrecks trying to make the grade. There are countless numbers of Archie Moore's, who waited 20 years before he received a shot at a boxing title.

Eddie is supposed to have Jimmy Bronson fronting for him as manager, nice guy, Jimmy Bronson. Once had Gene Tunney, the world's heavyweight champion. But how much influence does Mr. Bronson have these days? Does he crash the inner sanctum of the Carbos, Palermos, Cocos and other pillars of piety who infest the boxing ranks. Only time will tell and we wish Eddie the best.

We could tell Eddie another story, too. One about a young lad who came storming out of Schenectady to dazzle Kingston amateur boxing audiences. His name was Mario Severino . . . "Baby Face" they called him.

As Marty Servo he won the world's welterweight championship from Red Cochrane. The mob decided Marty should tangle with Rocky Graziano, then a jungle killer of the ring. It was an obvious and tragic mismatch.

Servo fought Graziano, then at the peak of his explosive career, had his nose broken, his career wrecked. Servo's cut was $40,000 that night. But poor Marty "netted" less than $8,000 after the leches and hidden managers got through committing surgery on his paycheck.

Poirer Stops Diaz in Fourth

New York, May 31 (AP)—Gene Poirier is a fighter in a hurry to make up time.

Cuba's Miguel Diaz found that out last night. Poirier, a dead-panned Korean war veteran with a wicked wallop, dropped the visitor twice and stopped him in 2:17 of the fourth round of a television scrap at St. Nicholas Arena.

A month ago, the rangy, 23-year-old welterweight from Niagara Falls, N. Y., knocked out young Johnny Busso with one right hand blow in the third round.

The victory over Diaz, a detective when he's not fighting, was Poirier's seventh straight, his 17th against one defeat (he drew in two) and was his ninth via the kayo route.

Lischke Pontiacs New Ferraro Classic Champs

The Pontiacs finished with 62 wins and 43 losses. R&F had 61 and 44.

Sweikert Wins '500'; Bill Vukovich Killed

Indianapolis, May 31 (AP)—Curly-haired, boyish Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis will pick up a check of about $75,000 at the 500-mile auto race victory dinner tonight and somebody will accept at least $7,500 for Bill Vukovich's widow.

Vukovich, an intense little Slovenian mechanic from Fresno, Calif., was feeding his exhaust fumes to the field for the fourth straight year when he died in a flaming wreck that took five cars out of the race yesterday.

He won 50 of the first 56 laps before he died, at $150 a lap.

THERE WERE seven casualties in the bloodiest Memorial Day race since 1930, when seven cars smashed up in a single accident. The wrecks brought the speed down to 128.209 miles an hour, compared with Vukovich's record 130.84 set last year.

Vuky had escaped injury late in the 1952 race when his steering failed and Troy Ruttman came on to win. He won in 1953 and 1954, and was going after the first three-in-a row series in the Speedway's history.

Yesterday's race started off as a tremendous duel between Vukovich and Jack McGrath of Inglewood, Calif., the early leader in four of the last five Memorial Day classics.

IN SPITE of a gusty wind, the two veteran drivers fought for the lead as if they were in a dirt track sprint.

McGrath's ignition system failed and he was through at 135 miles. Sweikert, Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., and 1954 national champion Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix were chasing—but not gaining on — Vukovich when the big wreck happened with stunning suddenness.

Rodger Ward of Los Angeles lost control coming out of the southwest turn. Johnny Boyd, fellow townman of Vukovich driving in his first 50, locked wheels with Al Keller, another Speedway rookie from Green Acres, Fla., and both cars flipped.

VUKOVICH DIDN'T have a chance. His Hopkins Special plowed into the wreckage and bounced end over end. It went over the wall, hit a safety patrol car and stopped upside down, in flames.

Vukovich, 36, turned to the big cars, and the big money, after winning the National Midget racing championship in 1950. He led in 486 of the last 800 laps he raced at the Speedway.

Ward escaped with a scrapped nose. Injuries of Keller and Boyd also were relatively minor. Richard Wolfe suffered a fractured collarbone and Chares D. Mallender a broken ankle in the patrol car hit by one of Vukovich's wheels.

Sweikert was unchallenged the last 100 miles while Bettenhausen and Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., fought a spirited battle for second place.

Wagner-Adlers Annex State Title With 3169

Elmira, May 31 (AP)—The pin-shattering Wagner & Adler Highskores of New York city today held the team championship crown of the New York State men's bowling tournament with a score second only to the all-time high they set themselves in 1952.

The New Yorkers brought the ten-week tourney to a smashing climax over the weekend by rolling up a score of 3,169, 50 pins less than the all-time record they set at Kingston, N. Y., in 1952.

Two New York city bowlers and two Buffalo bowlers won the championships in the other three divisions.

THE HIGHSKORES took the alleys Sunday with the knowledge that they had to better what proved to be the third highest all-time score of 3,157 established Saturday by the V-Loria & Sons team, also of New York city.

Jim Schroeder of Buffalo won the singles crown with 704 rolled several weeks ago, and Joe Di Figlia of Buffalo won his second all-events championship with 1,935, also rolled early in the tourney. Di Figlia won his first title in 1950 at Syracuse with 1,343 pins, the highest score since Rudy Fassl and Eddie Botten of New York took the event in 1941 with 1,367. Bagley and Jurist also led the handicap doubles division with 1,391.

Faragalli, defending all-events champion, placed third in that division with 1,888.

Card 136 to Beat Record Field

Twaalfskill's golf chairman, Clarence "Dubby" Raichle, and his partner, Henry J. "Bud" Leininger, teamed to win the annual Twaalfskill Member-Guest tournament with a low net of 136 Memorial Day.

Second place in the record breaking entry of 72 players went to Leo Yonnetti and Ed Fautz with 138. Charles J. Turck and Seymour Werbalowsky shot 140 for third place.

Tied at 145 net for fourth place were Louis G. Bruhn-Frank Stone and Dr. John Olivet-Louis 'Chic" Provenzano.

Raichle and Leininger fired a 143 gross and had 7 handicap. Yonnetti and Fautz grossed 165 and had 27 handicap.

John Jordan was chairman of the event and handled the action in great style. The field was probably the largest ever in Kingston for a tournament of this type and ran from 8:45 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Guests and members enjoyed a hearty meal after the matches.

De Lisios, Bill Van Aken, Russell Woodstock Winners

A father-son combination tied for low net honors in the Sunday golf tournament at Woodstock Country Club.

The father had a gross 83 and 17 handicap, with DeLisio junior shooting 75 gross, with 9 handicap. Bill Van Aken, club champion, and Allen Waterous tied with 71s for low gross honors.

VAN AKEN CAME back Memorial Day to tie Luther Russell with a net 52 in the throw-out tournament, with scores based on the best 15 holes and adjusted handicaps.

Van Aken fired 68 with nines of 32 and 36. Russell had a 65 gross and 13 handicap. Frank X. McCahill and Walter Van Wagenen tied at 53 and Allen Waterous and Thomas Dendy hit 54s.

Third place in the Sunday event went to Allen Waterous with net 68. Other net scores included Phil Coletti 84-15-69; Bill Van Aken 71-1-70; Leon Forst 101-30-71; Frank X. McCahill 78-7-71; George Svirsky 81-9-72; Ord Morrel 84-11-73; Deanie Elwyn 85-12-73.

Maroon Varsity Teams in Action

Three Kingston High school varsity teams were scheduled to see action today.

The undefeated, DUSO-title bound tennis squad will seek its tenth straight success against Middletown High at 4:30 p. m., at Middletown.

Wallkill Beats New Paltz, 4-2; Repke Whiffs 12

John Repke limited New Paltz High to three hits as Wallkill Central scored a 4-2 UCAL baseball victory at Wallkill.

DUSO Track Laurels To Newburgh Academy

Goldbacks Cop Nine First Places

Newburgh Academy's gifted thinclads won nine of 13 events and rolled up 128 points to dominate the annual DUSO League track meet Saturday at Newburgh.

Middletown High was second with 81¾ points. Port Jervis took third with 70½ and Kingston High was fourth with 22 5/6 points.

Monticello scored 14 points; Liberty High 10 5/12 and Poughkeepsie 6½. The league used a new six-place scoring system for the first time on a 10-6-4-3-2-1 basis.

MICKEY BURKOSKI, NFA's brilliant all-round athlete, and his teammate, Sylvester, scored doubles. Burkoski leaped 5 feet 8 inches in the high jump and won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 5 inches.

Sylvester was the sprint star of the meet, winning the century in 10.9 and the 220 in 24.2 seconds.

Newburgh set two new meet records in the field events where Ralph Widmer heaved the shot 49 feet 11 inches and Dick Lease hurled the javelin 176 feet, 3½ inches. Jack Higgins won the mile in 4:43.8 for Newburgh.

DICK FREYTAG of Port Jervis won the 180-yard hurdles in 22.5 seconds. Gene McClelland, Middletown's mile ace, ran the 440 instead and took the race in 52.5 seconds.

Decker of Middletown leaped 10 feet even to capture the pole vault and Pagano of Port Jervis tossed the discus 137 feet, 8 inches for a first in that specialty.

Matthew Marabella was locked in a four-way tie for second place in the pole vault. The Kingston 440 relay was second behind Newburgh. Robert Haynes, Larry Johnson, Robert Smith and Paul Modjeska ran for Kingston.

Sweikert Wins '500'; Bill Vukovich Killed

Indianapolis, May 31 (AP)—Curly-haired, boyish Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis will pick up a check of about $75,000 at the 500-mile auto race victory dinner tonight and somebody will accept at least $7,500 for Bill Vukovich's widow.

Vukovich, an intense little Slovenian mechanic from Fresno, Calif., was feeding his exhaust fumes to the field for the fourth straight year when he died in a flaming wreck that took five cars out of the race yesterday.

He won 50 of the first 56 laps before he died, at $150 a lap.

THERE WERE seven casualties in the bloodiest Memorial Day race since 1930, when seven cars smashed up in a single accident. The wrecks brought the speed down to 128.209 miles an hour, compared with Vukovich's record 130.84 set last year.

Vuky had escaped injury late in the 1952 race when his steering failed and Troy Ruttman came on to win. He won in 1953 and 1954, and was going after the first three-in-a row series in the Speedway's history.

Yesterday's race started off as a tremendous duel between Vukovich and Jack McGrath of Inglewood, Calif., the early leader in four of the last five Memorial Day classics.

IN SPITE of a gusty wind, the two veteran drivers fought for the lead as if they were in a dirt track sprint.

McGrath's ignition system failed and he was through at 135 miles. Sweikert, Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., Sam Hanks of Burbank, Calif., and 1954 national champion Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix were chasing—but not gaining on — Vukovich when the big wreck happened with stunning suddenness.

Rodger Ward of Los Angeles lost control coming out of the southwest turn. Johnny Boyd, fellow townman of Vukovich driving in his first 50, locked wheels with Al Keller, another Speedway rookie from Green Acres, Fla., and both cars flipped.

VUKOVICH DIDN'T have a chance. His Hopkins Special plowed into the wreckage and bounced end over end. It went over the wall, hit a safety patrol car and stopped upside down, in flames.

Vukovich, 36, turned to the big cars, and the big money, after winning the National Midget racing championship in 1950. He led in 486 of the last 800 laps he raced at the Speedway.

Ward escaped with a scrapped nose. Injuries of Keller and Boyd also were relatively minor. Richard Wolfe suffered a fractured collarbone and Chares D. Mallender a broken ankle in the patrol car hit by one of Vukovich's wheels.

Sweikert drove a smart, steady race and deserved the victory that came when the early front-runners were wrecked or slowed down by mechanical troubles.

Wagner-Adlers Annex State Title With 3169

Elmira, May 31 (AP)—The pin-shattering Wagner & Adler Highskores of New York city today held the team championship crown of the New York State men's bowling tournament with a score second only to the all-time high they set themselves in 1952.

The New Yorkers brought the ten-week tourney to a smashing climax over the weekend by rolling up a score of 3,169, 50 pins less than the all-time record they set at Kingston, N. Y., in 1952.

Two New York city bowlers and two Buffalo bowlers won the championships in the other three divisions.

THE HIGHSKORES took the alleys Sunday with the knowledge that they had to better what proved to be the third highest all-time score of 3,157 established Saturday by the V-Loria & Sons team, also of New York city.

Jim Schroeder of Buffalo won the singles crown with 704 rolled several weeks ago, and Joe Di Figlia of Buffalo won his second all-events championship with 1,935, also rolled early in the tourney. Di Figlia won his first title in 1950 at Syracuse with 1,343 pins , the highest score since Rudy Fassl and Eddie Botten of New York took the event in 1941 with 1,367. Bagley and Jurist also led the handicap doubles division with 1,391.

Faragalli, defending all-events champion, placed third in that division with 1,888.

JCC's Golf Tournament Set At Twaalfskill Club June 13

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual golf tournament will be held Monday, June 13, at Twaalfskill, JCC chairman, Seymour Werbalowsky has announced.

The 18-hole medal event will qualify two players for the New York state finals scheduled at Elmira on July 24-25-26. The competition will be on a scratch basis.

All male golfers who will not have reached their 18th birthday by August 15 of this year are eligible.

Prizes for the local tournament will be in the form of a trophy or its equivalent. Local sporting goods dealers will donate other prizes. There is no entry fee.

Two new features will be added this year in the form of driving and putting contests. The driving contest opens the program at 2:30, with the putting competition to follow regular play.

Chairman Werbalowsky reports that early inquiries about the tournament indicate a record breaking entry. He is being assisted on the golf committee by Bob Beaumont and Robert McKinnon.

Entries can be made at Twaalfskill or mailed to Seymour Werbalowsky, 86 John street.

The SCOREBOARD

By JOE REICHLER
(The Associated Press)

Such fill-ins as Bob Speake, George Crowe, Roy Smalley, Gene Stephens, Elmer Valo, Harry Simpson, Juan Delis and others made their managers glad they kept them around.

Speake was a one-man riot as the sizzling Chicago Cubs bombed the St. Louis Cardinals twice in extra innings 9-5 and 4-3 for their 14th and 15th victories in the last 19 games.

Crowe's bat provided most of the fireworks as Milwaukee captured two hitting sprees from Cincinnati 7-6 and 8-4. Smalley was the big gun in Philadelphia's split with the New York Giants. After dropping the opener, 6-5, the Phillies came back to win the second game 3-1.

The subs didn't get a chance as Brooklyn's regulars swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 8-4 and 8-3.

UTILITY outfielders Simpson and Valo led the Kansas City Athletics in a double-barreled triumph over Detroit 8-6 and 5-4. Washington beat New York 3-2 when substitute Juan Delis sent the tying run to third with a 10th-inning single and scored the winning run on another single by pinch hitter Maury McDermott. The Yankees took the second game 5-3 on pinch hitter Irv Noren's two-run single in the seventh.

The other two American League twin bills also ended in splits. Billy Pierce pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 5-0 victory over Cleveland after the Indians massacred the Sox 9-1 on 16 hits in the opener. Baltimore defeated Boston 8-6 but the Red Sox bounced back with an 8-1 second game victory as Stephens drove in four runs with a double and triple in support of a four-hit pitching job by Ike Delock.

Speake, who batted only .264 with Des Moines in the Class A Western League, continued his sensational slugging since he replaced the then injured Hank Sauer in the Cubs' outfield. The Springfield, Mo., youngster hit his 11th homer of the season and the second of the day in the 11th inning to win the nightcap. His two-run homer in the ninth of the opener paved the way for Chicago's winning four-run rally in the 10th.

CROWE, substituting for the slumping Joe Adcock at first base, cracked an eighth inning single to score Hank Aaron with the winning run in the first game. His three-run homer, his fourth since he got into the lineup, got the Braves off to a slugging start in the first inning of the nightcap.

Smalley, filling in for the injured Granny Hamner at shortstop, homered in a losing cause for the Phillies as Willie Mays' two-run homer in the eighth won for the Giants. Roy's fifth-inning single, however, drove in the insurance run in the second game.

Simpson, the Cleveland discard, banged two doubles and drove in two runs as a centerfield replacement for Bill Wilson to account for the winning margin in Kansas City's first game triumph over Detroit. Valo, Enos Slaughter's replacement in right field, drilled a 10th inning double—his fourth hit of the nightcap—and scored the winning run on a single by Gus Zernial.

Dave Philley, playing in place of the slumping Ralph Kiner in right field, featured Cleveland's first game victory over Chicago with his first home run of the season and a single. His hitting made it easy for Bob Lemon to register his seventh triumph. Pierce scattered seven hits and struck out eight for his fourth White Sox victory in the finale.

THE KEY HIT of Delis, subbing for the ailing Eddie Yost at third for Washington, payed the way for Bob Porterfield's sixth success in a pitching duel with New York's Bob Turley. Noren's hit as a substitute batter for Hank Bauer gave Tommy Byrne his second 1955 triumph in the nightcap. Both have been over the Senators.

Cal Abrams, used in right field in place of Gil Coan, scored three runs in Baltimore's victory over Boston that took some of the glitter from Ted Williams' first home run of the season. Stephens took over left field when Williams was rested in the second game.

Pitcher Don Newcombe turned slugger, pounding out two home runs and a single while striking out nine pirates as he chalked up his eighth victory without a defeat to give the Dodgers their fourth straight triumph. Russ Meyer, with the help of Roy Campanella's three-run homer, won his third game in the opener. Campanella also homered in the nightcap, his 11th of the year, to drive in his 44th run, highest total in the majors.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Billy Pierce, White Sox, scattered seven Cleveland hits in a 5-0 second game victory as the White Sox split a double header with the Indians, who won the first game 9-1.

BATTING—Bob Speake, Cubs, hit a two-run homer in the first game as Chicago defeated St. Louis 9-5 in 10 innings and then hit one in the eleventh inning to nip the Cardinals 4-3.

Switch to Fitz for a Flavor BONUS

If you're tired of thin-tasting beer . . . if you have a yen for smooth-tasting, lip-smacking beer with a wonderful FLAVOR BONUS, then Fitzgerald is for you. It's true that sometimes, in some places, Fitz may be in short supply (because beer like Fitzgerald can't be hurried; it's aged extra slow and naturally, not artificially, carbonated). But when you do latch onto a glass or a 6-pak of Fitz, you've got yourself one of those rare good beers that never stops bubbling with liveliness . . . that greets your lips with rich foam . . . that's laced all through with delicious extra flavor—a flavor bonus! Try it. Switch to Fitzgerald for a flavor bonus—extra flavor at no extra cost!

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Famed Falls Restaurant

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—A $100,000 fire has wrecked Alphonso's Restaurant, famed dining spot in the lower Adirondacks.

Alfonse Grubhofer, the owner, and several firemen were hospitalized for shock and smoke poisoning in the fire that broke out about 10 p. m. Saturday and raged into the early hours of Sunday.

About 300 diners were forced to flee.

Grubhofer, who suffered shock, was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

Fire officials, who estimated the damage, said that living quarters on the upper floor of the two-story, log structure were destroyed. Part of the roof collapsed. The interior of the restaurant, on the ground floor, suffered heavy smoke and water damage.

Officials said the fire apparently started in the kitchen ceiling.

Escapes Severe Injuries

Irving, Tex., May 31 (AP)—Ambulance attendants pried Lowell Consler Jr., 33, from the wreckage of his automobile and found he suffered only a broken nose and a facial cut. Consler had been en route to a friend's funeral when a Rock Island freight struck his car and carried it a quarter mile down the track yesterday.

More than a million Americans have been killed in auto traffic crashes.

Chest X-Rays In Saugerties On June 16-17

An industrial and business chest X-ray survey will be conducted in the Township of Saugerties on June 16 and 17. The Ulster County Department of Health and the Ulster County TB and Health Association are offering this free chest X-ray to Saugerties industries, business managers and their employes.

The TB Association has employed Powers X-ray Company of Glen Cove, N. Y., with their mobile unit to take the chest X-rays at various locations in Saugerties.

A meeting of managers of industries, businesses, and their employes will be held Thursday, June 2, at 8 p. m. at the Municipal Building on Partition street, to discuss and make plans for the survey.

The film "The Inside Story" will be shown.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, County Commissioner of Health, and members of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, will discuss the purpose and procedures of the survey and the value of a chest X-ray.

Tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, lung tumor and other abnormalities can be found in a chest X-ray. Medical authorities find that persons in middle and older ages are now suffering the highest incidence of tuberculosis. All individuals of employable age should take advantage of such health measures to discover tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, lung tumor and other conditions since many of these abnormalities when discovered early can be cured.

"Early Discovery means Early Recovery."

It is important that persons in all industries, stores and other businesses in the Saugerties Township attend this meeting on June 2 so they may discuss this health program.

Any other individual interested is also welcome.

Missionary Youth Rally Scheduled All-day Saturday

The Hudson Valley District Youth Rally of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will meet in Kingston this Saturday with the Youth Group of the local Alliance Church, Franklin and Pine streets, as host society.

The services will be attended by youth groups from Mt. Vernon, Port Chester, White Plains, Peekskill, Poughkeepsie, Nyack and Middletown will be held in the First Church of the Nazarene, corner of Elmendorf and Wiltwyck.

THE AFTERNOON service will feature a missionary rally with the Rev. F. W. Bowman of French West Africa as the missionary speaker. Special music will be presented. The supper hour will be at 5 p. m. The Youth Choir will present special music at the evening service with a song program beginning at 6:30 p. m.

The Rev. Bernard S. King, national treasurer of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will be the speaker at the evening gospel service. The Rev. Mr. King, former district superintendent of the C & MA and chaplain, U. S. Army, was recently reelected for a second term of three years as the treasurer of the worldwide missionary organization. He is described as a dynamic youth speaker.

THE PUBLIC is cordially invited to attend the afternoon service, which begins at 2 p. m., the evening service at 6:30 p. m. and preaching at 7:30 p. m. at the Church of the Nazarene sponsored by the Hudson Valley District Youth Groups of the C & MA.

Iron Lung Mother Dies

Fort Worth, Tex., May 31 (AP)—An 18-year-old mother whose daughter was delivered while the mother was an iron lung patient died last night. Mrs. Charles Ray Thomas died in the iron lung that had kept her alive since she was stricken with polio Aug. 3. She had been listed in poor or critical condition since that time. The daughter, Landa Kay, delivered Aug. 17, continues in good health.

Urges Use of Carriers

New York, May 31 (AP)—Theodore W. Kheel, impartial chairman of the city's privately-owned transit industry, says the sharp drop in passengers on transit lines "is tied directly and inseparably to the city's No. 1 problem: Traffic." He says the main solution to the traffic problem would be greater use by the public of mass transit facilities. Kheel, who filed a report last night, was delegated two weeks ago to coordinate efforts toward developing a plan to stop the trend of diminishing revenues on surface and subway lines. He is acting for nine private bus companies and two unions representing their 10,000 employes.

Heavy Theft

Helena, Mont., May 31 (AP)—This was a heavy take. Porter Bros. Co. reported the theft of 115 bucket tins, each weighing 98 pounds, a one-ton chain block and a 115-pound anvil, all taken from company's gold dredge site on the city's outskirts. The huge dredge is being dismantled for shipment to Boise, Idaho.

Held on Three Charges

New York, May 31 (AP)—A 17-year-old boy was arrested today on a charge of raping a 69-year-old woman. The prisoner, identified as Ivor Celms, of Manhattan, also was charged with burglary and assault. Police said he broke into an apartment at 115 Post avenue. The name of the alleged victim was withheld by police.

JULIETTE G. KRAMER, Dabos-Pletz, Switzerland.

SARAH KROBOFF, Tallin, Estonia

If said above named persons be living and if dead, the executors, administrators, distrubtees, legatees and devisees of the above named persons and all persons who by purchase or inheritance or otherwise have or claim to have an interest in the estate of Amalie B. Abramowitz, or their executors, administrators, distributees, legatees, devisees, or through any of them, which executors, administrators, distributees, legatees and devisees and other persons, if any there be, and their names and post office addresses are unknown to petitioners, and also to persons who are to make any claim whatsoever as executors or administrators of any person who may be deceased, and who, if living, would have any interest in the estate of Amalie B. Abramowitz, deceased, derived through any or all of the above named persons or their distributees, devisees, legatees and which persons, if any there be, and their names and post office addresses are unknown to the petitioner.

SEND GREETING:

Upon the petition of Henry B. Abramowitz, of Kingston, New York.

You and each of you are hereby cited to show cause, at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's Office in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 21st day of June, 1955, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day why a certain paper writing dated April 30th, 1953 and a Codicil dated May 5th, 1953 relating to both real and personal property presented to the said Surrogate Court should not be proved and admitted to probate and recorded as the last Will and Testament of Amalie B. Abramowitz, late of the City of Kingston, Ulster County, State of New York, deceased, upon the petition of Henry B. Abramowitz, of the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, and why Letters Testamentary should not be issued to Henry B. Abramowitz, Max Abramowitz and Albert Armand, named and appointed as executors therein.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

(L. S.) WITNESS, Hon. John B. Sterley, Surrogate of our said County of Ulster, at Kingston, N. Y. this 13th day of May, 1955

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Famed Falls Restaurant

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 31 (AP)—A $100,000 fire has wrecked Alphonso's Restaurant, famed dining spot in the lower Adirondacks.

Alfonse Grubhofer, the owner, and several firemen were hospitalized for shock and smoke poisoning in the fire that broke out about 10 p. m. Saturday and raged into the early hours of Sunday.

About 300 diners were forced to flee.

Grubhofer, who suffered shock, was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

Fire officials, who estimated the damage, said that living quarters on the upper floor of the two-story, log structure were destroyed. Part of the roof collapsed. The interior of the restaurant, on the ground floor, suffered heavy smoke and water damage.

Officials said the fire apparently started in the kitchen ceiling.

Escapes Severe Injuries

Irving, Tex., May 31 (AP)—Ambulance attendants pried Lowell Consler Jr., 33, from the wreckage of his automobile and found he suffered only a broken nose and a facial cut. Consler had been en route to a friend's funeral when a Rock Island freight struck his car and carried it a quarter mile down the track yesterday.

More than a million Americans have been killed in auto traffic crashes.

Chest X-Rays In Saugerties On June 16-17

An industrial and business chest X-ray survey will be conducted in the Township of Saugerties on June 16 and 17. The Ulster County Department of Health and the Ulster County TB and Health Association are offering this free chest X-ray to Saugerties industries, business managers and their employes.

The TB Association has employed Powers X-ray Company of Glen Cove, N. Y., with their mobile unit to take the chest X-rays at various locations in Saugerties.

A meeting of managers of industries, businesses, and their employes will be held Thursday, June 2, at 8 p. m. at the Municipal Building on Partition street, to discuss and make plans for the survey.

The film "The Inside Story" will be shown.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, County Commissioner of Health, and members of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, will discuss the purpose and procedures of the survey and the value of a chest X-ray.

Tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, lung tumor and other abnormalities can be found in a chest X-ray. Medical authorities find that persons in middle and older ages are now suffering the highest incidence of tuberculosis. All individuals of employable age should take advantage of such health measures to discover tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, lung tumor and other conditions since many of these abnormalities when discovered early can be cured.

"Early Discovery means Early Recovery."

It is important that persons in all industries, stores and other businesses in the Saugerties Township attend this meeting on June 2 so they may discuss this health program.

Any other individual interested is also welcome.

Missionary Youth Rally Scheduled All-day Saturday

The Hudson Valley District Youth Rally of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will meet in Kingston this Saturday with the Youth Group of the local Alliance Church, Franklin and Pine streets, as host society.

The services will be attended by youth groups from Mt. Vernon, Port Chester, White Plains, Peekskill, Poughkeepsie, Nyack and Middletown will be held in the First Church of the Nazarene, corner of Elmendorf and Wiltwyck.

THE AFTERNOON service will feature a missionary rally with the Rev. F. W. Bowman of French West Africa as the missionary speaker. Special music will be presented. The supper hour will be at 5 p. m. The Youth Choir will present special music at the evening service with a song program beginning at 6:30 p. m.

The Rev. Bernard S. King, national treasurer of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, will be the speaker at the evening gospel service. The Rev. Mr. King, former district superintendent of the C & MA and chaplain, U. S. Army, was recently reelected for a second term of three years as the treasurer of the worldwide missionary organization. He is described as a dynamic youth speaker.

THE PUBLIC is cordially invited to attend the afternoon service, which begins at 2 p. m., the evening service at 6:30 p. m. and preaching at 7:30 p. m. at the Church of the Nazarene sponsored by the Hudson Valley District Youth Groups of the C & MA.

Iron Lung Mother Dies

Fort Worth, Tex., May 31 (AP)—An 18-year-old mother whose daughter was delivered while the mother was an iron lung patient died last night. Mrs. Charles Ray Thomas died in the iron lung that had kept her alive since she was stricken with polio Aug. 3. She had been listed in poor or critical condition since that time. The daughter, Landa Kay, delivered Aug. 17, continues in good health.

Urges Use of Carriers

New York, May 31 (AP)—Theodore W. Kheel, impartial chairman of the city's privately-owned transit industry, says the sharp drop in passengers on transit lines "is tied directly and inseparably to the city's No. 1 problem: Traffic." He says the main solution to the traffic problem would be greater use by the public of mass transit facilities. Kheel, who filed a report last night, was delegated two weeks ago to coordinate efforts toward developing a plan to stop the trend of diminishing revenues on surface and subway lines. He is acting for nine private bus companies and two unions representing their 10,000 employes.

Heavy Theft

Helena, Mont., May 31 (AP)—This was a heavy take. Porter Bros. Co. reported the theft of 115 bucket tins, each weighing 98 pounds, a one-ton chain block and a 115-pound anvil, all taken from company's gold dredge site on the city's outskirts. The huge dredge is being dismantled for shipment to Boise, Idaho.

Held on Three Charges

New York, May 31 (AP)—A 17-year-old boy was arrested today on a charge of raping a 69-year-old woman. The prisoner, identified as Ivor Celms, of Manhattan, also was charged with burglary and assault. Police said he broke into an apartment at 115 Post avenue. The name of the alleged victim was withheld by police.
